A Pure Senator.
Wild Bill Leads.
Hoover Also.
Ask Mr. Babst.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1928.)

ONE man at least in the Senate is financially pure—Senator Norris, of Nebraska. His presidential candidacy cost him $6, and wouldn't have cost him a cent except that he paid for "an unauthorized advertisement."

Gentlemen from Illinois, Pennsylvania and elsewhere wonder at the simplicity of Nebaska's inhabitants.

"WILD BILL" MEHLHORN of America led the British Open golf championship yesterday afternoon with 18 holes in 72.

That interests more people than the arrival in America of Prof. Hugo Junkers, builder of the airship Bremen, that recently brought fliers across the ocean.

The important man makes the airplane, but the world is interested in those that run risks.

SECRETARY HOOVER'S friends are cheerful about the remaining state conventions and presidential primaries. In Indiana, Virginia and elsewhere Mr. Hoover must compete with favorite sons.

Vermont's eleven delegates, of course, will vote for their native son, Calvin Coolidge, until the lights go out, unless he tells them they mustn't.

Secretary Hoover is the strongest Republican candidate today, as far as actually expressed public opinion is concerned. But high finance sits within the shadow, keeping watch above its own, and, its own is NOT Secretary Hoover.

THE League of Nations worries about the sugar industry, and is much distressed about the coal industry, in England especially.

Belgium wants "a new sugar convention" to put that industry on its feet. The league might send delegates here to consult with Mr. Earl Babst, head of the big American Sugar Refining Company, and some other Americans.

AMERICAN business men are learning how to manage trade abroad as well as home trade.

Eight years ago President Wilson said, "The United States waives its extra-territorial rights in the Kingdom of Siam, and it is an act of justice."

That didn't hurt the United States. The French discovered that American business is growing in Indo-China, Australia, Malaysia. The King of Siam urges native Boy Scouts to imitate and follow the spirit of America. It's great to be a creditor nation, with tons of gold and credit unlimited.

DOROTHY DIX, wise young woman, first cousin to Hypatia and Portia, says, "Consistency is the sure sign of old age. I pray my opinions may always be flexible."

Accused of being inconsistent, Dorothy Dix says, "I hope to goodness I am. I should hate like poison to be consistent."

MANY mistake for consistency what is really old-age dullness.

When Harvey announced his discovery of the blood's circulation, giving proof that a child might have understood, his proofs were rejected by every doctor of reputation past 40 years of age.

EVEN Napoleon, old physically but not in years, did not use the improved rifle that a German had invented. And he had no time "to give more than a minute to that American." The American was Fulton, trying to show Napoleon how steamboats would take him across the English Channel.

"IRISH" JOSEPH O'REILLY, convicted five times, and quite often treated leniently by judges, is having his last trial now, somewhere far from this earth.

The successful hold-up man carelessly walked into Policeman Abraham Cohen, a crack shot. He pulled his gun on Cohen, but one bullet in the head and another under his heart killed him before he could fall to the sidewalk.

IN O'Reilly's pockets the police found $1.84, one gold and one silver crucifix, and one rosary, presumably stolen from some victim. CRIME DOES NOT PAY.

FOR Uncle Sam, smoking cigarets is not a waste of time. Tobacco paid this government in nine months $293,811,000. Of this amount cigarets contributed $223,527,000.

The government used to get even more money from brewers and distillers. Now bootleggers get more than a thousand millions annually.

Roxie's "Vacation"

ATTENDS FUNERAL

Scenes far different from the walls of Western Penitentiary met the eyes of Rocco DiPippa (right), better known as Roxie Long, today. Given permission by the courts, Roxie attended mass in St. Peter's Italian Church and later, in Calvary Cemetery, saw the body of his mother, Mrs. Nicoletta DiPippa, 72, lowered into the earth. Roxie has been in the penitentiary since 1923, when he was sentenced to six years for robbery. City Detective "Happy" Moran arrested Roxie in Europe and, brought back, Roxie escaped!—only to be recaptured. This picture was taken as Roxie entered church today.

Game starts at 3:30.

John McGraw, most famous of all baseball managers and the "big show of the game," his New York Giants, are in town for a four-game series with the Pirates, the first game of which will be staged at Forbes Field this afternoon.

The arrival of the Giants in Pittsburgh is annually awaited with keenest anticipation by Pittsburgh fans. Tussles between the Giants and the Pirates are ever fraught with thrills and are always bitterly contested. McGraw, the peppery, brainy, never-say-die director of the Giants adds more than a mere dash of color to the setting; he adds a whole splash.

The coming struggles between the two old rivals will have added interest, in that the Giants arrived in town this morning leading the National League procession, and are only a game and one-half in front of the Corsairs. If the champs can win this series, it will mean that they will be resting in first place by Saturday.

Manager Bush will send Burleigh Grimes, who was obtained from the Giants in a deal last winter, to the hill today in an effort to win first blood. McGraw has Virgil Barnes groomed for action.

The game will start at 3:30.

P. O. JURY SNOOPING REPORTS CALLED

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The House Postoffice and Post Roads Committee today authorized its chairman, Representative W. W. Griest, of Pennsylvania, to call on the Postmaster General for all information sought by Representative F. H. LaGuardia, of New York, in his resolution demanding an investigation of the activities of Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington, of Pittsburgh, in seeking confidential information regarding prospective jurors in enforcement cases.

After the meeting of the committee Chairman Griest announced that he would address a formal communication to Postmaster General Harry S. New at once asking that the information be given.

DEFEATED IN HOUSE

The committee's action follows the protest delivered on the floor yesterday by LaGuardia, who sought to have the House go over the body's head in passing the resolution. It was defeated by a narrow margin after Chairman Griest announced that the resolution would be considered today.

Unfavorable reports were ordered by the Judiciary Committee on two other LaGuardia resolutions which called on the Treasury Department and the Department of Justice to throw light on Pennington's enforcement methods and state whether they were approved by the departments.

QUESTIONS ASKED

Following are the questions contained in the third LaGuardia resolution which will be forwarded to the postmaster general for reply:

1. Have the postmasters and postal employes been authorized, directed, or ordered by the Postmaster General or any official in authority in the Postoffice Department to obtain information for prohibition administrators or for other prohibition officials?

2. If such authorization or direction or orders have been given submit date and contents of same.

3. Have the postmasters, superintendents of stations, or other postal employes in the counties of Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Bedford, Blair, Butler, Cambria, Clarion, Clearfield, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Fayette, Forest, Greene, In-

What Happened Here?

WAS IT YOUR CAR?

Mystery! Thrills! Tragedy! A lark! What was it? Fifty feet of iron fence in Bigelow boulevard near Kirkpatrick street was mowed down to the same horizontal position as the boulevard itself today. A car, certainly, had either dashed wildly over the wall and down the Pennsylvania Railroad hill—or had rolled along that iron fence and managed, somehow, to reach the boulevard again safely. No one knows from whence he came (top photo) nor whither he went (bottom). Beneath that hill—perilous ride—are two avenues of escape, Railroad street and the Thirty-third Street Bridge. The driver didn't wait to tell police. Now you speculate!

GRAND JURY OPENS SECRET RUM PROBE

Preliminary steps to a sweeping Federal grand jury probe of illicit liquor traffic were taken today when 75 men and women were summoned to the Federal Building and held incommunicado before being taken to the grand jury room.

All morning prohibition agents arrived in the Federal building with persons who have been summoned to appear before the grand jury.

Reticence on the part of persons in a position to know the purpose of calling these witnesses has given the whole affair a rather mysterious aspect.

Before the grand jury adjourned for the noon recess, some of the witnesses had been taken before it and, after concluding their testimony, were taken back to the fourth floor and kept separated from the crowds in the corridors.

Prohibition agents delivered their witnesses at a large room on the fourth floor, adjoining the office of U. S. Attorney John D. Meyer, where they were unable to communicate with persons in the corridor. They were turned over to Joseph A. Frayne, assistant prohibition administrator.

No information about the unusual methods of bringing the witnesses into the Federal Building was given out.

The summons were placed in the hands of the servers during the morning with directions where the persons wanted would most likely be found. Under the authority of the summons, the parties named had no alternative than to go immediately with the officers making service.

District Attorney Meyer and R. H. Smith, his assistant, interrogated the witnesses before the grand jury.

Woman's Body in River

The body of an elderly woman was found floating in the Monongahela River opposite the Baltimore and Ohio Station shortly before noon today.

River police recovered the body, but there were no signs of identification in the clothing, nor were there marks of violence on the body.

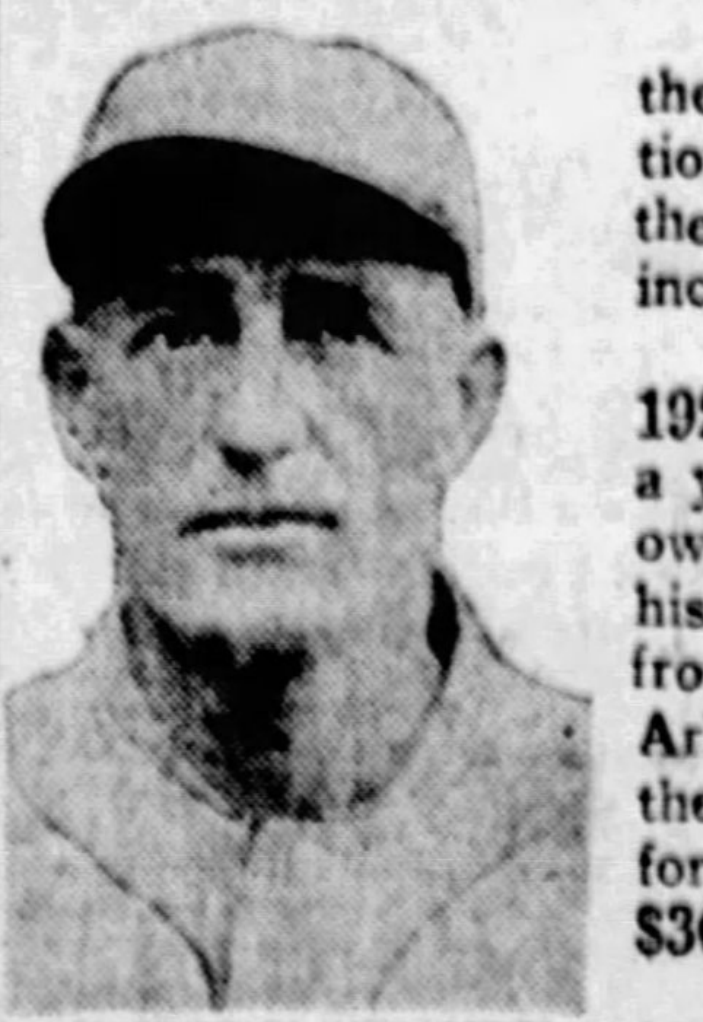
ALIQUIPPA, Pa., May 8.—William Roberts, 55, janitor of the municipal building, drank acid in his room in the building yesterday. He was sent to a Pittsburgh hospital. Last Wednesday Jack Waters, 447 Franklin avenue, swallowed bichloride of mercury tablets in the building.

Schmidt Out Trying Tax Bunt on His Uncle Sam

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 8.

COST of keeping a wife at a training camp is not "necessary business expense" for a baseball player, the United States Board of Tax Appeals ruled today.



WALTER SCHMIDT

Walter Schmidt, a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League in 1921, was denied the right to deduct $660 from his income for Federal tax purposes.

Signing with the Pirates in 1921 at an agreed salary of $8,000 a year, Schmidt charged off his own expenses as well as those of his wife and child, in traveling from Modesto, Cal., to Hot Springs, Ark., thence to Pittsburgh and at the end of the season back to California. It made a difference of $36.66 in his income tax.

The Internal Revenue Bureau refused to allow the deduction, and the tax board upheld the decision.

Town Hall At Armory Opposed

George S. Davison, chairman of the Town Hall Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said today the proposed auditorium to be built as an addition to the Logan Armory was, in his opinion, not quite what the city needed. Beyond that he did not care to commit himself.

Doubt whether $1,000,000 would be sufficient to build a Town Hall as an addition to the One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Field Atillery Armory, as suggested by Commissioner C. C. McGovern, was expressed today by Commissioner E. V. Babcock.

WANTS FINE BUILDING

"I want to study this proposal before I announce any stand on it," he said, "but I doubt whether $1,000,000 will be enough to build an auditorium as an addition to the armory. Of course with that money we could build a large, barn-like building, but I believe that when Pittsburgh and Allegheny county build a Town Hall we should erect one as good as those in Cleveland and other cities."

Commissioner Babcock concurred with Mr. Davison in expressing regret that the McGovern plan had

CHINA MAY ASK U. S. AID; FIGHTING SPREADS

LONDON, May 8.—(AP.)—A Reuter's dispatch from Shanghai says it is understood that the Nationalist government is considering inviting the mediation of the United States in the present Chinese-Japanese conflict.

JAPS SEIZE RAILROAD

PEKIN, May 8. — (UP.) — The gravest move in recent Chinese history was made today when Japan formally announced her seizure of the Tsingtao-Tsinan railway in Shantung, where Nationalist troops are driving toward Pekin.

The seizure was regarded by foreign military observers here as a virtual declaration of war.

JAPS REPORTED SURROUNDED

SHANGHAI, China, May 8.—(AP.)—Nationalist Chinese troops are reported in usually reliable sources to have surrounded the Japanese in Tsinan. Heavy fighting is proceeding.

FIGHTING IN TSINAN

PEKING, May 8.—(AP.)—Official Japanese dispatches from Tsinan report that the Japanese general in command ordered the Chinese Nationalist troops to withdraw outside the zone for seven miles on either side of the Tsinan-Tsingtao railway. The Chinese refused and proceeded to adopt offensive measures, whereupon the Japanese published a proclamation in the Chinese language announcing recourse to active measures to enforce their demands.

At 8 o'clock this morning a contingent of the Thirteenth Japanese Regiment reconnoitering in a northern suburb of Tsinan along the railway, was fired upon by the Nationalists, and heavy fighting ensued.

The Japanese fire reached a Chinese ammunition dump, causing it to explode, and also set fire to the Chinese barracks, forcing their evacuation.

The Nationalists were last reported attacking in the railway zone in great numbers, the battle raging at 11 a. m.

NEW DANGER FOR AMERICANS

PEKIN, May 8.—(AP.)—Concern for Americans in Tsinan, where Chinese Nationalists and Japanese troops clashed with heavy casualties, was renewed today with the receipt of advices saying that fighting had been resumed. The Japanese chief of staff at Tsinan also sent a dispatch, dated yesterday, saying: "One American missionary killed."

The American legation could not verify this today and the belief was expressed that the dispatch was a repetition of an earlier rumor found to be erroneous.

THEY GO 'WAY UP HIGH

The stage sometimes is boresome, you know, and a good way to relieve boredom is to go skyridin' on a dinky little platform, chugged up, up, up by a chuggy-chuggy engine, to the top of a tall, tall building. The taller the building, the quicker the boredom is relieved. Three misses of the stage, now at Penn Theater, Virginia Page, Shirley Levine and Elsie Fossner, with Teddy Joyce, a member of their company, in Pittsburgh this week, relieved their boredom by coaxing construction workers on the William Penn Hotel addition to take them from Grant street up, up, up to meet workmen on the top. They met the workmen.

ARRAIGN BECKLEY MURDER SUSPECT

BECKLEY, W. Va., May 8.—Denny Fox, 27, charged with the slaying of Dewey Snuffer, 22, was held for the June grand jury at a preliminary hearing before Justice W. H. Ford yesterday.

Fox, when arrested Saturday, denied the slaying and said Daisy Clay fired the fatal shot. The girl, when questioned by officers, denied the story told by Fox and was not arrested. She appeared against Fox as the only eye-witness to the slaying, which occurred Friday night near Eccles.

PA. VOTING FRAUDS BARED

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(INS.)—A story of voting irregularities in Pennsylvania was told the Reed Campaign Funds Committee today at hearings on the contest brought against Senator-elect William S. Vare (Rep.), of Pennsylvania by William B. Wilson, defeated Democraat.

Charles E. Fox, Philadelphia district attorney, declared that out of the 1926 elections there resulted 75 indictments against 90 defendants, of which 21 were convicted.

Votes were cast by a 10-year old girl, a husband voted for his sick wife, there were more votes than voters in certain wards, and there was voting by persons who did not pay poll taxes, Fox said.

Fox declared that it had been difficult to secure convictions in many cases.

"We have always been held rigidly to the language of the indictments, charging "conspiracy to prevent a fair and legal election'," he said, "and we have been hampered by unfriendly witnesses."

Questioned by A. I. Clapp, supervisor of the Vare-Wilson ballot recount for the Reed committee, Fox said that election officials in almost every case came to him to discuss the case of the defendants charged with fraud. "They didn't say they wanted the defendants turned loose," Fox said, "but I am sure they wanted the best disposition of the cases possible. Often they wanted a continuance of the cases for one reason or another.

"In the sixteenth division of the Fourth Ward of Philadelphia county my records show that I was approached and questioned by Samuel W. Salus, a state Senator. Senator Salus was the brother of counsel for a ward leader who was a defendant in an election fraud case. Senator Salus conferred often with me over this case. Leaders came to see me in practically all of the cases, it must be remembered."

"GO!" SAYS ENGLAND TO CAROL

International News Service.

LONDON, May 8.—A government order expelling him from Great Britain was served upon former Crown Prince Carol, of Rumania, today. The order was served by Sir Wyndham Childs, chief of the special branch of Scotland yard, at Oakhurst Court, South Godstone, Surrey, where Carol has been the guest of M. Jonescu. It gives him "a reasonable time" in which to depart.

The expulsion order was based upon the allegation that Carol has violated the alien regulations and that he has been carrying on hostile propaganda against a government friendly to Great Britain.

CAROL STUNNED

"I cannot believe it is true that they are sending me away," said Carol. "Surely the English, who are the most polite people in the world, would not do any such thing as that. I sent out no propaganda; only personal letters to my friends. I suppose the intrigue of the Bucharest government is responsible for this."

Meanwhile the police guard about Oakhurst Court has been strengthened. Airports have been instructed by Scotland Yard to give immediate notice should Carol attempt to leave by air.

It has been reported that Carol might decide to return to Rumania at once, making dramatic entry by air while the great peasant army is on its march to Bucharest to demand the resignation of the Bratianu cabinet.

STORM IN RUMANIA

BUCHAREST, Rumania, May 8.—(AP.)—The whole of Transylvania today resembled an armed camp as 5,000 peasants marched on the capital to demand from the regency a change of government.

There was no doubt that the regency and cabinet were disturbed by the manifestation, although statements of the government and other sources differed greatly as to the importance and volume of the peasants' march.

MARATHON RACER IS DRUGGED

By LELAND C. LEWIS,
International News Service Special Correspondent.

MISHAWAKA, Ind., May 8.—What is believed to be the first direct attempt to foil the chances of one of the leading contestants in C. C. "Cross-Country" Pyle's bunion derby was revealed here today by trainers of Giusto Umek, Italian ace, as the heel and toe caravan moved out of here for Ligonier, 39 miles east.

Umek, who in 10 days advanced from seventeenth to eighth place, suffered violent cramps on the road, and after doctors treated him they pronounced him suffering from a sedative evidently administered in his food.

"In Arizona I received threats that I had better quit the race," Umek told this correspondent through an interpreter. "These were repeated in Chicago. I was invited out to eat. Shortly afterward I was terribly sick. Sunday I was twentieth into Gary. I felt pretty good Monday and then after a bit I felt the same pain."

Paolo Bruno, Umek's chief trainer, was frank in his expressions.

"Enemies after Guisto, he was doped," Bruno said in broken English. "I can mention no names, that would be worse revenge."

Al McDonald, the Italian's manager, ventured the following opinion:

"Umek is the real threat in the race. Some one wants him out of the way. It isn't a rival runner or trainer, but a plot that is deep and hard to fathom."

Peter Gavuzzi, rugged Britisher, held an edge of six hours nine minutes 23 seconds, over Andy Payne, youthful Oklahoman by jogging on even terms for third place Monday with the Oklahoman youth and Philip Granville, Jamaica Negro and Canadian champion.

Brokers Swamped in Wall Street Rush

ACCOUNTS ARE FAR BEHIND

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP.)—Frequent 4,000,000-share days on the New York Stock Exchange and 1,000,000-share days on the curb market have entangled Wall Street commission houses in a maze of delayed bookkeeping from which no early relief is seen.

Traders say that small lot deals consummated as far back as February have not yet been completed by delivery of securities. They remain untouched in the strong boxes of the sellers, who are trying to clear the large blocks first, and represent an added worry for harassed dealers, who point out that failure of any firm whose stock thus is awaiting delivery might create a situation far more serious than even the present business tangle.

Commission houses have been so rushed with the enormous volume of trading and the accompanying mass of clerical work that they admit they have been unable to keep accounts up to date or to give proper attention to balances. One result has been that normally efficient methods of business procedure have become so ridiculously inefficient they would be laughing matter if the situation were not so serious.

CHECKS OVERLOOKED

In some cases checks for sums as great as $15,000 have been overlooked in the haste of the day and debtors dunned for the amount when they had paid off their obligations and the check had passed through the clearing house. In other instances balances of trading between commission houses have been so greatly disturbed and sometimes so inaccurate, or delayed of calculation, that accounts have been settled more than once and the receiving houses obliged to return checks to their supposed debtors.

An increase in the number of trained employes, expansion of mechanical bookkeeping facilities and a gearing up of the entire Wall Street machinery to a greater speed and capacity are believed to be the chief means of relieving the crisis.

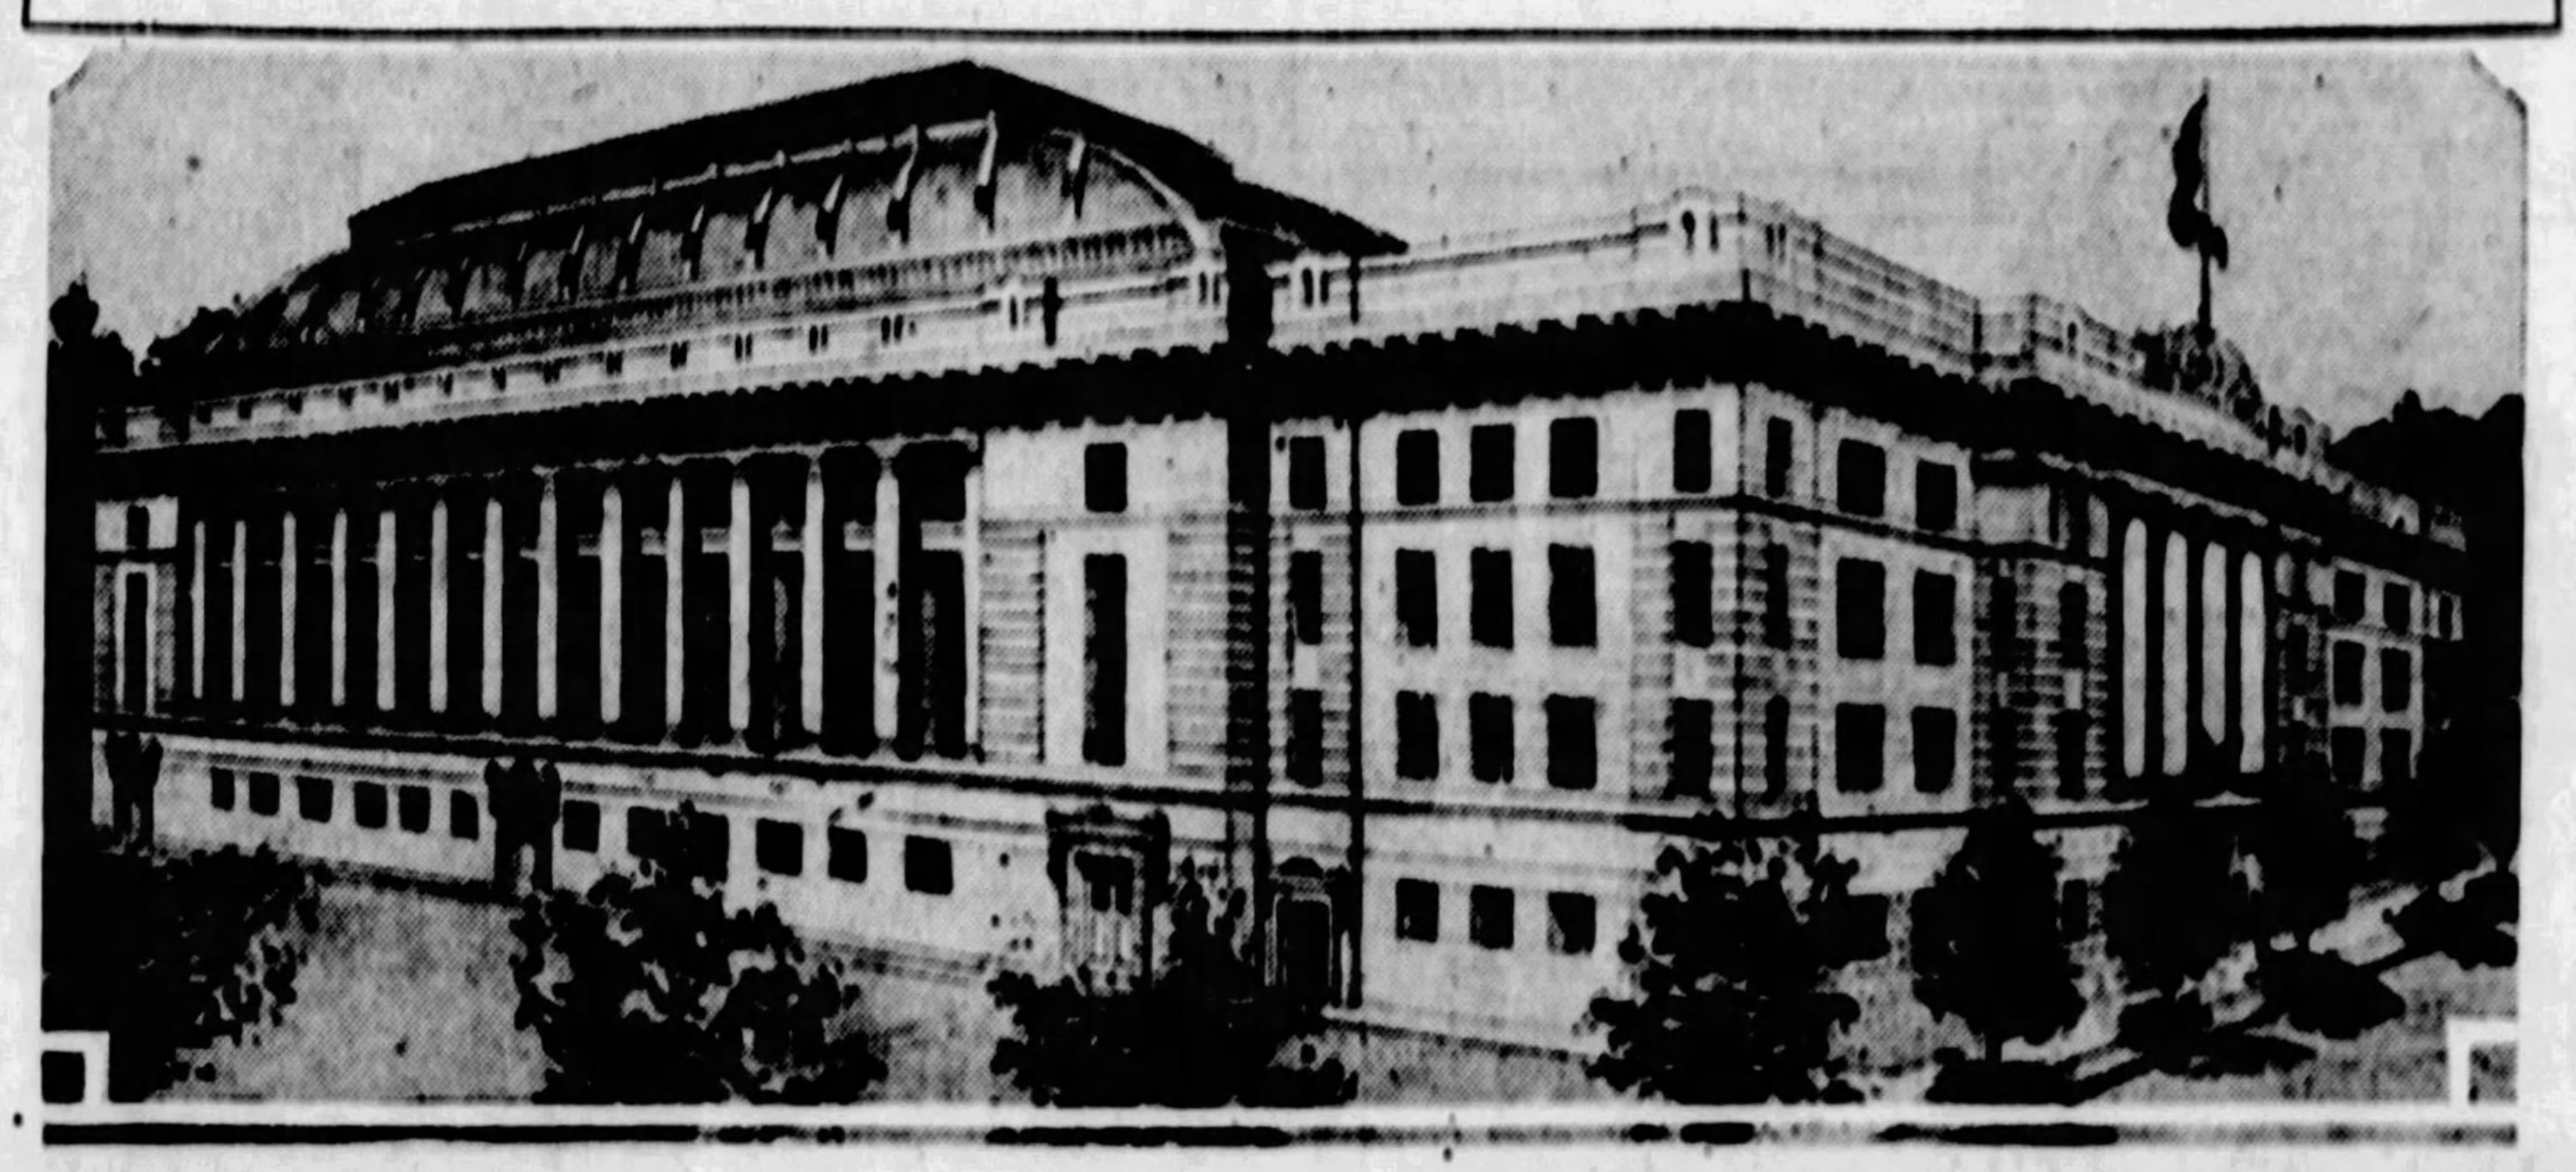
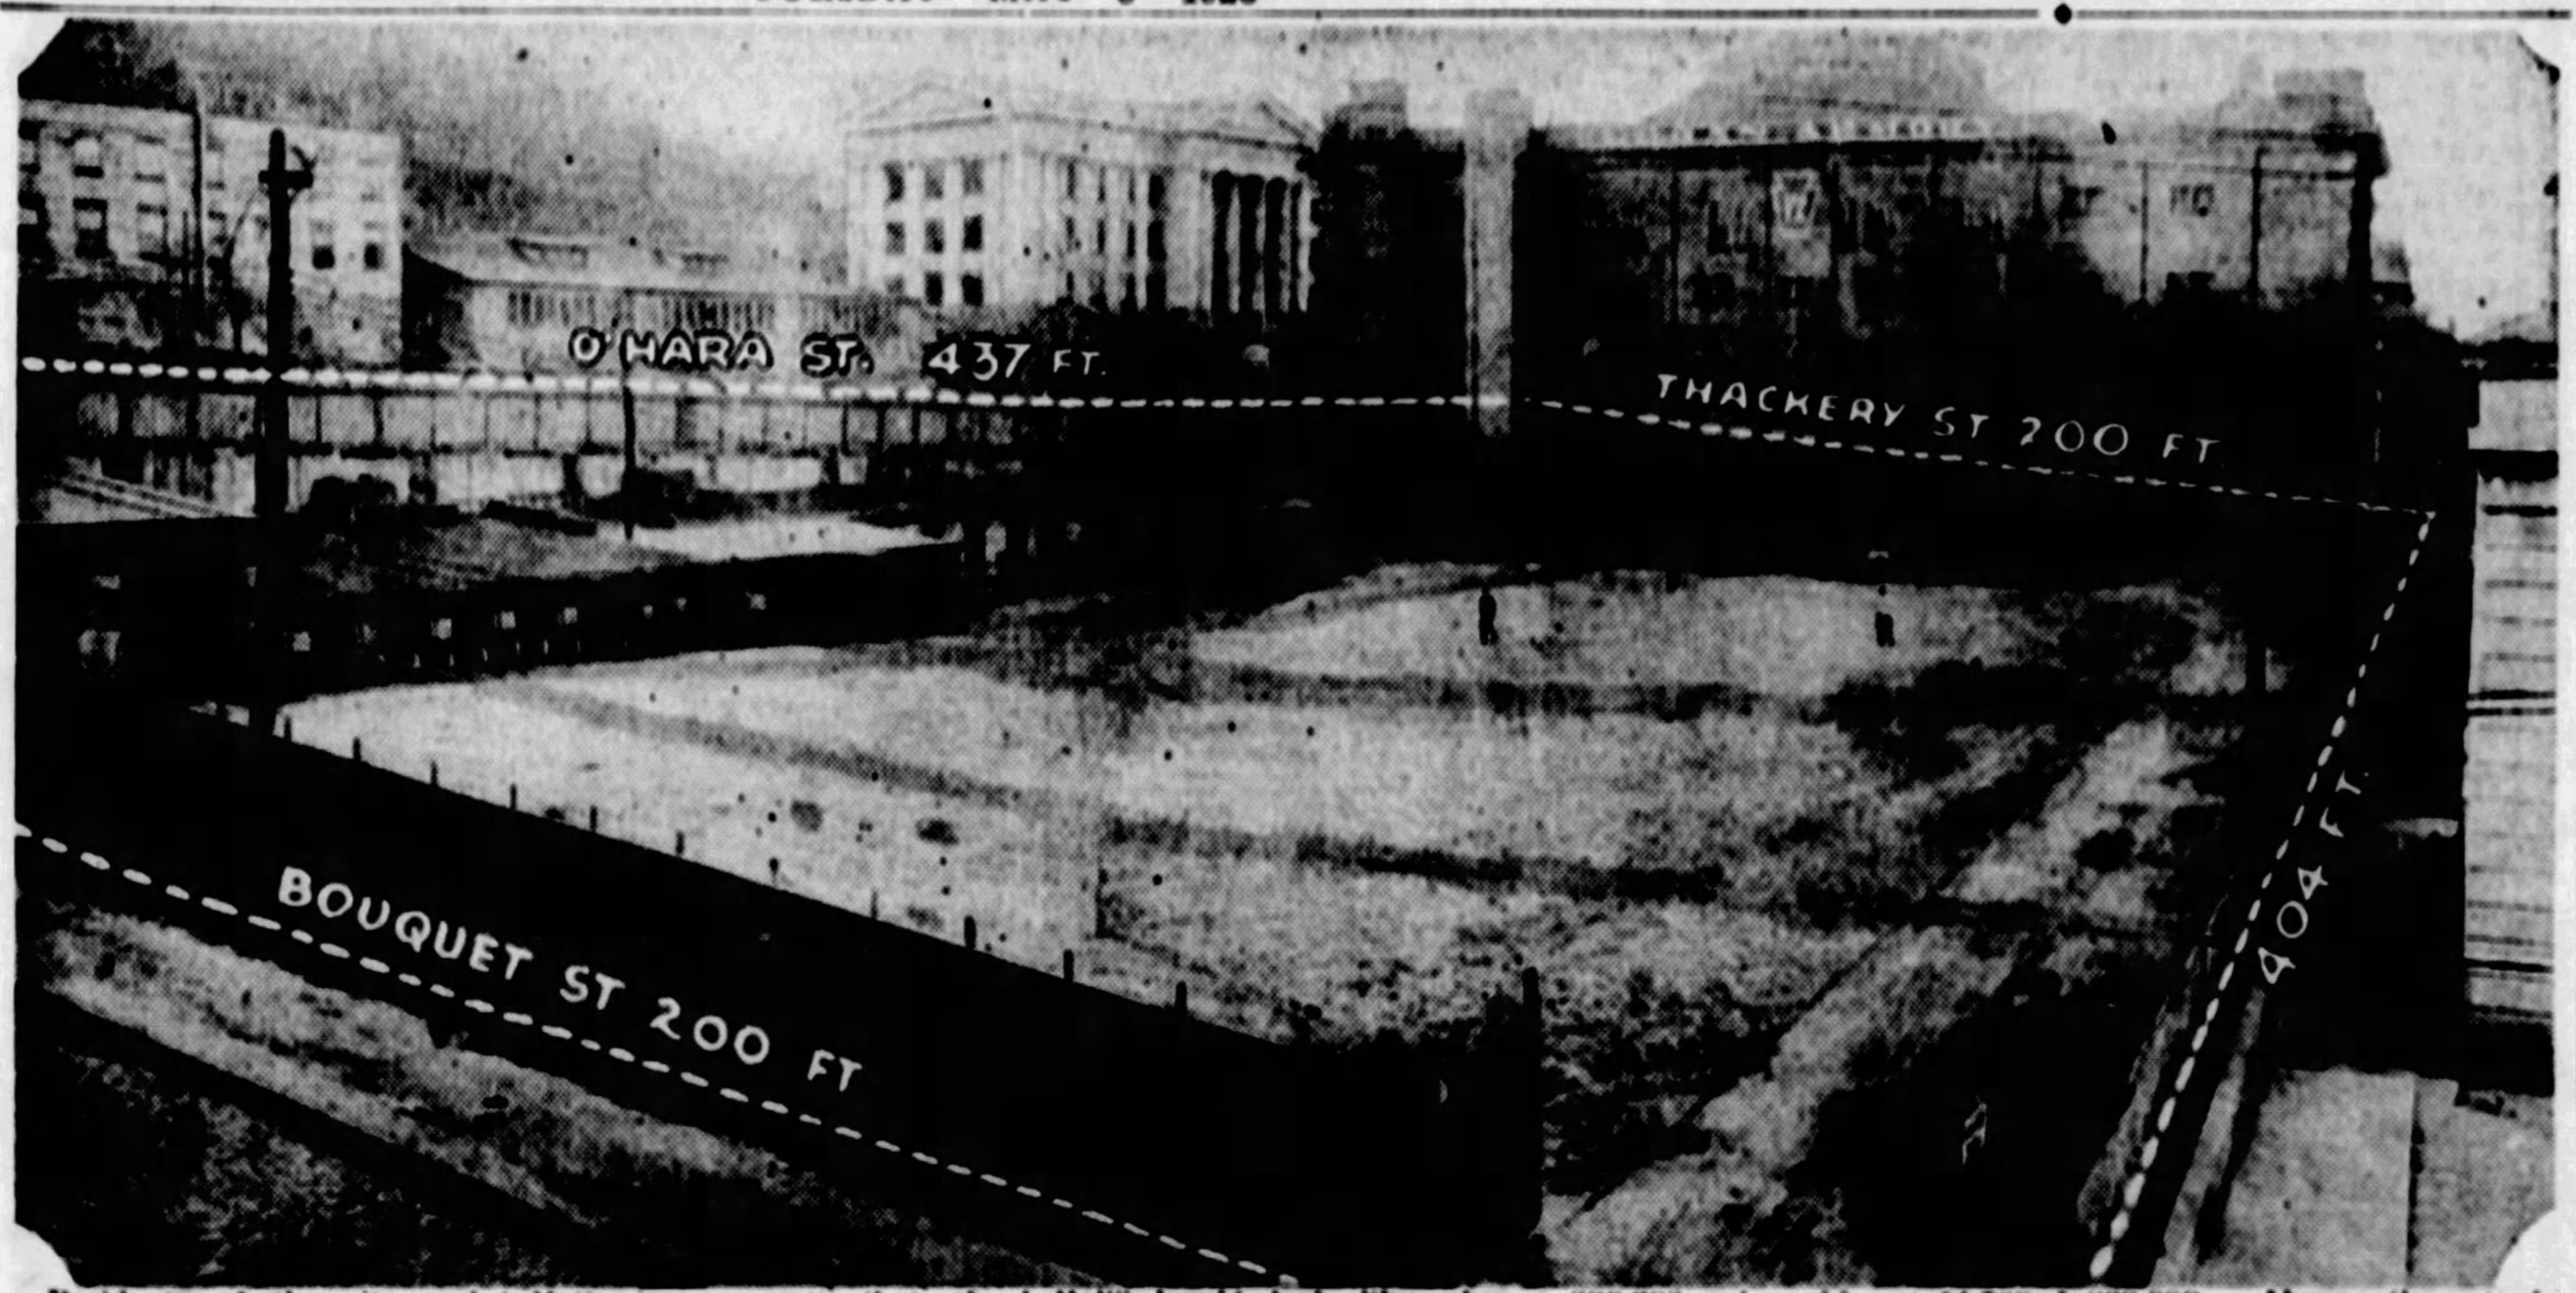
ARMORY SITE SUGGESTED FOR "TOWN HALL"



THE DAILY PICTORIAL THE SUN TELEGRAPH GENERAL NEWS SECTION

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1928



Residents of the city and county favoring a "Town Hall" can save $5,000,000, says County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern in a plan submitted for approval. Commissioner McGovern suggests that the "Town Hall" adjoin the Gen. A. J. Logan Armory, Thackaray and O'Hara streets, Oakland. Above (top) is an architect's drawing of what the "Town Hall" would look like when completed. The building with the flat roof is the present Logan armory. The addition (left) is the proposed "Town Hall," which would cost $1,000,000 and would seat 14,500 people. County Commissioners are figuring including the "Town Hall" project in the coming bond issue to cost $6,000,000. Above (lower) is shown the armory drill ground proposed for the combination Town Hall and armory. The addition would cover the entire property shown.

Says Attractive Ads Boost Music

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—(AP.)—Music can be made more popular through more intensive and attractive newspaper advertising, C. B. Amorous, of New York, told the Pennsylvania Association of Music Merchants in convention here.

Mr. Amorous also said that memorizing of music by children made them adept in the absorption of other subjects and greatly aided their mental development.

"The new advertising should appeal to the emotions and the sense of beauty as well as the pocketbook," said the speaker. "Point out the value of having more music in the home."

VOTE FRAUD DEFENSE IS HIT

The trial of the election board of the Eighteenth District of the Third Ward on charges of fraud at the September primary was scheduled to start in Criminal Court today under an order issued late yesterday.

Dissension and dispute, rising close to fever heat, among lawyers involved in the sweeping prosecution of election frauds, provided the throng of spectators with the best exhibition of fireworks in the continuous trial of 200 indicted election officials. It came in the midst of hearings by Judges John A. Evans and Harry H. Rowand of pleas entered by three election boards and resulted in the withdrawal of pleas by one board and the rejection by the court of pleas offered by another.

CASE OF INCOMPETENCE

The third board, that of the Twelfth District of the Fifth Ward, was disposed of by a grant of parole for one year to the five members of their plea of no defense to the charge of negligence. The members were Morris Gordon, judge of election, fined $50; Jennie Murdock and Hattie Monroe, inspectors, and Hanna Jackson and William O. Hubbard, clerks, fined $25 each. The last three are Negroes. Judge Rowand remarked that this appeared to be a case of incompetence and ignorance, with no willful fraud shown.

A similar plea was entered by the board of the Twenty-third District of the Fourth Ward, composed of Abe C. Lando, judge; his sister, Ceba Lando, and Patrick Foley, inspectors, and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McNally, clerks. After First Assistant District Attorney Andrew T. Park had outlined the evidence, showing general discrepancies in the count and an admitted estimate instead of count for uncontested district offices, Judge Rowand asked the special committee of the Allegheny County Bar Association if they had anything to offer.

"We have information that Abe Levenson, district chairman, called off the ballots," Attorney E. Lowry Humes stated. Attorney Rody P. Marshall, defense counsel, defied Humes to produce such evidence. The pleas were withdrawn by consent and Park subsequently directed an investigation of the charge and a summons of witnesses.

In the Eighteenth District of the Third Ward, Samuel Neaman, judge; David Fineberg and Jack McKenzie, inspectors, and Harry Fineberg and Jacob Rosenberg, clerks, offered similar pleas. Assistant District Attorney John F. Haggerty outlined the evidence, showing more votes cast than ballots, excessive count, extensive alterations and double marking with two pencils, the pleas were rejected. When trial was ordered to start today, Marshall objected, saying he would be busy in Common Pleas Court.

Pittsburgh AS OTHERS SEE US

"When I hear the name of Pittsburgh I think of the old French fort."
—ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.

ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

ROBERT W. CHAMBERS, author and artist, born in Brooklyn, N. Y., May 26, 1865; student of Academie Julian, Paris, and exhibited in the salon, 1899. Illustrator for Life, Vogue, Truth, etc. Is better known as a novelist and the author of "The Red Republic," "Cardigan," "The Fighting Chance," and many other equally well known books. Lives in Broadalbin, N. Y.

When I hear the name of Pittsburgh I think of the old French fort, the English fortress Pitt which replaced it, and the tiny Pittsburgh of 1776-83.

Also I think of my friend, the late John W. Alexander, and of the superb series of decorations in honor of Pittsburgh which I saw him at work on in his studio.

A great theme, a great city and a great painter!

5 Rob Bank of $15,000, Escape

ANGOLA, Ind., May 8.—(AP.)—The First National Bank here was robbed of $15,000 this morning by five men who escaped in a gray touring car. The loss is covered by insurance.

The robbers appeared at the home of E. S. Cruxton, the bank president, about 3 o'clock this morning. They bound the bank official's wife and then escorted the president to the bank and forced him to open the door. The robbers then sought to have him open the bank vault, but he convinced them of his inability to do this.

The robbers and their victim then waited in the bank until 8 o'clock this morning when the cashier arrived. As soon as he entered the robbers forced him to open up the vault. They scooped up all available currency and escaped.

Sheriff's posses, vigilantes and others immediately began scouring the county.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., May 8.—The body of Harry Chubrako, 50, a miner, who had been missing since April 25, was found floating in the Monongahela River here yesterday.

Fitzmaurice Likes Beef and Cabbage -:- WHAT DO OCEAN FLIERS EAT? -:- Give Him Knoedels, Says Koehl's Wife

MAGGIE I CAN'T BELIEVE IT
HART

FIT FOR A HERO

Corned beef and cabbage is Maj. Fitzmaurice's idea of a dish fit for a hero, according to his wife, who cooks for him. The famous trans-Atlantic flyer is never better satisfied than when he sits down to partake of this Jiggs-like dish, she added.

TIPS ON MATES

IT'S BAYRISCHE KNOEDEL

Capt. Koehl's choicest meal is baryische knoedel, his wife said. Meatballs, knoedels and sauerkraut are the chief ingredients of this dish, she said, explaining how she prepared it for him.

AND CLOTHES, TOO

But there are other things besides food to be considered, and, as their thoughts turn to more feminine matters, Mrs. Koehl (right) shows some of the new clothes she purchased in New York to Mrs. Fitzmaurice (seated).

LABOR ASKED TO AID MINERS

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP.)—A third appeal to labor organizations for aid for striking miners in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and other bituminous coal fields was made yesterday by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. Members of all trade unions are requested to contribute one day's pay.

The appeal said that suffering and distress among the striking miners and their families continues in a most aggravated form.

DRIVER MYSTERIOUSLY HURT; SEEK MOTORIST

J. T. Nichols, 27, of Negley avenue, is recovering in the Presbyterian Hospital today from injuries suffered in a mysterious automobile accident near Vandergrift yesterday. He has concussion of the brain. Nichols drove into Vandergrift showing signs of having been in an accident. In his hand he held a slip of paper bearing the name of a Leechburg man, with whom he is said to have had an accident on the way to Vandergrift. Efforts are being made to locate the man.

KING TO RECEIVE PITTSBURGHER

International News Service.

LONDON, May 8.—The first of the five royal courts of the present season, at which a number of Americans will be presented to King George and Queen Mary, will be held at Buckingham Palace tonight. For weeks the hearts of English debutantes who are to be presented have been aflutter with ex-

Tonight's court has put $50,000 in the pocket of those concerned in providing debutantes and others with the proper outfit in which to make their bow, it is conservatively estimated. For each court something like 500 frocks are made, ranging in price from $125 to $500. The train comes to about another $100, while feathers, fans, shoes and bouquets are among the other expensive items needed by every debutante.

The majority of the gowns are made in London by the recognized court dressmakers.

The Americans who will be presented tonight include Mrs. Wainwright Abbott, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Miss Jane Olmstead, of Harrisburg, Pa.

Mrs. Wainwright Abbott, of Pittsburgh, is one of 16 Americans who will be presented to the king and queen at Buckingham Palace, London, at the first court this season tonight.

Mr. Abbott, now attached to the American legation at Athens, Greece, is a son of William L. Abbott, a former president of the Carnegie Steel Company. He was graduated from Yale University with the class of '13 and saw service during the World War.

Mrs. Abbott was, before her marriage, Alice Unander Scharin.

STEEL WORKER HURT BY CRANE SUCCUMBS

Frank Borowics, 38, of 15 North Forbes street, Duquesne, died last night at the West Penn Hospital of internal injuries suffered while at work. He was an employe of the Carnegie Steel Company's Duquesne plant. The report to the coroner stated Borowics had been crushed by a crane.

"Woman" Dancer Proves Man; Fined $25

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 8.—Dressed as a woman, John Bost, alias Francis, was arrested and fined $25. He admitted, police say, that he had been an impersonator of women with carnivals for 14 years and was the leading oriental dancer.

10-minute salads

Better digestion and better health

California Sunkist Oranges are first-choice for five-minute desserts and ten-minute salads because they are easiest to peel and separate; because their meat is firm and tender; because they are practically seedless.

There is no annoying time-waste in the preparation of Sunkist Oranges. And, you will note the fruit segments are lusciously appetizing as you place them on the table. Serve more oranges for their joyous goodness, but most important, for their health building qualities.

Oranges not only contain a wealth of vitamins and mineral salts, but are one of the most potent ACIDOSIS correctives and preventives known to Medical science. Orange juice before breakfast, lunch and dinner will benefit you materially. It is wonderful for fatigue. Your doctor will confirm this statement.

All through the year, fresh luscious California Sunkist Oranges are obtainable everywhere fruit is sold. They are uniformly good. There is a size for every pocket-book, but all are of true Sunkist quality.

Spending Over $12,000 in three weeks—to tell you that we have the BEST BUTTER IN PITTSBURGH

A Butter of Unsurpassed Quality
A Butter with a Flavor that has never been equalled

160,000 pounds of butter sold in the last three weeks at an average of 5c a pound below the regular retail price	$ 8,000.00
Cost of Newspaper Space devoted to butter	$ 4,568.00
TOTAL	$12,568.00

NO sane business concern would spend this amount of money and then not have the goods to back up their words.

It would be business suicide for us to spend sums like these and not have the highest possible quality butter.

We have seen too many advertising campaigns come to a disastrous finish not to profit by their experience—good money, spent in advertising, on poor goods is a criminal folly of which we would not be guilty.

We have a justifiable Pride in our Butter. We know it to be the BEST ever churned.

And we know that if there was only some way to get every lover of good butter to try our butter—

Every lover of good butter would soon be as enthusiastic about Donahoe's Butter as we are.

OUR PROBLEM — to get the casual buyer of ordinary butter interested enough to test our statement that we have the BEST Butter in Pittsburgh—a butter of unsurpassed quality with a Flavor that has never been equalled.

While we are doing a tremendous butter business—by far the largest ever built up in this country in such a short time—we feel we would be doing double or triple if we could only get enough people to give our butter ONE trial—for we honestly believe it to be the BEST Butter Churned in America.

We want you to know it as we know it—we want to see Donahoe's "93 Score" Butter served in the big majority of Greater Pittsburgh Homes and hence are spending unusual sums of money, in this line of business, to induce you to try it.

Why Not Test the Truth of Our Statements Today or Tomorrow

PLEA CHANGERS PAY HEAVILY IN COURT

Institution of Arraignment Day in Federal Court here spelled grief to liquor law violators who, having pleaded not guilty April 9, changed their plea yesterday to guilty, after having created the impression they would stand trial. Heavy fines and some jail sentences were imposed.

Fines yestrday totaled $7,350 from the 43 defendants who pleaded guilty. Two others were paroled and four $1,000 bonds were forfeited when four defendants failed to appear for trial. It was the first day of the May term of court, the session to continue six weeks.

The only completed jury trial resulted in the conviction of Mike Prohinsky for selling and possessing intoxicating liquor.

Isaiah Good, a banker, Somerset, County, was appointed foreman of the grand jury.

The heaviest sentence was imposed on Walter Markowski, former proprietor of Friendship Park Hotel, Butler street, who was fined $500 and ordered committed to jail for six months. His bartender, Stanley Selelyski, was fined $200 and sentenced three months in jail. Both had prior convictions.

Max Miller, of Carnegie, a former saloonkeeper, was fined $500 and sentenced 45 days to jail, and his bartender, George Lukasanti, was fined $250 and sentenced 30 days to jail. They were among defendants who had changed their pleas of not guilty to guilty.

Domonic Cortose, steward of the Loyal Order of Moose club, Donora, raided March 24 by prohobition agents, was fined $400.

Other defendants were fined as follows: Margaret Savinnis and Nicholas DeAngelo, $500 each; Patrick J. Ruane, and J. T. Abacker, $400 each; Robert Miller, Fred Scheerer, Frank Solopek, Isaac Stein, Harry J. Wilson, Agosto Sasseno, Harry Wieghan, Alex Evans, Walter Bishop, Albert Reisdorf, Anna Decker, Peter and Mary Mikulon, jointly, and John M. Shea, $200 each; Abe' Kaufman, $150; Albert Lhotc, Robert Nelson, Harry Crown, Charles DeAngelo, John R. Latch, George Williams, Mike Lesneski, Valentine Prescenzi, Lawrence Grebeske, Wasislaw Martinowski, John Ciolli and Michael Skender, $100 each; Anton Zink, Morris Hoffman, Benny Ziak, Jake Ferraro, Peter Kurowski, William Bagdomas and Charles Burger, $50 each.

POLICE BOUND TO ENFORCE DRY LAW—PENNINGTON

ADMINISTRATOR RAPS DUTY DODGING

It is the duty of city police as well as state, county and federal authorities to enforce the Volstead law and the Snyder-Armstrong act, Commander John D. Pennington, federal administrator, declared last night in his address at a meeting of Hill district Negro church people protesting against the vice conditions here. Attorney Louis E. Graham, chief legal advisor to Pennington, also declared that municipal officers should help enforce the prohibition laws.

The church people of the Hill district fell in line with congregations in other parts of the city when they adopted resolutions demanding that vice be cleaned up here. Commander Pennington and his aide were introduced by the Rev. Dr. Arthur V. B. Hightower, leader of the protesters in the Hill district.

"Federal prohibition agents throughout the country have been called upon to do the work that should have been done by the vast number of peace officers in the United States," Pennington said. "Many citizens have thoughtlessly looked to Washington and placed the responsibility for prohibition law enforcement upon the Federal government. And unfortunately for the law's success, the Federal government for a time accepted this responsibility. State, county and municipal law officers thus passed their own responsibilities on to the government officials," Pennington stated.

DIES AS TRUCK OVERTURNS

A fracture of the skull received when a truck overturned caused the death of Andrew Koske, 33, of 1238 Market street, McKeesport, in the McKeesport Hospital last night. The accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Atlantic avenue and Perry street, McKeesport.

Three persons, including a father and his son, were hurt last midnight when their automobile crashed against a railing of Bigelow boulevard, near Paulowna street. Frank Natozzka, 33, of 336 Linoleum way, reputed driver, suffered severe contusions and cuts. Walter Luzzak, 35, of 3452 Ligonier street, and his son, Robert, 6, were taken to the Passavant Hospital.

K. C. CHAPLAIN DIES IN PARIS

PARIS, May 8.—(AP.)—Monsignor Patrick J. McGivney, of Bridgeport, Conn., supreme chaplain of the Knights of Columbus in the United States, died this morning.

Monsignor McGivney was taken ill in Paris on April 28. He suffered from several cerebral hemorrages. He had been unconscious much of the time for several days.

He had been actively engaged in the war work of the Knights of Columbus in France during the World War.

RECOVERS HEALTH; RETURNS TO WORK

Local Lady Tells How Ten Herbs Ended Her Husband's Long Suffering.

"My husband, Mr. Lyle P. Wiley, was in such poor health that he had not worked for two years," was the statement of Mrs. Addie L. Wiley, 201 Cremo Street, North Side, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating the popular new herbal compound, Ten Herbs. "He read about your medicine in the newspapers, and decided to try it, with the result that now he feels stronger and better in every respect—in fact, he has returned to work," Mrs. Wiley continued.

"Before taking Ten Herbs, he suffered with indigestion and had poor appetite. Gas bothered his heart terribly. He bloated and had pains at night. He was constipated, and his liver was in such bad condition that he had dizzy spells and lacked energy. There were such awful pains in his back that he could not turn in bed while lying on his back, and he had to arise three or four times at night. He got very weak and rundown. He lost weight, and got so nervous that he could not sleep. His feet and hands were cold from poor circulation.

"The third bottle of Ten Herbs made him look better and feel more like himself. His appetite has improved, and he has good digestion. There is no more gas or bloating. Constipation has been relieved. He does not have to arise at night, and the pains are gone from his back. His kidneys seem to be working properly. He is free of dizzy spells and has more ambition. His nerves are stronger and he gets a good night's sleep. He is gaining in weight, and feels so fine that he does not hesitate to recommend Ten Herbs to the public."

The wonderful herbal ingredients in Ten Herbs benefit and invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. This new compound is a splendid spring tonic, as it gives the entire system a thorough cleansing.

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

DEATH ROLL

Charles H. Leisser.

Charles H. Leisser, 81, died after a short illness yesterday afternoon at his home, 833 Ridge avenue, where he resided with his brother, Martin B. Leisser. Born on Carson street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Balthaser Leisser, well-known Pittsburghers of their day. For years Mr. Leisser was a prominent figure in the musical world of Pittsburgh through association with the house of C. C. Mellor & Co. He was interested in the musical life and art development of Pittsburgh and movements of civic advantage enlisted his sympathetic support. Martin B. Leisser, one of the oldest active artists in America, is the sole survivor.

Harry G. Sigel.

Harry G. Sigel, 48, former councilman of Greater Pittsburgh, died Monday at his home, 167 Pennsylvania avenue, Emsworth. Mr. Sigel was born in the Manchester district and was the youngest member of Greater Pittsburgh's first Council. For the past 30 years he had been connected with the Rosedale Foundry and Machine Company. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Emsworth; McKinley Lodge, F. and A. M.; John I. Nevin Camp No. 33 Sons of Union Veterans; Allegheny Council, Royal Arcanum; Standard Council No 62 Fraternal Patriotic Americans; Manchester Commandery No. 445 Knights of Malta; Emsworth Y. M. C. A., and Bowlers League of Emsworth. He leaves his widow, Bertha J. Sigel; three daughters, Mrs. Marie Sigel Bartlow, and Misses Elinor A. and Lylabel Sigel; one son, Harry N. Sigel, and one brother, Albert J. Sigel

Miss Rebecca J. Cyphers

Miss Rebecca Jane Cyphers, 82, one of the oldest residents of Sandy Creek, died Friday at her home. Miss Cyphers was a school teacher in Verona for many years before becoming station agent at Sandy Creek. Recently she was retired on pension by the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company. She was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Verona. She leaves one sister and one brother.

John B. Barr

John B. Barr, 78, assessor of Bellevue borough, died Monday in his home, 539 Madison avenue, Bellevue. Mr. Barr was a life-long resident of the Pittsburgh district. For the past half century he had lived in Bellevue. He was a member of the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal Church. He leaves his widow, Flora McCormick Barr; two sons, Robert H. Barr of Farmindale, N. J., and Thomas C. Barr of Avalon; five daughters, Mrs. Ralph Pinkerton, Mrs. W. B. Rodgers, Mrs. J. H. Caughey and Miss Mildred H. Barr, all of Bellevue, and Mrs. Sam Diffendorfer of Sharon, and 15 grandchildren.

ATTEMPT TO BLAST RAIL BRIDGE FAILS

STEUBENVILLE, O., May —An attempt was made to dynamite the New York Central Railroad Bridge over Piney Creek, near Piney Fork leading to the Bradley mines of the U. S. Coal Company early today, but the blast ripped out only one brace and did not halt movement of trains. This is the fourth time bridges over the Piney Fork branch have been dynamited recently.

FORD, BACK FROM EUROPE, PREDICTS PROSPERITY

CONFIDENT OF CONTINUED GOOD TIMES

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN,
International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Henry Ford predicted prosperity ahead for the United States on his arrival here today on the liner Majestic from his three weeks' visit to England. He was accompanied by Mrs. Ford.

"I am confident," Ford said, "that current prosperity in the United States will continue. The business outlook is good and there is no factor in sight to disturb its future."

Regarding the Ford Motor Company's business, he said the company had on hand about 1,000,000 orders and that production was being increased as fast as possible to meet this demand.

Speaking of aviation, Ford said: "The Ford company is just beginning to enter the aviation field. We will continue to do a great deal of development and research work in the interest of protecting the American product."

Ford said he enjoyed his trip abroad. It was the first time he had been across the seas since he sailed with his famous "peace ship" in 1916. He declared that conditions in England were "very good and steadily improving."

WILKES-BARRE BARS CARDS FROM SCHOOLS

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 8.—(AP.)—When local ministers protested that it was not "proper" to play cards on school property, city school board passed a motion prohibiting card playing at any social functions held in public schools of the city. "Such parties are not for the good welfare of the children of the schools," said the clergymen.

KNOX TAX SUIT UP AGAIN HERE

After being heard in the Federal District Court and reviewed in the United States Circuit and Supreme Courts, the litigation istituted by the executors of the estate of former Senator Philander C. Knox for an income tax refund of $20,356.86, paid by the statesman under protest in his 1920 income tax return, is back in the District Court. The Supreme Court remanded the case for further proceedings, which it outlined.

The action for the refund concerns the sale of the Knox residence, erected in Ellsworth avenue in 1887 at a cost of $172,000, which he sold in 1920 for $73,706.79.

In his 1920 income tax return Senator Knox claimed a loss equivalent to the difference between the selling price and a 1913 valuation of $120,000. When he entered public life in 1901 he had rented the property.

Judge W. H. S. Thomson held that Senator Knox was not entitled to the refund. The Circuit Court in April, 1927, reversed him. Recently the highest court held that any loss between 1901 and 1920 was subject to tax deduction, and sent it back to the lower court for a new decision on that basis.

The estate is represented by Attorney James Walton of Pittsburgh.

MOTHER'S DAY TO BE MARKED BY LODGES

Elaborate preparations for the observance of Mother's Day next Sunday are being made by fraternal organizations of thee Pittsburgh district. The orders of Elks, Moose and Eagles, each of which has a score or more of lodges in the county or close by, will be especially prominent in the activities. The Congress of Women's Clubs also will conduct a Mother's Day service at Unity Center.

Allegheny Lodge No. 339 of the Elks will have pretentious exercises Sunday evening in the North Side Temple. Several other lodges will send delegations. The Rev. Father Edwin P. Fussenegger will deliver the invocation. Judge James H. Gray the oration, and the Rev. Martin F. Bierbaum the benediction.

The most pretentious of the local Moose celebrations of Mother's Day will be that given by Pittsburgh Lodge in the Penn avenue temple. William Trickett Giles, of Baltimore, supreme lecturer, will be the chief speaker. Exercises in memory of the 79 members of the lodge who died during the last year will be held in connection with the Mother's Day service. Councilman Daniel Winters will deliver the eulogy.

HILL TOP SPAN OPEN TONIGHT

City and county officials and officials of the former borough of Knoxville, civic organizations and school children will participate in the dedication and opening to traffic of the John P. Moore Memorial Bridge at 6:30 o'clock this evening. The span, erected at a cost of $250,000, connects Georgia avenue with Arabella street, Knoxville.

An automobile and foot parade through the principal streets will precede the dedicatory ceremonies. Margaret M. Moore, daughter of Judge George V. Moore, and granddaughter of the late John P. Moore, for whom the bridge is named, will cut the ribbon to open traffic.

PRESS CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting and nomination of officers for the Pittsburgh Press Club was held last night in the club rooms, Fifth and Wylie avenues. The election is to be held May 26. The nominees are: Honorary president, Harry Milholland; president, J. E. McKirdy; first vice president, S. H. Sarraf; second vice president, Charles Lancaster; board of governors, Ray Sprigle, Robert W. Chilton, William White, James J. Long, Grafton Duvall, Milton D. Crandall, J. M. Hazlett, Daniel Davis and W. W. Forster.

TOWN HALL AS ANNEX OPPOSED

been made public because it may leading to bickering over sites that may endanger the entire project.

"My feeling is that we should not talk of sites until the money is available," he said. "I don't think $1,000,000 will be enough, but we'll look into the plan at a meeting of the Commissioners."

One of the objections voiced today to the armory site was the fact that it would be impossible to run a railroad spur to the building. Such auditoriums in a number of other cities, it was said, have such spurs to facilitate shipment of heavy exhibits to automobile shows and other expositions.

ARCHITECT'S ESTIMATE

McGovern today insisted that the auditorium proposed by him could be built for $1,000,000, adding, "or maybe for less than that." He conceived the idea early in February, he said, and intended to present it on the seventh of that month but the death of his daughter prevented him from attending the meetings at that time. His figures, he said, are based on estimates of Joseph F. Kuntz, a Pittsburgh architect who has drawn the plans for many state armories.

Mr. Davison expressed regret that the plan had been given publicity. On the principle that it is unwise to "count one's chickens before they are hatched," he deplores giving consideration at this time to specific projects for a town hall, because of the danger that the debat over sites will arouse sectional jealousies and lead to the defeat of the whole proposition.

NOT READY TO DISCUSS SITES

Mr. Davison said he had been familiar for some months with the armory project, which was laid before the County Commissioners Monday by Commissioner C. C. McGovern. He stated that there were available a number of other specific plans for a town hall which were worthy of study. But the committee has taken the position, he added, that it would not consider buildings, sites or even general locations at this time.

The thing on which to concentrate attention now, said Mr. Davison, is to get the county commissioners to let the people vote on the town hall project in the form of a $6,000,000 bond issue proposal. Six million dollars was fixed upon as the amount, he stated, because it will give the city an auditorium equal to Cleveland's, and Pittsburgh, the committee feels, should be content with nothing less.

After the commissioners have authorized the election the next task will be to win popular approval. Attention should not be diverted from the main issue, Mr. Davison continued, by premature discussion of sites.

WILL ENLARGE ARMORY.

Regardless of whether the county accepts Commissioner McGovern's proposal to go into the Town Hall proposition with the Logan Armory board, the addition to the Thackeray street armory will be built sometime in the near future, Gen. Albert J. Logan disclosed today. The public auditorium idea was first conceived in 1909 when the present building was laid out, General Logan said.

Two foundation walls for the addition are already in—one along the present building and the other along the O'Hara street side. The county has other uses for its money, Gen. Logan declared, and after its initial expenditure of $1,000,000, its responsibility ends.

NO NEED FOR TWO

It is up to the armory board to maintain the building after its erection, he pointed out, whereas if the county builds its own "town hall," the expense of the upkeep would be another burden on the taxpayer. Pittsburgh has no need for two large auditoriums, he says, and one necessarily would be a losing proposition.

When there was no public demand for the auditorium, General Logan pointed out, the hall could be used for drilling, National Guard affairs, and a general activities center for members of the artillery unit housed at the armory.

PROVISION FOR BANQUETS

The armory board's plans include, in addition to the auditorium, facilities for serving large banquets. Boquet street does not make a right angle with the O'Hara street property line, leaving a triangle approximately 30 feet at its base and running back about 200 feet to the armory property line at the rear. The base could be utilized, Gen. Logan pointed out, for the erection of a kitchen on the ground floor and an apartment for a resident caretaker on the second floor. With these facilities, it will be possible to serve in the neighborhood of 8,000 to 10,000 people, it is pointed out.

"Mr. McGovern is a military man," declared Gen. Logan, "and he understands the feasibility of the armory idea. He is also an economist and will not countenance unnecessary expenditures. There are many other public improvements needed."

"The entire cost of building the auditorium," Gen. Logan continued, "would run around $1,000,000, according to estimates given to us by our architect, Joseph F. Kuntz. Several years ago, we were given an estimate of $700,000.

"The land is owned by the state—we purchased it in 1909 when Schenley Farms were opened. It could not be bought today for less than $400,000," he said.

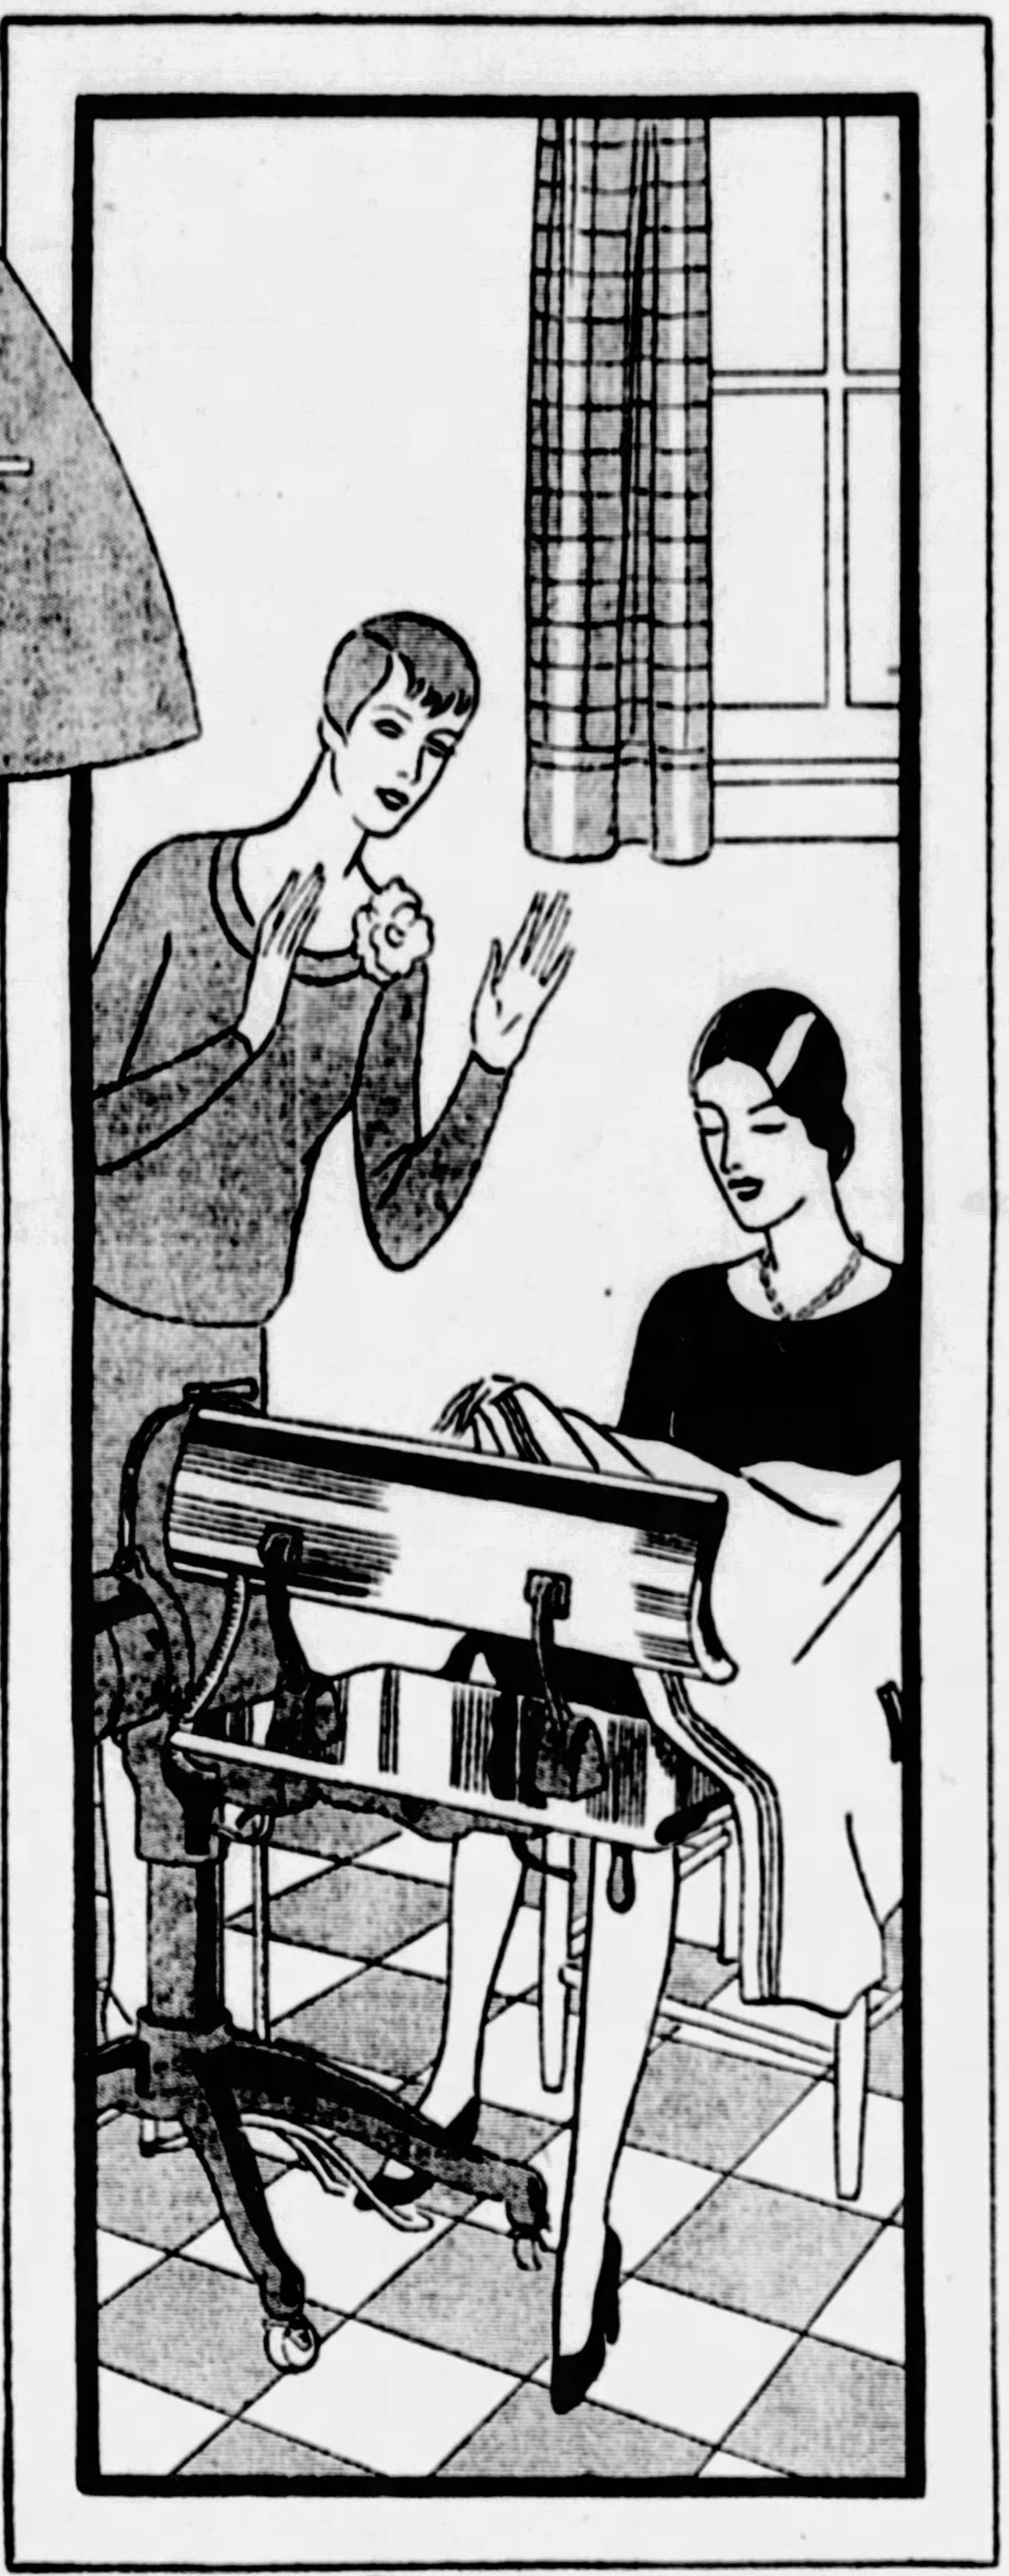
FREED from the slavery of the IRON
Tuesday's toil a happy occupation



IMAGINE never having to bend over an ironing board again! Think of being free, forever, of the back-breaking torture of hand-ironing. Work, that, so doctors say, may cause ill-health and premature old age in women. In fact physicians say ironing is really harder than washing.

Wouldn't you like to look forward to ironing day with pleasure? In thousands of modern homes women do. For the Perfection Ironer has brought complete freedom from the drudgery and misery of ironing. Modern women everywhere are ironing with this remarkable appliance. They sit comfortably in a chair and while Perfection takes every garment and quickly, easily irons it as beautifully as it could ever be done very carefully by hand—in less than half the time required for hand-ironing and at less cost than using an ordinary electric hand iron! No wonder the distressing labor of ironing has become a happy hour or two of pleasant work!

Everything—absolutely everything that goes with the wash is ironed by Perfection with the simple ease and the perfect finish that gives this appliance its name. Nothing that is ironable is too intricate, too dainty or too heavy, for this machine to iron. Bulky things, flimsy things, apparel with tucks, pleats and ruffles—plain or fancy silks, cottons and woolens—everything, no matter what it is! Perfection will iron it more beautifully, more safely, and much more quickly than it can ever be done on an old-fashioned ironing board. Perfection's work is always perfect—it is never burned—never scorched.

Exclusive mechanical and electrical developments make Perfection the marvelous ironer it is. You simply cannot appreciate the remarkable ability of this appliance unless you see and try it for yourself. And so that you can do this in your own home with your own clothes, we will bring a Perfection Ironer to your house to do all your next ironing free. We are more than glad to do it, without any obligation whatever. We want women to know for themselves what a simple, pleasant task ironing can become, and we value the opportunity to have them see and operate a Perfection Ironer under home conditions. Simply phone or call and we will bring a Perfection to your home, whenever you wish, to do your ironing without cost or obligation. You can try it out to your heart's content and the trial will not cost you a penny or put you under any sort of obligation. Let us know today when we may come.

The Perfection Ironer is beautifully finished in old ivory and bright nickel. Small, compact, quickly moved, easily stored in small space. Moderate in price. Easy to buy. A small initial payment frees you from ironing labor, forever. See it, try it—FREE.

PRAISES PARENT INTEREST IN SCHOOLS

A report on the progress in co-ordinating school work through parents and teachers will be made at a meeting of the Thomas Wightman Parent Teachers' Association in the Wightman school tonight by Mrs. E. J. Deckman, of Beacon street, in conection with a demonstration in which 175 pupils will take part. Mrs. Deckmon has just returned from the thirty-second annual Congress of Parents and Teachers held at Cleveland, O., April 27 to May 5.

"The interest parents are showing in the public schools will surprise many people," said Mrs. Deckman. "Every state in the union was represented among the 2,000 delegates at the Cleveland meeting and the membership exceeds 1,000,000. An international organization has been formed under the presidency of Mrs. A. H. Reeve, of Philadelphia, retiring head of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The Pittsburgh and Allegheny county unit of the organization is flourishing under the leadership of Mrs. D. N. Bulford, of the North Side. Mrs. C. H. Harnack, president of the Wightman unit, is largely responsible for our 400 members."

CONCRETE ROAD PROTESTED

Residents of Mifflin township in the vicinity of West Run road are opposed to the building of a new concrete road from Homestead Cemetery to West Run. A large delegation of men and women appeared before the County Commissioners yesterday and voice its disapproval.

The Commissioners said that the construction of the road was a question of economy. If a concrete road is constructed it will cost about $168,000. If brick is used it will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000. With the exception of $20,000 the county is paying for the improvement.

BRIDE FOR DAY ASKS DIVORCE

Claiming that after being married one day, they separated and a few months later her husband married another woman at Greensburg without getting a divorce, Mrs. Anna Cupples Johnston, 7338 Schley avenue, Swissvale, brought suit for divorce in Common Pleas Court against John E. Johnston, also of Swissvale.

Jocamina Consolaro, Curtisville, sued Foster B. Consolaro, Freeport, charging cruelty.

George H. Griffiths, 5806 Kirkwood street, charged Ruth Viola Griffiths, 529 Finley street, with cruelty and desertion.

Jane C. McBride, 310 Twelfth street, McKeesport, sued David D. McBride, Renton, charging desertion.

HUSBAND LEAVES, WIFE SUES FATHER-IN-LAW

Mrs. Angelina Mavilla, now living in Derry, Pa., brought suit for $25,000 damages against her father-in-law, Frank Mavilla, alleging that he and his wife had influenced her husband, Santos Mavilla, to leave her. In her statement the wife says her husband's parents first persuaded him to return to their home four months after his marriage. She says they influenced him by the employment of infamous statements about her. The Mavillas have two children.

PGH. PRESBYTERY CLEARS SHELTON

CHURCH VOTES CONFIDENCE IN PASTOR

Pittsburgh Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church today officially cleared the Rev. Dr. George W. Shelton, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Eighth street, of charges brought against him by a few members of his congregation.

Presbytery met at the Glenshaw church, and upon report of the executive commission, headed by the Rev. M. M. McDivitt, pastor of the Knoxville church, that all papers had been withdrawn by those opposing Dr. Shelton, the vindication of the minister became a matter of record.

At the annual congregational meeting of Second Church last night, Dr. Shelton was given a unanimous vote of confidence and granted a leave of two months in addition to his regular vacation. All departments of the church showed a gain over the preceding year, according to official reports.

Veteran ministers of the Presbyterian Church will not share in the distribution of the $15,000,000 fund raised by laymen for ministerial relief and pensions, the Rev. Dr. J. M. Duff, of Carnegie, pointed out to the presbyters.

The Glenshaw church, the Rev. R. F. Young pastor, will be dedicated next Sunday. The Rev. Dr. Henry R. Brown was moderator of today's meeting.

AWARDED $16,500 FOR APPROPRIATED PROPERTY

Jacob Weisberg and his wife, Hazel, were awarded $16,500 in a verdict agreed upon in Common Pleas Court today for property taken by the city in opening Irwin avenue from Columbus avenue to Brighton road. They had sued the city for $30,000. The property consisted of two houses at Columbus avenue and Taggart street.

Carol's Friend Broadminded, Says Will

BEVERLY HILLS, May 8.—See today where Prince Carol says that "Rumania is the laughing stock of the world." But he insinuates that if he can get on the throne he will add just the amount of dignity and wives that it has been lacking. He says the girl friend, Madame Lupesca, is perfectly willing to share him with the needy Rumanians. She is broadminded that way. Been reading Sunday's casualty lists from automobiles. It looks like everybody gets run over, but presidential candidates. Is there no justice in the world?

WILL ROGERS

Yours,
WILL.

P. S.—Paint has been put down to towns of three letters, Ada, Okla., for instance. Mooselookmeguntic, Me., sent me a bill for $79. They had to put a letter on each house and borrowed three houses from Connecticut.

MOERLEIN "PADLOCK" STAY HEARING TODAY

Assistant United States District Attorney Joseph A. Richardson is appearing today before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, opposing the petition of Medart Trabert, owner of the Moerlein Cafe property, 3419 Fifth avenue, for a supersedeas to stay the "padlock" injunction of the Federal District Court, pending a review of the case by the Circuit Court. Judge R. M. Gibson signed the decree for the padlock on April 23.

PULITZER PRIZE WINNERS NAMED

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP.)—The annual Pulitzer prizes were announced by Columbia University yesterday; awards in medals, scholarships and cash aggregating $15,900.

The awards follow:

The Indianapolis Times won a $500 gold medal for the most disinterested and meritorious public service rendered by an American newspaper during 1927. The award was made for the paper's exposition of political corruption in Indiana.

Grover Cleveland Hall, of the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser, was awarded $500 for the best editorial writing because of his articles against floggings.

No award was made for the best example of reportorial work, the test being accuracy, terseness and the accomplishment of some public good commanding public attention and respect.

A prize of $500 was given Nelson Harding, of the Brooklyn Eagle, for the best cartoon of the year, a Lindbergh picture entitled, "May His Shadow Never Grow Less."

"The Bridge of San Luis Rey" was adjudged the best book of the year presenting the whole atmosphere of American life. Its author, Thornton Wilder, was awarded $1,000.

Eugene O'Neill won $1,000 for "Strange Interlude" as the American play performed in New York, best representing the educational value and power of the stage in raising the standard of good morals, good taste and good manners.

The largest prize, $2,000, was awarded to Vernon Louis Parrington for his "Main Currents in American Thought" as being the best book of the year on the history of the United States.

"The American Orchestra and Theodore Thomas" by Charles Edward Russell was judged the best American biography teaching unselfish and patriotic services to the people. Prize $1,000.

Edwin Arlington Robinson was awarded $1,000 for the best volume of verse published during the year by an American. The book was "Tristram."

Scholarships for a year in Europe, valued at $1,500 each, were awarded Philip Beckler, Alfred Dudley Britton, Jr., and Mary D. Roman, all of New York, as graduates of the School of Journalism who have passed their examinations with the highest honor and who are otherwise most deserving. Haig Gordon Garbedian, of West New York, N. J., Margaret C. Lloyd, of Bradford, Pa., and Elliott A. Crouse, of Alma, Mich., were named as alternates.

Scholarships valued at $1,510 for European study were awarded to Lamar Stringfield and Gordon Samstag, adjudged the most promising students of art and music respectively.

There was no competition for the $1,000 prize offered for the best history of the services rendered to the public by the American Press.

WEST END FIRE ROUTS 6 PERSONS FROM BEDS

Six persons were routed from their beds early this morning by fire that caused $1,000 damage to the home of Lydia Hancock at 872 Independence street, West End. Mrs. Hancock and five boarders were in the house at the time. The roof was burned.

"WINGS" IN NIXON FOR FIFTH WEEK

Paramount's screen play of war and aviation, "Wings," opened its fifth week in the Nixon yesterday. Matinee and evening performances are given daily.

CONVICT WOMAN IN W. VA. MURDER

WEBSTER SPRINGS, W. Va., May 7.—Mrs. Annie McKenzie, 43, was found guilty of first-degree murder with a recommendation of life imprisonment by a jury today for the slaying of her husband, Thomas McKenzie, 56, wealthy lumberman of Bolair. The case was on trial for a week.

McKenzie's body, with ax wounds, was found hanging from a laurel bush near his home last October.

WOMAN AND DAUGHTER HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

LATROBE, Pa., May 8.—When their automobile upset near Beatty, Mrs. Mabel Runner, 34, and daughter, Betty, 11, were severely injured.

Department Buyers for 112 Great Stores insist on Lux for their OWN things

The greatest group of experts ever consulted

92% of the Department Store Buyers interviewed in 112 of the most important stores in America insist on Lux for their own precious things!

Imagine what this means!

These women are the buyers of women's and children's dresses, blouses, underthings, hosiery, gloves, for the great stores which do three-fourths of all department store business in the United States.

Experts in Clothes

They are paid huge salaries because of their sure knowledge of fabrics and styles.

For the first time, hundreds of these experts in big cities from Boston to Los Angeles have given their opinion about the best way to cleanse today's clothes and fabrics.

Interviewed in their own departments of leading stores in 26 cities, they told just how their own nice things are taken care of.

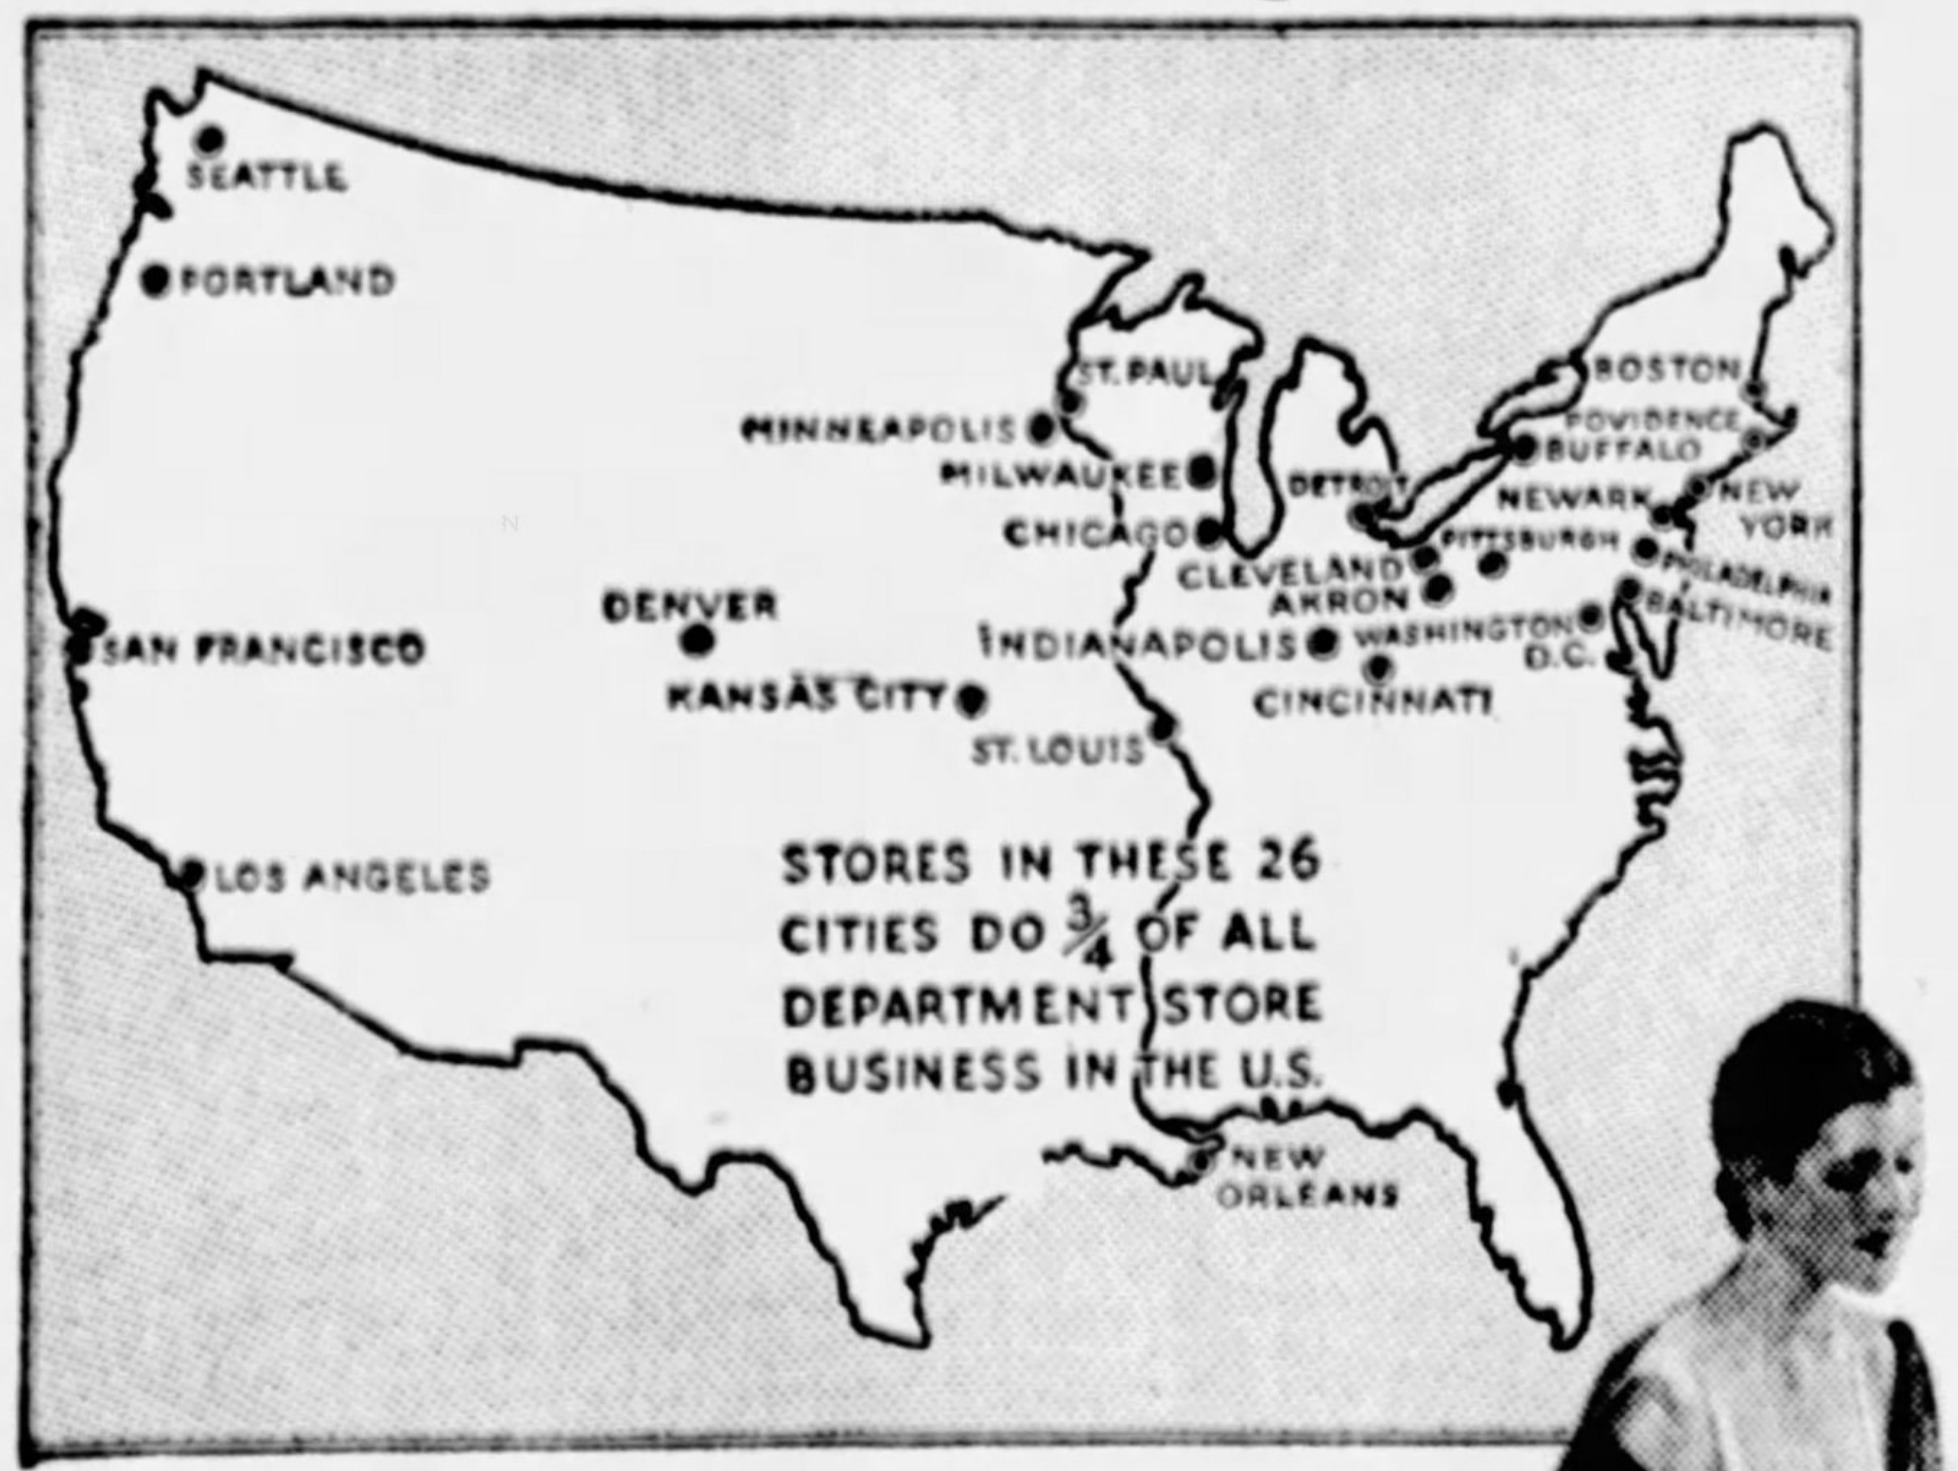
And their verdict was well-nigh unanimous!

92% of these experts insist on Lux!

Knowing clothes and fabrics, these experts will take no chances!

Like women everywhere, the women who buy for America's great stores overwhelmingly insist upon safe cleansing with Lux!

DEPARTMENT STORES send their women buyers to New York and Paris to select smart clothes. The above picture, an actual scene in the New York showrooms of Jesse Woolf and Co., makers of high-priced frocks, shows how buyers select these clothes.



ALL OVER THE UNITED STATES, from coast to coast, successful women buyers, heads of their own departments in the big stores of the 26 cities shown above, told frankly how they cared for their own things. For sheer stockings, delicate underthings, sweaters, charming frocks, gloves, 92% of these clothes experts—92 out of every 100—insist on Lux!

LUX
For all fine laundering
LUX

¶ Like the department store buyers, women everywhere trust their nice things to LUX. ¶ For women have found, as the great motion picture studios—the New York musical shows—have proved by test, that washing with Lux doubles the life of fabrics! ¶ Pure Lux has none of the harmful alkali found in many soaps, whether flakes, chips or cakes—nothing to weaken delicate fibres, fade nice colors.

WOMEN DUEL TO DEATH

Two Negro women fought a battle to death in a Hill district "speakeasy" early today, the battle ending when one of the pair was fatally stabbed in the throat. Police found Mary Stevens, 40, of 1411 Pasture street, lying in the street at Pasture and Logan streets, where she had staggered in a vain effort to reach her home, they say. She died en route to the Passavant Hospital. A short time later police raided the speakeasy of George Robinson, 32 of 1314 Wylie avenue, where the fight is said to have occurred. Robinson and six other Negroes are held, although police say that the woman who did the stabbing escaped. Some whisky was confiscated.

MACGILVARY HEADS CARNEGIE FACULTY

Norman McGilvary, of the College of Fine Arts, has been elected chairman of the faculty of the Carnegie Institute of Technology for next year, it was announced today. Others elected on the faculty board were: Norman C. Riggs, vice chairman; Charles W. Prine, treasurer; Miss Edith M. Winchester, secretary; Robert B. Leighton, athletic council representative; Wilfred Readio, Mrs. Mary C. Burnett, Harry L. McKee, Dr. Thomas R. Alexander and William F. Kamman, educational senate representatives.

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

SCOTTY ALLAN, king of the Artic trails and master dog racer, will be heard on the air during the Eveready hour at 9 o'clock tonight over Red Network stations, including WCAE. His dog racing adventures have carried him through the Northland's blinding blizzards and across the frozen tundra to three first places in the All-Alaskan sweepstakes. It was his "War Dogs of Nome" that transported ammunition to the snowbound French batteries in the towering Vosges mountains of France.

The Voters' Service at 7 o'clock, another chain feature to be heard over WCAE, will offer addresses by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and United States Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York. "Unemployment" will be the subject of discussion.

Two solos along the same theme, dedicated to the mothers of the world, will be sung by James Melton, the Seiberling tenor in the half-hour broadcast of the Seiberling Singers, another Red Network feature to be offered over WCAE at 8:30 o'clock. The solos will be Burleigh's "Little Mother of Mine" and Tour's "Mother O'Mine."

The Haller Bakers, over KDKA at 7:30 o'clock, will present a program devoted entirely to compositions from the pen of Pittsburgh composers. The quartet will introduce the program with two of the late Stephen Foster numbers, "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming" and "Swanee River," followed with a piano selection, "A Day in Venice," by Ethelbert Nevin, which will be played by A. Bodycombe. Helen Bell Rush, soprano, will sing "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," by Charles Wakefield Cadman, after which the quartet will present another one of Cadman's favorite selections, "At Dawning." Harvey Gaul's "May I Print a Kiss" will be sung. The works of Richard Kountz, Pittsburgh's young composer, will be represented on the program by three numbers—"Sleepy Hollow Tune," "Drifting On" and "Sweet Little Lady of Mine," and other numbers will be "Baby's Hair Is Built of Sun," by William Wentzel; "Wildflower," by Aneurin Bodycombe, who is the accompanist of the Haller program; "Peace My Heart," by Flora Johnson Greene, and "Home Again," composed by Gertrude Martin Rocher.

Among network features to be heard over KDKA tonight will be the Stromberg-Carlson Sextet and the Orchestras-That-Differ program.

There will be no chain broadcasts over WJAS. However a number of local programs will be presented.

$1,500 REQUESTED FOR MEMORIAL PARADE

An appropriation of $1,500 for a Memorial Day parade and service to be held in Highland Park Sunday, May 27, was asked of Council yesterday by East Liberty Post 5, American Legion. Speakers of national prominence will take part, the letter said. Permission also was asked to hold the parade and use a site near the main entrance of the park.

STARVING TO DEATH

Many Persons Get No Nourishment From Food

Thousands of people who are pale, thin, weak and run down, are literally starving to death because their system in its weakened condition is unable to take up the nourishment which the food they eat contains. To such people Father John's Medicine is of great value, because it has vast food value and the pure, wholesome nourishment which it contains is easily taken up by the weakened system and turned into tissue, muscle and flesh.

Folks Do Lose Fat

without hard work or starving

It is evident on every hand that people do lose fat in these days without starving. Look about you—note how slenderness prevails. Abnormal figures have largely disappeared.

One great reason lies in a discovery made by leading scientists. They found a cause for excess fat in a certain gland deficiency. In a gland which assists nutrition. Thousands of tests proved that fat reduction came by correcting that lack.

A great medical laboratory then embodied that factor in Marmola prescription tablets. They have now been used for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. In every circle you can see the results. Almost anyone has friends who can tell them.

The users of Marmola have told others, and the use has grown. Now people are using some 5,000,000 tablets a month. And excess fat is fast becoming an affliction of the past.

Abnormal exercise or diet is neither required nor advised. One simply takes four Marmola tablets daily until weight comes down to normal.

The Marmola prescription is not secret. The full formula is given in every box, and a book states the reasons for all good effects. You will know that you are taking what modern physicians prescribe, and why the effects are natural and helpful.

Don't suffer longer from abnormal fat. It blights beauty, health and vitality. Learn how Marmola corrects the conditions, and why. Go get a box today, and this day may be a red letter day in your calendar.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1.00 a box. Any druggist who is out will order from his jobber.

HER Honor or— HIS Life?

The amazing, true story of a former star of the stage. Perhaps she has smiled across the footlights at you —when this terrible crisis was breaking her heart!

LOVELY, trustful, romantic little girl . . . from a "story-book" lover she learned how bitter life can be!

Long, cruel years of struggle, of shame, and friendless poverty. All life's dearest gifts sacrificed to save her little one—the crippled child she had to call her baby sister.

Waitress, salesgirl, typist, lonely little mother—only one thing in the world she hated, and that was the man who had vanished into the story-book he came from, leaving the longest, bitterest chapter for her.

So, at 22, she felt very old and wise—but her charm and beauty gave no hint of the hurt, weary soul that longed for peace, for deeper sleep than any that wakes at dawn.

Opportunity came, a place with a stock company. Then swift success, beyond anything she had ever dreamed.

Money now to save Baby Pat's crippled foot! A great surgeon performed the miracle—and a greater miracle of love awakened in her crippled heart. They were married.

Then out of a clear sky, her terrible crisis! The man who had wrecked her life, who had returned to destroy it again—lay on the operating table, his life staked on her husband's skill.

That life was in her hands—as hers had once been in his. Should she—But you must read this great story for yourself, complete in June TRUE STORY. PATRICIA PITT'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

President of Stage and Play Society to Fete Carnegie Hall Casts

IF YOU have ever appeared on the amateur stage, you know quite well that, no matter how much of that sort of thing you have done or how well coached you are, there is a certain tenseness of nerves until the evening is over and everything has gone all right. Members of the Stage and Play Society, wanting to keep each production up to the high standard set by past performances, can hardly be quite free from this feeling, even though they are seasoned amateur actors.

It was probably in recognition of this relaxation after the play is over that Carroll Fitzhugh, president of the society, and his wife were prompted to give a supper party for the cast and the board following the performance in March. And now, I understand, the Fitzhughs are going to give another supper tomorrow night in the Pittsburgh Golf Club after the performance in Carnegie Music Hall. The casts taking part in the three plays and also the board members will be their guests.

Several important members of the society are out of town just now, but one of them, at least, is returning home soon. I hear that Mrs. Wilmer M. Jacoby, who has taken part in many of the plays given by the society and who has been abroad for most of the spring, will be back home again the middle of this month. Mrs. Jacoby went abroad primarily to spend Easter in Rome, I believe.

ASSISTING AT BENEFIT

Mrs. Elias Sunstein is vice chairman of the committee in charge of the children's matinee performance of "Alice in Wonderland," Saturday in Syria Mosque for the benefit of the Community School.

MRS. ELIAS SUNSTEIN

Another member away from home is Mrs. John H. K. Burgwin. She has been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Burbank Crockett, the former May Phillips Burgwin, in New York, and later on she will go on up to Provincetown to remain until September.

Martha MacCord, who is to marry Biddle Arthurs, Jr., tomorrow night, has been entertained a lot since her engagement was announced, and, naturally, during the past week or so there have been parties nearly every day. Yesterday, Marjorie Haston, of New York, formerly of Pittsburgh, who is going to be maid of honor at the wedding, gave a luncheon for eight in the Duquesne Club. The guests were the girls of the bridal party and their mothers.

Kathryn Brennan, of Friendship avenue, who will be the bridesmaid, entertained on Saturday afternoon in her home for Martha, and tonight, the rehearsal dinner is set for the Twentieth Century Club. Mr. Arthurs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Biddle Arthurs, will be hosts.

The second entertainment given to raise funds for the planting and beautifying of the grounds of Shady Side Academy will be held the night of May 21 in the Hotel Schenley, when Marie Houston, American lyric soprano, will give a program. Mrs. Charles A. Risher is chairman for the benefit, assisted by Mrs. Augustus K. Oliver, Mrs. Grant Curry, Mrs. John T. Duff, Jr., Mrs. F. F. Rohrer, and Mrs. K. C. Gardner.

The committee which was formed to see to the landscaping of the grounds about the school is headed by Mrs. Harold A. Nomer and includes Mrs. James C. Rea, Mrs. George H. Calvert, Mrs. Bayard D Foster, Mrs. Curry, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Clinton S. Bradley, Mrs. Frank A. Hamilton, Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. Harry J. Miller, Mrs. C. F. C. Arensberg, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. W. Forman Bickel, Mrs. Hugh Rodman, Mrs. C. H. E. Succop, Mrs. George Wittmer, Jr., Mrs. Duff and Mrs. Rohrer.

A Sewickley party of tomorrow will be a bridge tea which Mrs. Neill S. Brown, of Shields, will give for her sister, Mrs. William K. Naylor, who is visiting their mother, Mrs. A. H. Wagner. Yellow and white spring flowers will be used on the tea table, I understand, and Mrs. Wagner is going to pour.

Mrs. Naylor and her husband, Col. Naylor, of the United States Army, are at present stationed in Boston.

Because of the illness of the bridegroom, the wedding of Miss Clara A. McGreevy, of North Negley avenue, and Robert B. O'Broen, of Canonsburg, which was scheduled for tomorrow, has been postponed until Wednesday, May 16, at 9:30 o'clock in Sacred Heart Church. Miss Marie Hohman entertained with a bridge luncheon Saturday for Miss McGreevy.

Mrs. C. A. Scholl, of Oneida street, Duquesne Heights, will hold a benefit card party in her home Thursday night. Mrs. Scholl is captain of the guard team of Grandview Revue No. 232, Woman's Benefit Association. Her aides will be Mrs. Emma Wayman, Miss Edna Miller and Mrs. Gertrude Lewis.

* * *

Mrs. Katherine McIntyre, of Crafton, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Marie McIntyre, to Edward Lee Bladel, of Crafton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Bladel, of Rock Island, Ill. No wedding date has been set.

Miss Nancy Elizabeth Bryson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Ballou Bryson, of Monitor street, has chosen June 2 as the date for her marriage to Harry Newton Smith, of Buffalo. The ceremony will be performed at 5:30 o'clock in the Third United Presbyterian Church by the Rev. William M. Woodfin.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Esther L. Zerkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Cope, of Ridgeville street, to Milton R. Brice, son of Mrs. J. H. Brice, of Niles, O. An early summer wedding is planned.

Mrs. A. Felsenthal, of Woodlawn avenue, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Harriet Hope Felsenthal, to Dr. Martin Snyderman, of this city.

WOMEN'S PRESS CLUB NOMINATES OFFICERS

The nominating committee of the Women's Press Club presented its ticket at the meeting yesterday, naming Miss Helen W. Donnelly for the next president. Other officers to be voted on at the June meeting are: Vice presidents, Mrs. Madeline Young Love and Mrs. Edith Taylor Thomson; treasurer, Miss Catherine M. Patterson; secretary, Miss Marie McSwigan, and the directors, Mrs. A. W Smith, Jr., Mrs. Frances McCommon, Mrs. John A. Shoemaker, Mrs. Charles M. Bregg, Miss Anna Bell Craig and Miss Bernice Shine.

Yesterday's meeting was held, as usual, in the Woman's City Club and was addressed by Cy Hungerford, Pittsburgh cartoonist, who gave an interesting and entertaining chalk talk. Mr. Hungerford sketched in crayon several subjects illustrative of people he had met and places he had been and he also showed how a cartoon is made, contrasting the modern cartoonist with his predecessor. The cartoonist of today has replaced the club and the brickbat with a feather, he said, and the strip cartoonist has developed continuity and philosophy.

Mrs. Albert L. Vencill is the new president of the Woman's Club of Wilkinsburg. She and the following officers were chosen yesterday at the annual meeting in the Y. W. C. A. Community House: Vice presidents, Mrs. O. C. Leichliter and Mrs. W. C. Graham; recording secretary, Mrs. J. S. Hooper; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. P. Gillespie; assistant secretary, Miss Jennie Stewart; treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Merwin. The drama group also chose its officers yesterday. Mrs. S. B. Cuthbert is president; Mrs. W. K. Clutton, secretary, and Mrs. W. E. Brinker, treasurer.

The Sixth District Graduate Nurses' Association will hear Judge Florence E. Allen of the Ohio Supreme Court, talk on "Our Heritage," next Monday night in the Mercy Hospital Nurses' School, at 9 o'clock. Miss Ruth Bower, principal of the West Penn Hospital School of Nursing, is chairman of the evening's program.

Dr. Arthur Coggeshall will address the Woman's Club of Bryn Mawr Farms tomorrow afternoon when the members meet in Carnegie Museum. After the talk refreshments will be served by Mrs. Graham Bright, Mrs. Edgar R. Sampson, Mrs. A. H. Candee, Mrs. Edward B. Newell, Mrs. W. D. Lindsay and Mrs. S. B. Cooper.

The second annual assembly of Pittsburgh Delphian Chapters will be held Saturday in the William Penn Hotel, beginning at 10 o'clock. The chief address of the day's session will be delivered at 1:30 o'clock by Dr. Edward H. Griggs, who will have as his subject "Culture in the Margin of Life."

East Liberty Chapter, Service Star Legion, will hold its annual reception for Gold Star mothers and fathers tonight at Municipal Hall, Frankstown avenue. Mrs. Bruce W. Maxwell, national executive secretary, will be the principal speaker.

"How the Story Grew" and "The Dressing Gown" will be presented by the Queen Esther Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Carnegie, this evening.

With Mrs. Walker Clark as hostess and Mrs. W. H. Roberts as leader, the Monday Club of Carnegie met yesterday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. The club quartet sang, accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Bigham, and the papers were by Mrs. George Gow, Mrs. H. S. Kane and Mrs. O. H. Phillips. The subjects discussed were as follows: "Norwegian Poets and Poetry," "Art Galleries and Museums" and "Music and the Drama," in continuance of the year's study of Norway and Sweden.

Its annual luncheon will be held June 4 in the Highland Country Club by the Woman's Club of Avalon, which closed its program season yesterday with the annual meeting and election. Mrs. R. H. Schaffer was elected president; Mrs. J. S. Fruit and Mrs. C. S. Ferguson are the new vice presidents; Mrs. H. A. Pollock will serve as secretary; Mrs. C. R. Fisher, treasurer, and Mrs. J. W. Caughey, Mrs. O. H. Milligan and Mrs. George Hess as directors. Mrs. W. T. Shaffer, of California avenue, was hostess, and the program was given by Mrs. Walter P. Seibert, violin, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Kinley, and Mrs. Walter E. Close, who contributed humorous readings. The luncheon reservations are to be made with Mrs. C. P. Dils.

An address relative to Mother's Day by the Rev. J. M. Ferguson and groups of songs by Mrs. C. D. Mornewick, accompanied by Mrs. G. S. Uline, made up the program for the Bellevue Outlook Club yesterday. Mrs. W. J. Crull, of Lincoln avenue, entertained the members, assisted by Mrs. Ada V. Hoobler.

The tasteful decorations at the luncheon given yesterday by the Keystone Association for Historical Reserch were the gift of Mrs. H. J. Fox, who is retiring after three years in the president's chair. There was a program of readings by Mrs. Annie O. Wilson, and this was followed by the annual reports and the annual election, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Dulce Fiske Fairman; vice presidents, Mrs. Thomas P. Fleeson and Mrs. P. E. Henninger; recording secretary, Mrs. Roy L. Norris; corresponding secretary, Miss Eunice Overman; treasurer, Mrs. Eugene S. Gaskill; historian, Mrs. Frank Osborne, and flag custodian, Miss Margaret Fleming.

The new officers of the Southern Club will be honor guests at the club's annual luncheon in the Hotel Schenley on Friday. Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, in charge of the program, will introduce Cass Ward Whitney, baritone; Miss Mary Redmond, violin; Mrs. Walter E. Close, reader, and Mrs. Adalaine Merrill Biddle, accompanist.

Mrs. Charles E. St. John of Boston, wife of a former minister of the First Unitarian Church, will be a guest at tomorrow's meeting of the Woman's Alliance of the Church. Officers will be elected, reports heard and plans laid for next season at the session tomorrow.

The Phi Kappa Chi Club of Squirrel Hill will have a treasure hunt Friday evening, starting with the first clue in the club headquarters, the parish house of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer. The hunt has been arranged and will be directed by R. W. Steenrod and Odgen McClosky.

Mrs. J. Shelby Riley, of Washington, D. C., and St. Petersburg, Fla., a member of the National League of American Pen Women, will be a guest Thursday at the book review luncheon to be given by the literature department of the Congress of Clubs.

A meeting of The Scribblers will be held in the William Penn Hotel Thursday night under the chairmanship of A. J. Jordan.

STEINWAY
the instrument of the immortals

The Baby Grand
$1,425

This instrument is small enough for the most limited space, yet it retains that breadth and beauty of tone which a true grand piano ought to have. A very popular model.

The STEINWAY appeals unerringly to people who buy with care

THE consideration of the shrewd buyer is given not so much to price, as to value received. He looks beyond the first cost into the question of upkeep, permanence, performance and pride of ownership. His thrift is tempered with imagination.

When such a buyer wishes to purchase a piano, he turns quite naturally to the Steinway. For in the lifetime of perfect service given by this great instrument he finds that true economy which lies in the best and finest things. . . . And no matter what his income, there is a Steinway price and model for his needs.

A new Steinway piano can be bought from $925 up
Any Steinway piano may be purchased with a cash deposit of 10%, and the balance will be extended over a period of two years. Used pianos accepted in partial exchange.

FUR STORAGE

as manufacturing furriers have perfected it.

ONLY the understanding gained by years of experience in the care of fine furs can perfect a Storage Service like a Manufacturing Furrier's.

The proper storage of furs needs a great deal more knowledge than can be learned by the inexperienced "overnight." If improperly taken care of, valuable furs can be ruined.

Do not be misled by false claims and so-called "new methods." Store your Furs with a Furrier—and be certain they will be safe this summer.

CLOCK CONFUSES WOMAN JUROR

Summoned before Judge Josiah P. Cohen in Common Pleas Court assignment room, because she had been tardy, Mrs. Jennie Ely, of 2019 Murray avenue, a juror, explained that the use of Eastern standard time in the court room had confused her.

She was instructed to set her clock with that of the court house. By agreement of plaintiff and defendant in a case on which Mrs. Ely was juror, the case was tried with 11 jurors when Mrs. Ely failed to report on time.

GREAT CROWDS CIRCUS-FEVER "VICTIMS"

Next to the elephants and trained horses, the star performer at the opening of the Sells-Floto circus, Fifth and Penn avenues, yesterday, was the weather man. Cool weather and bright sunshine put the circus spirit in the air and added to the happiness of the thousands who attended the big three-ring show that claims the honor of opening the circus season in Pittsburgh.

The Sells-Floto wonderland concealed under the big top made good its claim of being worth going miles to see, and the crowds indicated that the circus fever affected all Western Pennsylvania. The menagerie embraces a collection of trained elephants, ponies, apes, baboons, lions, polar bears and a variety of other beasts found in the best zoological exhibits.

The equestrian features are specially good and the horses are handled by more than a score of graceful riders. Trapeze and high wire performers, tumblers and jugglers are busy in the rings throughout the performance, and the clowns have many new stunts.

The performances will be repeated this afternoon and tonight.

ERIE OFFICE WRECKED AFTER SALARY TANGLE

ERIE, Pa., May 8.—Three Erie men were arrested yesterday on property destruction charges, in connection with the wrecking of offices of the General Transportation Company, now in hands of receivers.

The trio Paul Bock, Don Davis and Joseph Noe, all former employes of the company, according to police, wrecked the place after a promised wage settlement had been refused. All were held in $1,000 for hearing Friday.

presented at a most interesting price

Celanese is so new—it is so lovely—its loveliness reveals itself in so many unexpected forms from printed voiles of gossamer lightness to rich moires and satins. New fabrics demure and simple—others that are masterpieces of sophistication. Celanese is being chosen by smart women of discernment everywhere.

celanese may be laundered

In fact it is actually improved by washing! It dries with amazing rapidity and holds its shape always. It cannot shrink--perspiration will not harm it—it will not cling. A new creation and certainly with all its qualities Celanese will long remain in favor.

ninon and satin

The Ninon weave is as fine and silky textured as the sheerest chiffon—and yet it is as easily laundered as a handkerchief. The Satins are plain and in moire effects. Fabrics that lend themselves with grace to the feminine modes of summer.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

"DONT'S" FOR THE FOOLISH VIRGIN

THERE are "eight ways to win a husband," according to Homer Croy in Smart Set Magazine. Yes, and by the same token, there are about eighteen ways to lose him on the way to the altar!

Here are a few "Dont's" for the Foolish Virgin, who has won her man and wants to hold onto him, until the Hope Chest is ready and her orange blossoms arrive.

Don't EMOTE over him.

One of the hardest things for a man to bear with in woman is her unpardonable way of deluging him with her emotions. The woman he loves best and longest is the one who loves him just enough! Just enough to make him happy—and not enough to make him tired.

HELEN ROWLAND

Don't shock his illusions.

Every man loves a "lady." Every man loves, not a woman, but an ideal creature made in her image; and he will forgive a woman for anything on earth except for shattering this image. He may "fall for" a high powered, petting, swearing, jazzing girl—but he catches his balance before he reaches the altar.

Don't SMOTHER him with the idea that you are "mothering" him.

Don't try to keep tabs on him. Don't elect yourself his conscience, curfew, jailer and questionnaire. More love has been stifled to death with solicitation and strangled to death with coddling than ever was frozen to death with neglect.

Don't PURSUE him.

Love is a minuet in which when one takes a step forward the other always takes a step backward. One unsolicited telephone call has often been the first extinguisher which put out the freshly lighted spark of a man's love.

Don't TALK him to death.

The woman who can babble eloquently in seven languages doesn't stand a chance beside the woman who can listen eloquently in one language.

Don't be TOO "efficient."

A man may admire a capable, independent girl who insists on carrying her own grips, running her own car and paying her own taxi fare. But it is his primitive instinct to love the helpless little thing who leans on him.

Don't ask him WHY he loves you, IF he loves you, how MUCH he loves you, or how LONG he will love you. By the time he has found the answer he will have lost the enthusiasm.

Don't be JEALOUS. Jealousy is the serpent in Love's Garden of Eden—and Suspicion is its twin sister. One jealous glance will do more to kill love than the breaking of the Ten Commandments.

Remember that the feat of a girl's life is no longer getting a husband—it's holding onto him after she's got him!

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

Wednesday, May 9

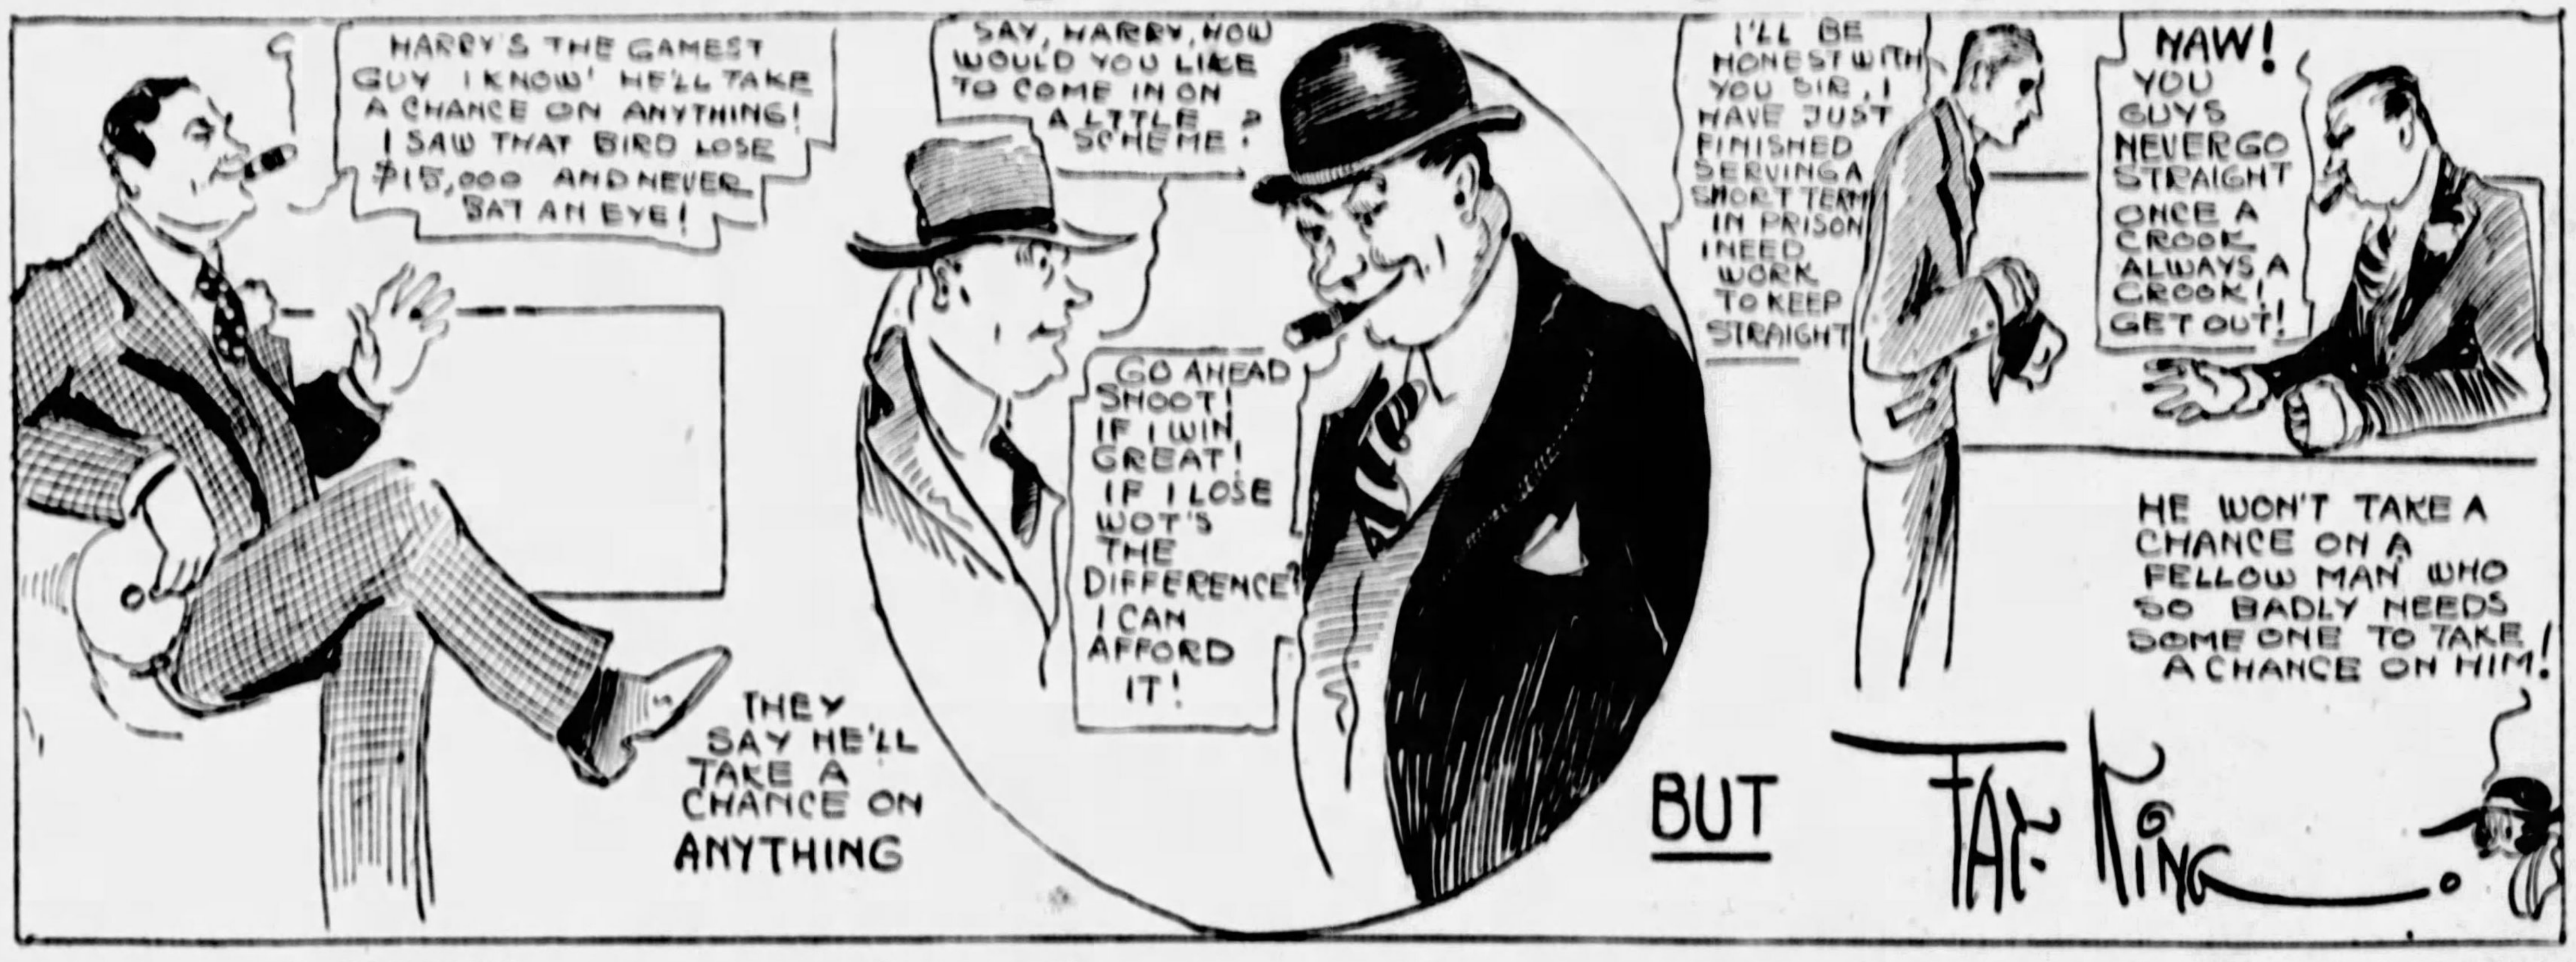
THE sidereal forces in operation on this day lend themselves to rather unsettled and unfavorable conditions as they relate to business and general undertakings, but wield a most friendly influence in social, domestic, artistic and affectional activities. There may be a tendency to finance these, or to be indulgent, but discretion and firm control are enjoined otherwise. New ventures had best be postponed and all writings cautiously signed.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of unwelcome and unsettled conditions in business affairs but their social, domestic and affectional affiliations should bring much pleasure and should flourish. Be careful with new ventures and sign all writings with caution.

A child born on this day although being restless and unsettled will be accomplished and popular.

Men must reap the things they sow;
Force from force must ever flow.
—SHELLEY.

So-Called 'Game Sports' Stir Fay King's Anger



HARRY'S THE GAMEST GUY I KNOW! HE'LL TAKE A CHANCE ON ANYTHING! I SAW THAT BIRD LOSE $15,000 AND NEVER BAT AN EYE!
THEY SAY HE'LL TAKE A CHANCE ON ANYTHING SAY, HARRY, HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO COME IN ON A LITTLE SCHEME?
GO AHEAD SHOOT! IF I WIN GREAT! IF I LOSE WOT'S THE DIFFERENCE? I CAN AFFORD IT!
BUT
I'LL BE HONEST WITH YOU SIR, I HAVE JUST FINISHED SERVING A SHORT TERM IN PRISON I NEED WORK TO KEEP STRAIGHT
NAW! YOU GUYS NEVER GO STRAIGHT ONCE A CROOK ALWAYS A CROOK! GET OUT!
HE WON'T TAKE A CHANCE ON A FELLOW MAN WHO SO BADLY NEEDS SOME ONE TO TAKE A CHANCE ON HIM!
FAY KING

By FAY KING.

CERTAIN men who have plenty of money pride themselves on the reputation they have gained for taking a chance on anything.

Their friends never tire of telling how they will gamble on anything, lose gamely and never squawk even if they are trimmed by the same "friends" twice!

These game guys laugh loudly and seem actually pleased when they are gypped!

"Game sports" they want to be considered.

They'll tell you how much it cost them with railroad fares, hotel bills, eats and entertainment, and "two hundred bucks for a bum seat" to see a fight that was a farce!

Sometimes they'll toss a $100 bill away for a tip to have a favorite piece played by a club orchestra.

You hear of all these things they do, but they don't seem to be moved by that generous and gambling spirit when it comes to taking a chance on some poor fellow who has just come back to the world from prison and would go straight if somebody gave him a living wage and would take a chance on his going straight!

What a squawk these same "game losers" would let out if they did take a chance on such a fellow and he gypped them out of a little or nothing compared to the amounts they laugh at losing in other ways!

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland, M.D.
U.S. Senator from New York

Curious Ailments That Come From the Nerves

GOOD health depends upon decent care of the body. It depends upon decent care of the nervous system. Let the strongest man neglect the rights and demands of his being and it will not be long before some physical penalty is exacted.

DR. COPELAND

The late war was followed by an endless procession of invalids. In Brussels, a few years ago, I saw a man carrying on his back the living trunk, with the head and single arm of a fellow soldier. The other members of this unfortunate patriot had been shot away.

But it was not by shell and shrapnel that the war did its greatest damage. The brain and nervous system of many a soldier suffered from the worries, the distress, the dangers, the loss of sleep and the miseries of the war. Greater harm was done by shock of nerves than by the cruelties of lead and iron.

Nervous exhaustion is responsible for many an ailment. The outside covering of the body, the skin, is often a mirror, reflecting the condition of the nerves.

There is a disease called "Lichen Planus." It makes its first appearance on the skin as a red or lilac-tinted spot. To begin with, this glistening, burnished, solid elevation is about the size of the head of a pin, not regular in shape, but flat or hollow on the top. Later, a number of these spots may run together and form a considerable patch. Sometimes the patches become rough and scaly.

The eruption may appear anywhere, but it is likely to be found on the wrists and inside the elbow, in the bend back of the knee, or the inner surface of the thigh. It is rarely found on the face or head. Sometimes it forms as a line or stripe extending from below the knee to the hip. In women the irritation of a corset may bring out the eruption around the waist. Sometimes the lining membrane of the mouth may be affected.

There may or may not be itching of the skin. At times it may be pronounced, so severe indeed as to prevent sleep.

The acute type clears up in a month or two, but the chronic form may run on for years.

I have said that worry and tired nerves are frequently responsible for this disease. The treatment is obvious. Relief from business or household cares is essential.

Right living, simple food, lots of sleep and fresh air day and night, are essential factors in the cure. Stimulants, tea and coffee should be used in greatest moderation.

In view of the obscure origin of this disease, consideration must be given the possibility of absorption of poisons from teeth, gums, nose and tonsils. Likewise, it should be made sure that the kidneys and bowels are functioning properly.

For the itching, hyposulphite of soda, one drachm to the ounce of water, will promote comfort. Bicarbonate of soda applied in a similar way may prove grateful.

Every case must be studied for its individual features. No universal rule of medication can be prescribed. The resources of the doctor are often taxed by the obstinacy of lichen planus.

For the Lovelorn -:- By ELEANOR GALE

Miserable

DEAR MISS GALE:

I have been a reader of your column for several months, but never dreamed that I would have to come for advice myself. But, I have been so miserable lately that I decided to write to you and see if you could help me. Early this summer, I met Bud. He was very good-looking and had a charming personality and I liked him quite a lot. He confessed that he was just "wild" about me, which was just his way of telling me that he liked me a lot. We had a wonderful summer because we were both strong for all athletics. He was delighted with the fact that I could swim as well and as fast as he could, and hold my own in a set of tennis, and could ride with him for hours without tiring, and yet play bridge fairly well and dance "heavenly," as he once said. To me, this seemed, not in the least unusual, but he seemed to consider it wonderful. Although I went out with other boys, I found, to my surprise, that I was in love with Bud, and since I am no fool, I could tell that he loved me, too. Finally he proposed to me, and asked me if I would wait until he finished his law course, to marry him. I told him that he was foolish to even think of such a thing. Remember, Miss Gale, I did not even consent to being engaged. School occupied a good bit of our time, and we did not see much of each other for the next 10 weeks. Then one night, I met him at a fraternity dance. He was with a very queer looking girl, and later I found out that he was under social obligations, as president of his fraternity, to escort her. He was surprised to see me there, and appeared very uncomfortable and tried to get the opportunity to explain. However, my dance program was filled, even to the extras, and I couldn't give him a dance. He called me up the next eve, to come up, but I had a date and told him that he could not come that night. This made him very angry, and he said that he supposed that he was just another "poor fool," who was getting the air, and before I could speak, he hung up. That was a month ago, and I have not seen him since. A friend of his told me today that he looks terrible, and that his mark has been getting worse and worse, since we broke off. Miss Gale, I love him with all my heart, but I see nothing that I can do. I have been proposed to several times, but I actually hate the sight of any man but him. Please don't say "forget him," for I can not. Please tell me through the lovelorn column, as soon as possible what you consider best to do.

MISERABLE.

Of course I won't advise you to forget a boy who seems so eminently suitable to you, my dear. This has been a series of misunderstandings. You are blameless, of course, but why not pocket your pride and write him a note inviting him to come to see you? You love each other and it is foolish to let this come between you.

Correspondents are reminded that all letters sent to this department must be written on one side of the paper only, and that no personal replies are ever given.

Ramona

DEAR MISS GALE:

I read the lovelorn column every day and I think your advice is wonderful. You have helped so many others and I wonder if you could help me now. Where I go to church I see a fellow whom I would like to get acquainted with, but I don't see how I can, because I don't know one person going to the church who could introduce me to him. I know he would like to get acquainted with me too, but since there is nobody in the church that knows me, he has no way of getting acquainted with me or I with him. What would you advise me to do, as I am very anxious to meet him? I know he is a gentleman.

Here's another problem, Miss Gale. For the last couple of weeks I've been going with a young man whom I like, but do not love. He says he likes me and he asked me for my photograph. I did not give him the photograph. But here is my problem: Every time he comes to see me he promises to call me on the phone at a certain time on a certain day, but he never keeps his promise. He broke his promise four or five times already. Now, do you think he likes me, Miss Gale? Another thing, Miss Gale, when he does call me he makes a date to come at a certain time, but he's always an hour late. What do you think about this, Miss Gale? Otherwise I must say, though, he is a gentleman in every sense of the word. He does not believe in smoking for girls, petting or drinking.

RAMONA.

Perhaps the pastor of the church knows this young man and would make you acquainted. It is really up to the man, though, to find someone to introduce him. Lots of men are procrastinators. Don't worry too much about this other man's tardiness. He probably means well.

Lonesome Peggy

DEAR MISS GALE:

I have been reading your advice to the lovelorn in the Sun-Tele for some time. You certainly do give good solutions to the girls' and boys' problems. For this reason I am writing you to see if you can advise me. I am a girl 19 years of age. I am considered good-looking by nearly everyone. I go to dances and parties and meet a lot of young people, but for some reason very few boys take any interest in me only as a dancing partner or something like that. I have a girl friend who is 18 and still she can get any fellow she wishes. I am very modest and quiet when I am around boys and I do not flirt or try to lead them on. I go to high school and I am in my junior year. I never go with any of my boy classmates or schoolmates because they are not what I consider good boys. I would like to get some nice sensible boy to go with, but I'm too bashful or else I don't know how to get at it. I wouldn't go with everyone as many girls do. Is it proper for a girl to let a boy kiss her on the first night she is with him? Would it be right for a girl to let her girl friend's beau kiss her if her girl friends doesn't care?

LONSOME PEGGY.

Try to forget yourself and be friendly and interested in others, and you will have more friends, my dear. Don't let boys kiss you at all.

Never an Iron on My Hair

Wherever my theatrical engagements happen to take me I could have a marcel, but I never do. I prefer my own method—waving my hair with my Wave and Sheen.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

I always keep my hair clean by shampooing once a week. I apply Wave and Sheen with a comb. You can use a brush or just your hands.

I dampen the hair with it—insert combs in the direction I wish the waves, tie a veil over my hair and keep it on for about an hour. Some types of hair require more time, some less.

The result is a soft, lovely, undulating wave. Most people in my audiences think I have it marceled. Many ask whether it is a natural wave. It is not.

You can have this same sheen no matter what method you use to wave your hair. Get a bottle at any toilet counter for 75 cents. One trial will convince you as it has thousands of others.

THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH

"The Noose" Is a Gripping Drama Full of Comedy and Thrilling With True Emotional Realism

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

GEORGE SEIBEL

WILLARD MACK, prolific and uneven as a dramatist, has come very close to writing a great play in "The Noose," which George Sharp's Players produced at the Pitt Theater last night in a fashion that would have done credit to any hand-picked road company. The drama has stark realism, gripping emotion, flashes of garish comedy, and a story that holds the audience tense to the very end. It is the most powerful and interesting thing the stock company has done this season.

And how they did it! Anne Forrest as the chorus girl Dot has a scene of marvelous characterization in the second act, and one of sincere tear-compelling tenderness in the third. Ralph Morgan as Nickie, the condemned murderer, plays with a subdued intensity that is most convincing. Gus Forbes has genuine dignity and strength as the Governor. Mabel Kroman does a bit of alcoholic illumination that provokes gales of laughter. John Thorn as the heavy villain, who gets his just deserts in lead, never waxed too melodramatic. And all the rest of the large cast—17 people are required—proved equal to the exacting demands of this nearly tremendous play.

In his first act Mr. Mack has been inspired somewhat by that fine one-act drama, "The Valiant;" in his second act there are suggestions of "Broadway," which was produced in New York a little over a month before "The Noose;" and in his third act he harks back to "The Witching Hour," one of Augustus Thomas' old occult thrillers. But he has taken all these suggestions and combined them in an admirable fashion of his own. He leaves some things unexplained—whose voice was it that was heard over the telephone to reprieve the condemned? That remains as deep a mystery as the flashes of darkness in act second, which are without rhyme or reason. We should be thankful, however, that the third act is brought to a close without any revelations, recognitions, or lovers' vows—though there is just one maudlin touch that might have been left out.

"The Noose" is a thrilling drama—act one gives you no clue of what act two will unfold—act two contains no hint of the solution in act three. Out of a score or more of Mack's plays, it is easily the best. The production at the Pitt Theater is perfect in every detail—and should be seen by friends of dramatic art as a real revelation of what a stock company can do. Few road companies could do better.

PRISCILLA DEAN IN ALDINE

Priscilla Dean, who has played the heroine in countless photoplays, is having a fling on the stage. She is appearing in a vaudeville playlet "A Broadway Cleopatra" on the Aldine stage this week. All dressed in red, she portrays a bright-light butterfly, who gets the "air" when her boy friend rises to the money class, via the bootleg industry. She was well received at the opening show yesterday. The Gaudsmith Brothers, two funny fellows, mix comedy and balancing feats in a novel manner. A couple of dogs help the act along. Frank Mullane and his daughter, Ghretta, combine humorous stories with piano and vocal entertainment, in a manner that pleases. When it comes to wrecking bicycles there's a fellow, Ritchie on the bill, who's the "wreckiest" fellow you ever saw. He finally does get a bicycle, however, that stays together long enough for him to show he is no novice as a rider. An attractive young woman appears with him. She sings, rides a "bike" and does a roller-skate act. Another feature of the bill is the act, "Dance Madness," which presents Carl Shaw and Jean Carrol, assisted by some other good steppers. The photoplay, a foreign-made production, is "The Golden Clown."

MOVIE LIONESS IN HARRIS

If you like comedy and mystery mixed into drama that offers light entertainment you will enjoy "13 Washington Square," the current photoplay feature in the Harris. The cast includesAlice Joyce, Jean Hersholt and George Lewis. It concerns a society leader's efforts to prevent her son from marrying a grocer's daughter. There is a touch of movieism in the Harris vaudeville show also—one of the feature acts being the appearance of Princess Pat. The Princess is none other than the well-known movie lioness. And one thing about this screen heroine, she does the bidding of her director, Bert Nelson, without displaying a lot of temperament. Niblo and Spencer offer a comedy skit that has to do with fishermen and fish. It gets the laughs. The Four Van Rippers present a minstrel offering—with a touch of emotional drama that harks back to Southern slave days. Hall and Moore present comedy and dance steps. There's another Moore on the bill—a fellow who talks nonsense and juggles household goods, anything from ironing boards to dishpans. The Country Club Girls offer melody. Some of the chatter and jokes heard in several of the acts at the opening performance yesterday were in rather poor taste.

GRAND PHOTOPLAY IS "WE AMERICANS"

"We American" is this week's photoplay in the Grand. It offers immigrants and war, with the conflict between the old and the new generation as its basic theme. It has its comedy moments and its tragic ones. The story, which revolves around immigrants parents and their children, who have grown-up in the new land, is unraveled in a rather conventional manner. But the acting of George Sidney and Beryl Mercer put it above the average picture. The Four Sorrentinos, singers, appear on the stage, an added attraction.

"GIRLS FROM FOLLIES" BURLESQUE IN ACADEMY

Girls, music and travesty skits are offered in "Girls From The Follies," this week's burlesque in the Academy. Fred "Falls" Binder is featured as a Jewish comedian. Gladys Clarke plays the leading feminine role. She sings and plays clarinet solos. Maris' Rae appears as a Spanish belle. Wava White and Sally Baker sing and dance. Jack Quinlan, Billy Berning and Robert Snyder have comedy parts. A curbstone jazz band contributes several selections. Hinda Wassau, "the personality girl," is an extra feature, appearing in special dances.

"SQUARE CROOKS" IS OLYMPIC PHOTOPLAY

"Square Crooks" is the screen feature in the Olympic this week. The story is about two former crooks, both of whom are trying to go straight. The cast includes Robert Armstrong, Dorothy Appleby, Dorothy Dwan and Johnny Mack Brown. The Vitaphone program present Alexander Morrison, Brown and Whitaker, in a comedy skit, and the Florentine Singers in two choral numbers.

FUN SKIT TOPS DAVIS BILL

Frank Davis and Adele Darnell furnish the brightest spot in the Davis vaudeville this week, with an exhibition of high-power salesmanship applied to motorcars by an expert whose ignorance is as comprehensive as his eloquence is irresistible. Next to this amusing pair the palm goes to Elsa Ersi and Nat Ayer, she a Hungarian singer and he a British composer—Elsa is a dainty comedienne with a good voice, while Nat has some songs with swing and humor to them. Boyle and Delia present an act of music and back talk, half of which is given from the audience in the language of Dante and Mussolini. George and Jack Dormonde offer "Scientific Nonsense," leaving you to guess where the science comes in. Two dance acts fill the remainder of the bill—Hope Minor and Edward Root, with six other professionals, in a swift-moving and colorful little revue; and at the close four of the Marathoners from the recent trotting tournament. The photoplay is "Feel My Pulse" with Bebe Daniels in the principal role.

NEW GRIFFITH PICTURE ON SCREEN IN PENN

David Wark Griffith is one of the names associated with "Drums Of Love," photoplay on the Penn screen. Lionel Barrymore is another. Mary Philbin and Don Alvarado are others. Then there is Tully Marshall too. "Drums of Love" is a triangle picture in which Mr. Griffith does all the things he ever did for the screen—and nothing new. He resorts to foggy photography as an art effect, displays his skill at handling war and gives to his picture more than sufficient Griffith detail to make an elaborate setting for a story of the love for each other of the young wife and the young brother of a hunchback South American dictator. Lionel Barrymore is both brutal and tender as the chieftain. Tully Marshall does well as a scheming and vengeful servant and jester. Don Alvarado and Mary Philbin give static portrayals of the two romantic roles. "Rah! Rah! Rah!" the stage presentation, features Johnny Perkins, rotund comic, as a fat boy of the college campus. He sings both sentimentally and comically. Louella Lee, singer and dancer; Maryland Collegiates, jazz band; the Cheer Leaders, vocal quartet; and five dancing co-eds, and college music by the stage orchestra, directed by Teddy Joyce, complete the bill.

SEVERAL LAUGH SKITS IN SHERIDAN SQUARE

Willie West McGinty & Company, presenting a act of pantomime comedy antics is featured in the Sheridan Square the first three days of this week. Songs and fun also are handed out by Wilbur Riley and Towns, in a skit, "The Boy Friend." Another skit, "On the Boulevard," is presented by Jule John Bernard and Suzanne La Villette. Ray and Kay Morris call their presentation "Songs and Peppy Music." The Three Pavans, in a act of music and dance, open the stage bill. The photoplay is "Square Crooks," which has to do with a couple of thieves who decide to travel the "straight and narrow." The cast includes Johnny Mack Brown and Dorothy Dwan.

"Mary-Grow-Round," Played In Alvin By College Boys, Gives Pleasure to Audience

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

"Mary-Grow-Round," twenty first annual production of the Cap & Gown Club, student dramatic society of the University of Pittsburgh, opening a week's engagement in the Alvin last night, gave a numerous audience pleasure in plentiful measure.

And let it be said to the credit of the organization that the laughs were well earned. Considering the fact that the boys—and all players were boys, even those in girl parts—make no pretension of being actors, gauged on the professional scale, nevertheless their efforts were of a quality to cause little quibbling.

The offering which had a week on the "road" before being presented here, is a musical comedy of the operetta type with a plot sufficiently involved to introduce all sorts of characters from a fat circus girl, whose name furnishes the title, to schemers for control of a throne, American secret service men, silly ass Englishman, sputtering German, Gypsies, peasants, etc. Its two acts are in scenes representing the exterior of a circus and a pavilion near the royal place of a mythical European kingdom.

Chief acting honors go to Douglas Hough, who, as owner of the circus and leader of its band, demonstrated that he is real comedian. No professional was ever more at ease after years of experience on the stage than this young man and his portrayal of a low comedy role was deserving of the many manifestations of approval it received. Not all of the others did their work with such artistic finish as he displayed, but nearly all performed adequately, due allowance being made for all conditions under which the production was given.

C. Fulton Tufts, as the silly Britisher, Charles Hyatt, in the role of a silent circus employe, Francis Brantlinger, as a Gypsy girl, E. Colvin Hassenplug and Herman Ehrenwerth, as Gypsies, Herbert Dent, as Mary of the title, Robert Kleeb, Joseph W. Cupp, Philip deLaughlin and T. N. Murphy all did very well.

The music, by Gus A. Schnabel, was pleasing and there was a swing and rhythm to the songs and dances that made an impression. A specialty dance by Mr. Brantlinger and Mr. Hassenplug was well liked. The chorus work was pleasing, especially that of the group designated as the glee chorus. Altogether there were 19 musical numbers in the two acts and many of them were quite effective.

Walter B. Edmundson, who wrote the book and lyrics, directed the production. Eliza M. Schnabel designed and directed the dances.

ERSKINE FILM, HOWARDS FEATURES IN STANLEY

"The Private Life of Helen of Troy," photoplay based on John Erskine's novel of the same title, is the Stanley screen feature and Willie and Eugene Howard, comedians, are the high spot of the stage presentation. In the photoplay the fair Helen, possessor of "the face that launched a thousand ships," is depicted as the kind of a woman who on being recovered from Paris by Menelaos causes the latter to be reproached with the observation "I thought you won the war!" The action is all according to history, with the Trojan horse episode and other incidents, but the story is a burlesque. It was thought some recent jokes were only a hundred or so years old, but the subtitles prove that many of them were used in Greece 3,000 years ago. There is one that wasn't. When Lewis Stone, as Menelaos, is told it is hard to lose a wife, he refrains from saying "Yes, it is almost impossible." But that kind of matter, together with burlesqued history or mythology, some nice views of classic architecture, and the appearance of Maria Corda, blonde, as Helen, Stone, as mentioned, and Ricardo Cortez, as Paris, make up the fare. The Howard Brothers score a distinct hit with their comedy and operatic parodies. Milo, a real artist in his specialty, song by the Lane sisters and dances by Jules and Josie Walton and eight stepping girls also help to make the stage acts unusually pleasing.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATOR'S HOME WRECKED BY BOMB

OUT-OF-DOORS

"IT'S FINE"

There's a suspicion of spring in the air, hooray! The kids 're out-o'-doors and grandmothers are "dyin'" right 'n' left.

MIGHTY FIGHT

Miss Spring, that charming Princess, is here and then she isn't. She's making a mighty effort to rule Pittsburgh right now, what with King Winter hanging on.

THEY'RE BLOOMIN'

NATURE OPTIMISTIC

You can fool some of the people some of the time, after dinner speakers like to say, but you cant' fool all of the folks all of the time, including Mother Nature. She's holding an extremely optimistic viewpoint of things in general and above's a picture that could have been taken any place in these her part, stranger!

IT'S 'JACK TIME'

ON THE STOOP

Perhaps your children are "playin' wif jacks, Daddy" on the stoop at home. But these youngsters are "playin' wif jacks, mister" in the streets. Spring's here and summer's acomin' so far's they're concerned.

IN FLIGHT

To go or not to go is the question, it seems, with King Winter. Princess Spring's in hot pursuit.

CHEEKS OF TAN

They haven't cheeks of tan so far, but give Spring and Summer a chance to get at 'em. Here, they're already in their barefeet and that's just a trifle bit ahead of season, on account of because it might snow tomorrow. And baseballs' again the joy of every boy's heart.

TRADER HORN

THE GREATEST ADVENTURE STORY OF MODERN TIMES

Plates of Salt Placate Some Angry Man Eaters

Music and Morals of Cannibals Among Whom He Lived Admired by Trader

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Trader Horn, 73, writes of life on the Ivory Coast of Africa half a century ago. Among the cannibals he discovers a white goddess, Nina T——, daughter of an Englishman of aristocratic family. He determines to free her. Pursuing his business of trading for ivory and rubber, Horn becomes a blood-brother of the Fans, and has wonderful adventures in the jungle. He explores sections never before trodden by white men.

New Legend of Tobacco's Origin

By ALFRED ALOYSIUS HORN

Edited by ETHELREDA LEWIS.

CHAPTER XXIV.

I SLEPT soundly till sunrise, and when I woke the sandbanks were responsible for a din of contention. On rising Renchoro and Iwolo and two repulsive tall natives, who had been waiting for my awakening, came forward. I waved them off with a smile and dropping my nightgown as nimble as a cricket I executed an armspring and somersault as I dived from the sandbank.

ALFRED A. HORN

There was a rush amidst loud laughter to the water's edge and when I came up from a long fetch (dive) and swam towards the bank there was a quick retreat of the two strange natives, who had never seen a white man before.

They had settled all their arguments and contentions and when I commenced to take my drying spin round the long sandbank and ran around them they hurried away laughing and shouting "O tangani" (the white man.)

The trouble took place over who owned this elephant, and as Renchoro had sold four carcasses, one female he came up with, and the smaller of the two bulls, the Mpangues should have been satisfied, as these two animals were lying on their side of the river. I explained this to them and took over the ball rubber they had brought and bought it from my hunting boys.

A good explanation and the gift of a few plates of salt, which is highly esteemed in this country, settled all argument.

The Okellis told me that the wild Osheba tribes hunted this country yearly and as they were a fierce tribe of man eaters, although they were Mpangues, they had chased out the original inhabitants, the Okatas, who had taken possession of the river islands farther up the river.

I was anxious to see this country, as its valleys between the mountain ranges looked beautiful when

JUNKERS SHARES CHEERS

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP.)—The three Bremen fliers entered the last two days of their New York visit today sharing cheers with the man who built the plane they flew across the North Atlantic.

Prof. Hugo Junkers, designer and builder of the Bremen, arrived from Europe to visit his son and daughter, Ehrhardt and Herta Junkers, and to study American methods of aircraft production.

He was a guest with Maj. Fitzmaurice, Capt. Koehl and Baron Von Huenefeld at several affairs given and was cheered equally with the three aviators.

The fliers joined last night with the Quiet Birdmen, a secret order of famous fliers, in a celebration at the society's "hangar" and later were guests at a dinner tendered them by the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

AUTO TIES TRAIN: JUNK

TWO DIE IN WRECKAGE

This is an automobile. It is in a garage. The automobile did not run into the garage. It was carried in on shovels and in baskets. Now the automobile will have to be carried out on shovels and in baskets. The automobile is no good. Two died when it was struck and dragged several hundred feet by the Cleveland Flyer, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, at Watt street crossing, Coraopolis.

WARREN WOMAN KILLS SELF

WARREN, Pa., May 8.—While her husband put their auto into the garage at their home near Lottsville last night, Mrs. Louis Sherman shot herself through the heart and died instantly. She used her husband's service revolver. He is tax collector and constable of Freehold township. She formerly had been a patient in the Warren State Hospital for the Insane.

GAYETY WATER TANK AFIRE

Downtown firemen were called out to subdue a water tank blaze on the roof of the Gayety Theater this morning.

Sparks from a Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive on the elevated line in Duquesne way are believed to have set fire to woodword forming the base of the steel water tank.

A throng watched firemen scale a 75-foot wall in the rear of the theater to extinguish the blaze. Loss was placed at $200.

Girl to Aid Dad Sail Balloon In Races

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 8.—The national balloon races in Pittsburgh on Decoration Day will not lack pulchritude. Today it became known that Edna Honeywell, comely daughter of Capt. H. E. Honeywell, will accompany as aide her father, who will represent the City of St. Louis in a balloon which was christened at public ceremony yesterday.

Miss Honeywell accompanied her father yesterday in a test flight which showed the balloon to be in good condition.

BROPHY QUITS SAVE-UNION

John Brophy has quit the miners' "Save the Union" Committee. The former insurgent leader says he has been forced ot give up the national chairmanship because of failing health, but declarer his sympathies are still with the cause.

John J. Watt, of Springfield, Ill., vice chairman of the national committee, is acting chairman. He was elected at the conference held here on April 1. Brophy said he resigned about two or three weeks ago.

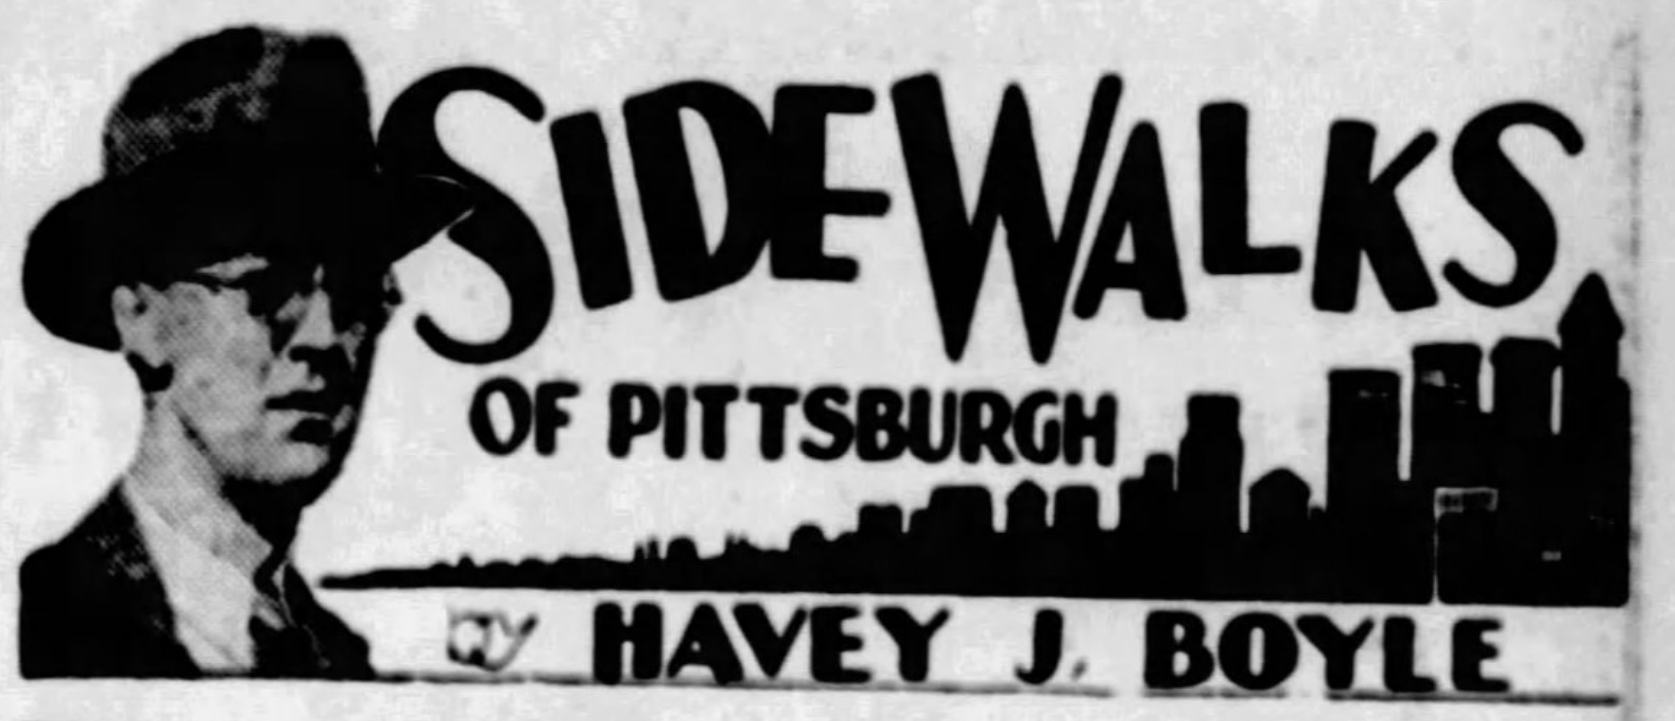
BOMB WRECKS HOME OF LEGISLATOR

DETROIT, May 8.—(AP.)—The home of a member of the Michigan State Legislature, Robert J. Teagan, was bombed here last night.

Although the lower section of the house was wrecked and windows of a score of homes in the block shattered by the explosion, no one was injured. Teagan and members of his family were sleeping upstairs, untouched by the blast.

Police, after a preliminary investigation, were unable to advance a theory as to the motive for the bombing. Teagan, who had been prominent in Republican politics of the district for several years was known to have no enemies. His legislative work was more or less confined to bills in behalf of aeronautics. He had little opposition in the district in Detroit from which he was elected, and according to police, had kept aloof from factional fights outside his district.

Teagan operated an agency for the Studebaker Corporation of America here, one of the largest in the city, and a check over persons with whom he came in contact in a business way, revealed no disgruntled names on the list.



SIDE-WALKS OF PITTSBURGH

By HAVEY J. BOYLE

EVEN the bin marked "Platitudes" has its uses. And so we lift the lid and come out with one that is even more shopworn than others. It is the one about the selfishness of humans. We get so bound up in out little world of troubles and comforts, joys and sorrows that we neglect others who deserve a better break.

FOR instance, in an abstract way, we all feel a particular debt to the soldiers who went to war and came back deprived of health—deprived, even, of a chance to work hard to make money for their children. We feel this debt, we read something like this, and, having felt duly sorry for former soldiers, we then turn to the sports pages or the comics, and in a second, after a flash of sympathy, we, human-like, forget the soldiers.

HARRY SCHREIVER came in the other day to tell about a benefit concert to be given by an unselfish group, the proceeds from which will go to convalescent veterans. The performers are donating their services, and beyond two items, rental of the hall and printing, every cent taken in will be turned over to the soldiers who need this help so badly.

THESE sick soldiers can get work in the state forests, but there is no money available to provide living quarters for them near their work. The money raised from the concert will be spent to construct huts wherein the soldiers may live. This sort of work will not only allow the soldiers to earn money, but it is the kind of work that will help them rebuild bodies ravished by the tuberculosis they contracted in the service of their country.

THE concert will be held Thursday night in Carnegie Music Hall and the tickets sell for $1. Unlike a lot of benefits, which see some of the proceeds going to the promoters as their bit, this benefit will turn over every cent realized to the boys in need.

THERE was a time when these boys marched along our streets, fresh draftees ready for the great maw of war. They didn't need any help in those early days, for they were young and strong, and just ahead was a band playing "Dixie," or a stirring march by Sousa. Some of them carried a spread-out flag, and into the flag hysterical women tossed money and somber men also contributed. But that was pretty long ago and the enthusiasm of the war-days has now died down.

BUT, unfortunately, some of those strong, young men, while never dreaming they would run into bad luck, even in such a hazardous affair (they all thought it would be the other fellow and not them) have come back disabled and here and there they note a son or a daughter looking drawn from under-nourishment. This bothers them as much as the hacking cough, which causes an anxious wife to try to hide her concern.

NONE of us is unsympathetic, but most of us are careless about such obligations. If you want to make up for past lapses a helping hand to those fellows who have been hit below the belt may bring an hosanna or two in that region where such acts are recorded and filed away for future reference.

WHEN the orator thunders of our duty we cheer and yell in approval but the noise is not enough to disturb the snooze of the angels, but it is possible that the almost noiseless flap of a check-book may sound like a thunderclap to the celestial beings who, watching the fall of the sparrow, just possibly are interested in the welfare of a former soldier.

BOARDS WARNED

VOTE OFFICIALS TO BE TAKEN IF DILATORY

Officials of election boards who served at the last primary election, summoned to appear before county commissioners to explain discrepancies in returns, had better appear. Deputy sheriffs will be sent for laggards.

Yesterday the judge of the Second district, Leetsdale, failed to answer a commissioners' summons. The return board canvassing the vote discovered 174 unused ballots missing. The commissioners directed that the judge be notified again to appear.

"If he refuses to come, the sheriff will bring him," County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong said.

Explanations of unintentional errors, made by seven election boards, were accepted by the commissioners.

DOCTOR WHO FAILED TO LIST CASE, FINED

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 8.—(AP.)—Dr. William Lober of Reamstown, Lancaster county, was fined for failure to report a patient suffering from measles, the Pennsylvania State Health Department announced. The announcement stated that the prosecution was in line with the policy of the department in its efforts to compel all physicians to report communicable diseases.

Balk on Bonds When Money Is Not Handled

County Commissioners are opposed to paying insurance for employes in the Prothonotary's and Clerk of Courts offices who do not handle money or securities.

Prothonotary John Vogt yesterday asked the Commissioners for permission to have all employes in the two offices bonded. It would cost the county $2,997 a year.

As only clerical mistakes can be made by the clerks and with no money or securities involved, the Commissioners believe that it would be an unnecessary expense to the county to have the clerks bonded. They referred Vogt's suggestion to the law department.

LEGION POSTS MERGE

The consolidation of Cantigny Post No. 166 and Victory Post No. 115, of the American Legion was effected last night at a meeting in North Side Elks' Temple, Cedar avenue. The united organization is to be known as Allegheny Post and it will have a membership of more than 500 war veterans. Oscar I. Harter, history instructor at Oliver High School, was elected post commander at a business meeting following the consolidation.

viewed from the hilltops. The Okellies offered to accompany me from their village but did not care to hunt alone.

(With a promise to Mrs. Lewis that he would be soon writing more about the White Goddess, Trader Horn makes a few observations on music and tobacco.)

"Aye, a boy adores life where music and birds are. If it's not at Gilimoss with the gulls in your ear it's up my rivers with harps o' the cannibals and the humming of the singers in the canoes. A deep sound, that, Aye, when you've heard the canoes coming along and the harp rippling over the water—

Umbrela u'oye mi koka ingela
O me Engalinga mazan chua—

Oh, those sweet sounds from the sea! A song about a seamew. Bells from the sea it's called. Quite a pretty fancy to conjure up.

"I used to sing them to my sister, the one that played the harp, and become a sister of charity. I'd walk about the drawning room putting in the pretty action of the paddles and so forth, and she'd try and catch the air as I sang. Only the harp can give those sonorous sounds that seem to rise from the breast of Nature. Deep, yet trembling, is what I'd say, with the pulse of life. A piano's always been a bit stultus to me. Aye, it doesn't breathe, same as a harp.

"I can draw you a Mpangue harp, Ma'am. A little different in shape from the harp of those Bushmen I told you of, that's the very moral of those used in ancient Egypt. With all their learning there's few people that rightly understand the strange origins of some of these barbarous races. They weren't always so barbarous.

"The old feller I knew that was official troubadour always taught the children the tribal history. He said they belonged to the Five Tribes that used to dwell near the Mountain of Three Fires. And now there were only two.

"The burning mountain had pursued and swallowed up three of the tribes. And the great chief and founder of the five tribes, when he divided them for diplomatic reasons connected with the mountain, said: 'Go your ways separately for the preservation of our race. And remember—always hunt on one bank of the river. Trust no man. Keep your women pure. Have no slaves. And tis true the cannibals are the most moral race on earth. They said he was the chief who stilled the Mountain of Three Fires so that it flamed and smoked no more.

Origin of Tobacco

"Aye, the little children are taught history same as we were. It was from the same feller they got the first tobacco plant. The Mpangwe tobacco's the finest in the world. They say this chief was born with the first plant of it sprouting from his forehead.

"I've no wish to rob Sir Walter of his reputation, but I think he made a gross error in supposing that tobacco first came from America. That poor feller was treated something cruelly by the stay-at-homes of his day.

"I shall be telling you a bit more about Nina T—— next week. A story that's founded more on fact than on fiction; has a natural meagerness here and there. But it's been in my mind to tell you, Ma'am, that if you care to do so, you can add something to the contents of that parcel I unpacked from L——. I'm not using his name.

"Better stick to little Peru. Naturally there were undergarments—all that a lady'd need. No need to enlarge upon them, but you, being a lady, 'll know just how much to say about it. You'll know what a girl's requirements would be that's been brought up in a Josh House. Aye. Not but what it was all strictly moral in the Isorga place. She was watched—better than if we'd sent her to a convent school. She never moved without an escort, or somebody with his eye on her from behind the stockade."

FINE FOR CHILDREN!

Give them a good start in life, with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe, pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath, and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely known family physician of Ohio, prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive colors. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets overcome those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 30c and 60c sizes.

The Epic of a Girl Who Had to Wait

For Revenge Mary Goes To Saxon's Studio and Steals His Plans

TEN minutes passed. A man appeared at th edoor ,twisting his face sleepily.

"Get out my car, Bill. I want you to drive me downtown now."

She flung on her enveloping sable coat and with a laugh dropped the key in her pocket.

Monday morning Saxon arrived at his office. He reached for his key and scowled. Damn curse of absent-mindedness! Go and get the janitor again.

The last day of work—a few hours to fondle over these sketches.

He went to the deep drawer of his table and for a moment stared in a spasm of madness. The plans were gone.

His senses returned and he began to search. Futile. No one would dare to touch those plans. And he had laid them with the utmost, tender care in this compartment.

With a wave of heat; of overpowering nausea he felt fingers reaching to his vest pocket—fumbling about there.

Mary Eunice sitting very close to him, stumping the cigaret on her slipper, leaning down in that suppressed, pallid excitement. Suddenly moving against him—reaching to his pocket . . .

She had taken his key.

He could not believe this. He grew dizzy with the thought. But the plans were gone.

CHAPTER LXXIII.

HE stood before that empty drawer, his heart whirling dizzily and a cold enervating sweat breaking over him.

She had taken his key. Had come down here and stolen his plans. She was that furious.

He wiped his face, growing suddenly hot with the vision of Mary Eunice flashing into this room and with still tigerish fury lifting the plans from the drawer. Carrying them off. Possessing them. His plans—his masterpiece.

What had she done with them?

He stood motionless—almost in a collapse with the alarming possibilities.

Had she destroyed them? Annihilated this achievement into which he had poured the fervor, the dream, the very life of his life?

They weren't destroyed! No! She had taken them as a gesture—to give her the whip hand.

She hadn't destroyed them. She would be afraid. She would know that he would come out and murder her.

In a choking violence he swept into the little coupe and started for the Pennings home in Jackson street. He was mentally leaping upon Mary Eunice, pressing mad fingers on her throat. In the terror of death she'd surrender.

Nearing the house, he slowed his car. He brought it to a complete stop.

He took off his hot and let the cool, sunny air play about his face. He looked, unseeing, at the houses. After vague, distorted moments, the cold reality of the situation impressed itself on his mind. Mary Eunice had taken his plans either in an insane revenge because of his refusal, or in an attempt to force his hand. In either case she was probably holding them.

And in either case he meant to recover them. By any device. At any cost he would trick Mary Eunice into surrendering the plans.

He waited until he felt cool. He rehearsed the manner he would assume.

Bill, the colored gentleman who acted in the combined capacity of chauffeur-butler, opened the door.

"Oh," said he with an affable bow, "Miss Pennings not up for two or three hours yet."

"I'll wait." Then seizing a sudden inspiration, "I'm going to look over the house for some changes I'm to make. I'll take my measurements."

"That's all right, Mr. Rhodes, you go right ahead."

"Cold ride you had downtown last night, Bill."

The darky gave a knowing grin: "I don't remember anything about that, Mr. Rhodes."

"That's right, Bill. But get me the bundle—that big bundle Miss Pennings brought out."

"Why, I never saw that big bundle, Mr. Rhodes—that big, immense bundle. I don't have any information on the subject."

"I hope you didn't throw it in the furnace."

"No, sir! No, indeed, sir!"

"Because I'm going down there now and measure the furnace room. We may change that old coal burner."

"I sure wish you would, Mr. Rhodes. Just like going into hell down those awful dark steps."

The basement was below the street level. The stairs led to the rear of it. They were steep and wanly lighted. At the foot of these was a long dismal passage between the fuel bins and store rooms. Beyond these and round a turn was the furnace.

The front basement was not excavated and ended in a cave three feet high where old lumber, children's toys, a baby buggy and a kitchen table were flung.

Standing before the furnace, where a big fire now roared, Saxon made hasty notes.

If Mary intended to burn the plans—and that would be the readiest way to destroy them—she might have had them brought down here.

His heart sank. An almost impossible task to search thoroughly this dark, formidable hole.

He pulled aside the baby buggy, looked under the lumber pile, searched the floor near the furnace for some scrap of blue print.

He felt confident that Mary had not come down alone to this forbidding place in the middle of the night. And he knew the Negro hadn't. That blaze was not feeding on his plans.

"She's got them locked up in her own bedroom. She wouldn't trust them to any one else, nor to any distance."

He went back through the lower halls, casting about desperately. The plans were bulky and couldn't be concealed in an ordinary drawer. The mere opening of a closet would reveal them.

He went quietly through dining room, living room, music room. He opened chests—examined bookcases.

After an hour and a half he sat and waited.

He tried to visualize Mary's mood. At noon her maid announced that Mary was ready.

She received him in the purple bedroom. She was sitting on the chaise lounge and very alluring in a negligee of violet chiffon embroidered in orchids. She poured herself coffee, took a sip, laughed.

"Good morning! Sugar and cream in yours?"

"Good afternoon. I've breakfasted."

She raised her cup and smiled tauntingly: "I've often wondered on the pleasure of coffee a la negligee with you, ole dear. How come that I'm favored?"

"You haven't the faintest notion, Mary?"

"I may, and then, again, I may not."

"Nice, chilly ride you had last evening?"

"I found it to my liking."

"Were you as angry as all that, Mary, because I didn't fall in with your sudden plans?"

"Eight months is not exactly my idea of sudden."

"Look here, Mary, didn't you take a rather mean advantage? You've been thinking of this marriage idea, I haven't. You spring it on me at midnight. Even if I were het up about it I'd resent having a date snapped on me without a moment's notice."

She listened with that taunting smile and took a long, lazy puff at her cigaret.

"But because I didn't happen to fall in with your mood, you rush downtown and carry off my plans. Isn't that a bit unfair and childish, Mary?"

"I wonder!"

"We've mocked marriage before without cutting each other's throats over it."

The curl of smoke vanished. She blew another to take its place. A faint hotness was creeping to her cheeks. She recalled the unconscious iron in his tone, when he said to her last night. "In what language shall I tell you so that you'll know I mean it?" Know definitely that he had never the remotest intention of marrying her!

She asked smiling and icy, "And have you come to repeat your mockeries?"

"No, I've come to get my plans."

"YOUR plans? I wonder how you figure that. I caused them to be started. My money paid for them. I think they're my plans. And since all bets are off . . . ."

"Don't be snooty, Mary. You didn't advance that fee with any tacit understanding that I was to marry you! You wouldn't stoop to an arrangement of that kind. Why in heaven's name need you?"

"No—at that time I merely believed your fiery avowals. And because I believed that you were sincere and that we would be married, I gave you the $4,000. You don't suppose I'm going around dropping my idle thousands in indigent artists' laps?

"What kind of a prime booby do you think I am? Advance $4,000 just to see you win a prize and myself a lemon? It was clear to a baby why I did it. Your acceptance of money you might never repay could be explained only on the ground of our approaching marriage. On that condition only would a man, unless he is a thief as well as a seducer, allow a woman so compromising a share in his future."

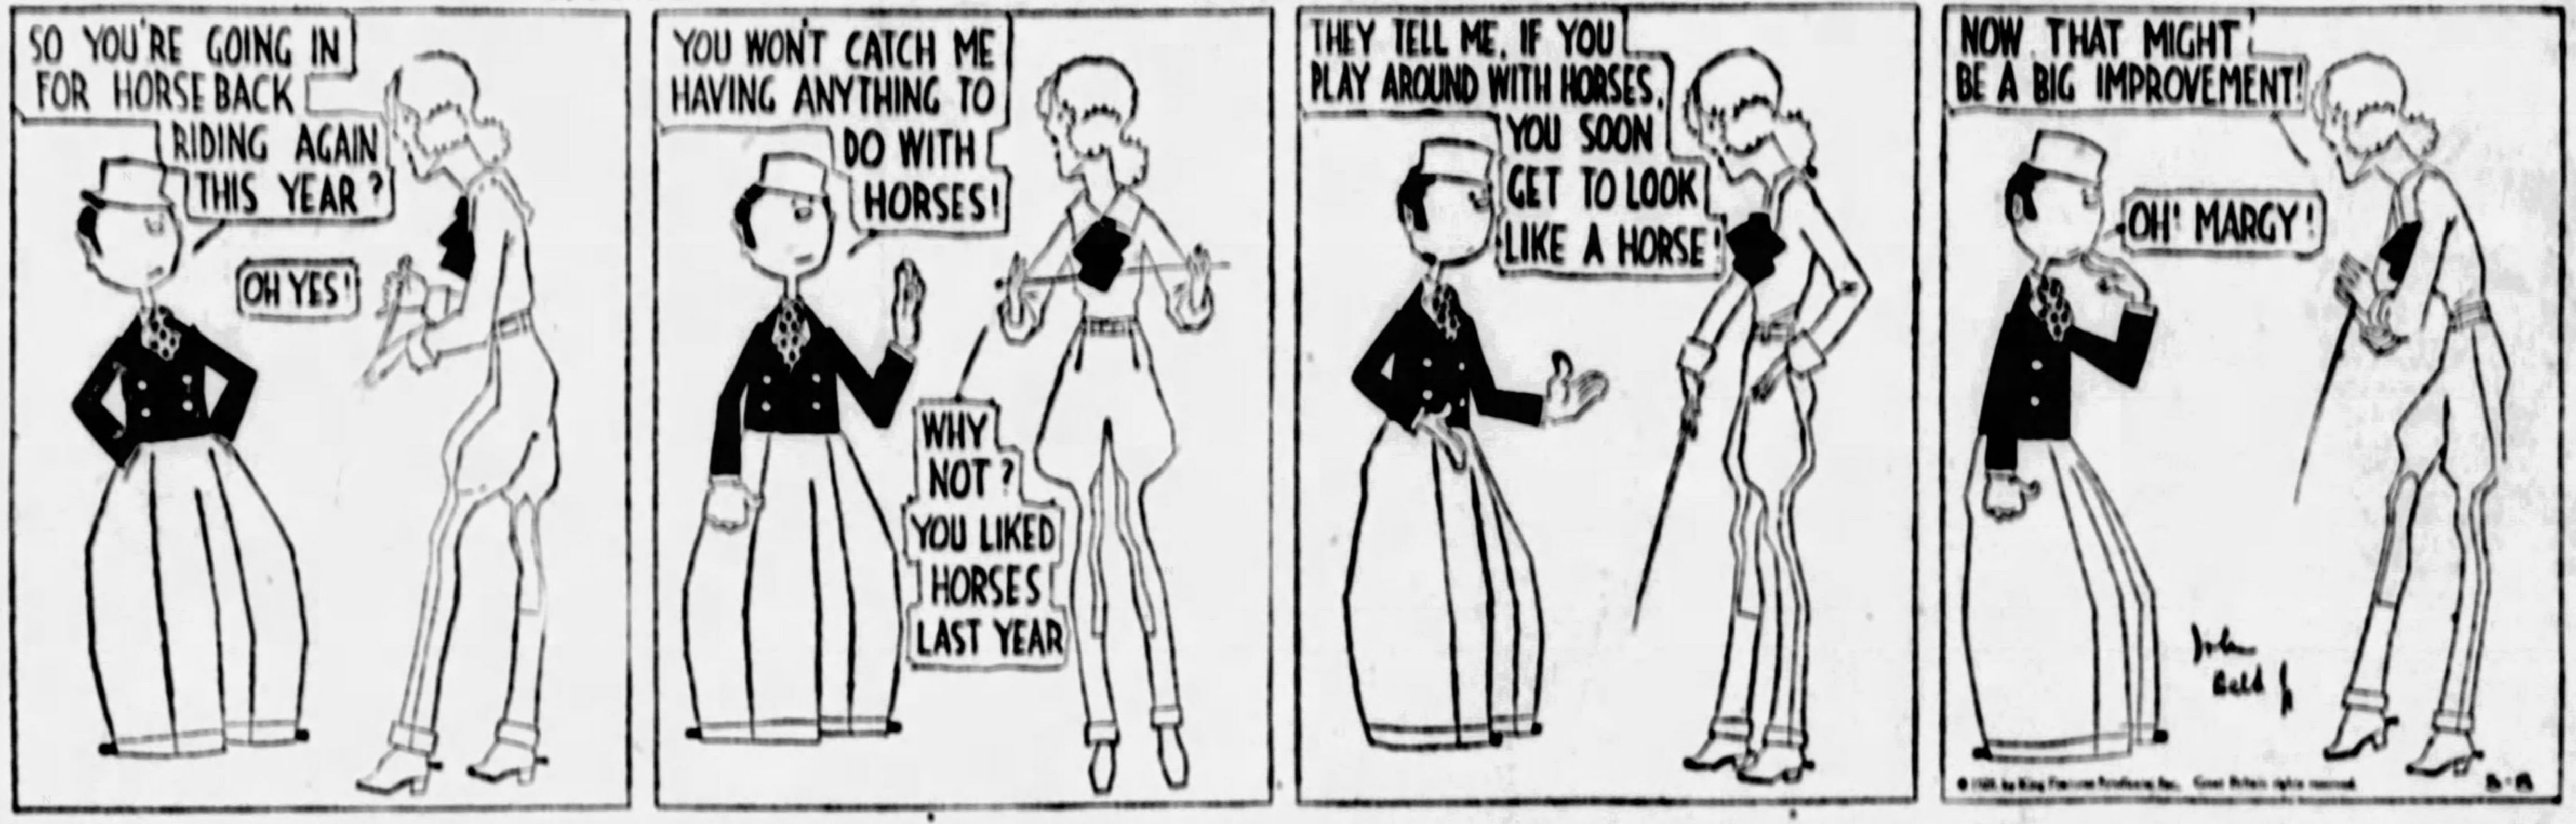
Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Story by Lloyd Mayer ·:· By John Held, Jr.



SO YOU'RE GOING IN FOR HORSE BACK RIDING AGAIN THIS YEAR?
OH YES!
YOU WON'T CATCH ME HAVING ANYTHING TO DO WITH HORSES!
WHY NOT? YOU LIKED HORSES LAST YEAR
THEY TELL ME, IF YOU PLAY AROUND WITH HORSES, YOU SOON GET TO LOOK LIKE A HORSE!
NOW THAT MIGHT BE A BIG IMPROVEMENT!
OH! MARGY!
John Held Jr

"HONestly, my dear, I'm simply SEETHing with SPLEEN at this point! I mean I'm ACtually so MAD I could BLOT BEETles and things, because ARab has me comPLETEly BAFfled and nonPLUSSED, no less. I mean he simply NEVer shows the SLIGHTest pertiNASty about ANything, my dear, because I mean he simply WON'T STICK to anything and SEE IT THROUGH, sort of, which SIMply inFUriates me, because I simply LOATHe the characteristic of FICKleness in anybody, my dear, do you know what I mean? Well, ANyways, ARab announced toDAY, my dear, that he's decided not to ride any more—can you bear it, my dear? I mean LAST year he simply RAVED about it and simply couldn't THINK of anything ELSE, my dear, but his SEAT, which was USually somewheres among the WILDflowers by the ROADside quite a ways from his HORSE, but I mean he JOINED all the RIding clubs and things and purchased the most eLABorate RIding raiment and all, so I mean it's so PERfectly riDIC for him to give it UP at this point. But I vow I NEARly colLAPSED when he confided the REAL REASon to me, my dear, because I mean he said he'd heard you got to LOOK like a horse after a while if you asSOCiated with them very long—can you BEAR it, my dear? And when I suggested that would make a BIG imPROVEment in HIS case, my dear, he was PRACticably ready to ROLL over and BUTter himself with disMAY!"

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife" By Adele Garrison

A Lull in the Activities at the Farmhouse Causes Apprehensive Speculation

THE days following Philip Veritzen's fateful interview with Mary flowed back into infinity so easily, so quietly, so uneventfully that I scarcely noted their passing, until almost a fortnight had gone by. Dicky, pleading a rush of work, did not come out for his usual week-end, and I wondered if disappointment at Eleanor Lincoln's decision not to pose for his illustrations was not the real reason for his absence. My temperamental husband is quite given to sulking when he cannot have his own way. However, as I was in no way responsible for his discomfiture, I did not let it trouble me.

I did not worry over Mary either, after those first few hours of tears following the interview with Philip Veritzen. For she emerged from that session with her soul perfectly poised, apparently happy, but giving the vague impression that she had covered all her emotions with an impenetrable veneer. One thing was obvious. She need no sympathy, wanted none. Whatever conditions Philip Veritzen had imposed upon her as the atonement of her escapade as the masked dancer and the price of her continuing her career, she meant to meet them, as she had pledged herself to do, conquering her own emotional rebellion the while with a hand of iron.

"This surely is the tranquil life," Lillian said appreciatively one day. "How long is it since we had a visitor, Madge?"

I sent my memory exploring. "Three days, at least," I answered.

"Some record for this house," she commented. "And I think I can count on less than two hands everybody who has been here since the day Phil put the shackles on Mary."

She held up her hand and began to check the names off on her fingers.

"Eleanor Lincoln, once," she said, "a bread and butter call. Young Mr. Jackson, three times, once accompanying Miss Lincoln, and twice with the obvious object of seeing Mary. Noel, once, escorted and carefully watched by his father, and Phil himself twice more upon the ostensible errand of consulting you about work to be done next autumn sometime. Two neighbors upon brief errands complete my count within the 10. Not so?"

I nodded, flushing at a gibe concerning Philip Veritzen's visits to the farmhouse, for I knew that the work he had outlined for me at the Mountain Inn needed no further attention on his part and was sufficient to keep me moderately busy all summer.

"You are eminently correct," I told her quickly. "And I think you are as glad as I am that things are so peaceful."

"They're too darned peaceful," she said. "Oh! I don't mean that I have any wild yearning for excitement, but I have a sort of hunch that this present state of affairs is only the well-known lull preceding something equally familiar to fame. We'll have excitement enough presently, or I miss my guess."

"I sincerely hope you miss it," I told her, "although I confess I share your hunch. There are too many explosives strewn around the neighborhood for us to be secure against an explosion of some kind."

"Particularly that bunch of cannon-crackers down at The Larches," Lillian agreed. "I sure shall be glad when that mystery is solved. But the way things have gone the last two weeks we shall be in our long low last homes—pipe the alliteration, old dear!—by the time we get a clue."

From down the hall came a ring of the telephone, and a moment later Katie's voice in answer.

"Yah," she was saying. "Dees Meesis Graham's house. Yah? Who? Meesis Townsend? Sure, I call her qveeck."

Proves its own Excellence

WHEN you try Modess, there will be no question in your mind as to its overwhelming superiority compared with other sanitary napkins. It is so soft and yielding, so inconspicuous, so free from square chafing sides and clumsiness, yet so absolutely dependable.

The specially woven Johnson & Johnson gauze is softened and then for greater comfort is meshed with a film of cotton. An entirely new substance is used for the disposable filler—soft and fluffy as cotton yet amazingly absorbent. The sides are smoothly rounded and shaped to prevent chafing. The soft back repels moisture. Modess is instantly disposable.

If you wish to buy Modess without discussion, we suggest that you hand the Purchase Coupon below to the sales person.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

Baseball Interest Soars, as Usual, When Giants Invade City—Pirates Hit Hard Again in Hurling Department When Ray Kremer Is Unable to Open Series—Comorosky Also Out Four or Five Days.

THE high spot of the Pittsburgh baseball season as far as it has progressed is reached today in the coming of the Giants for their first series of the year at Forbes Field.

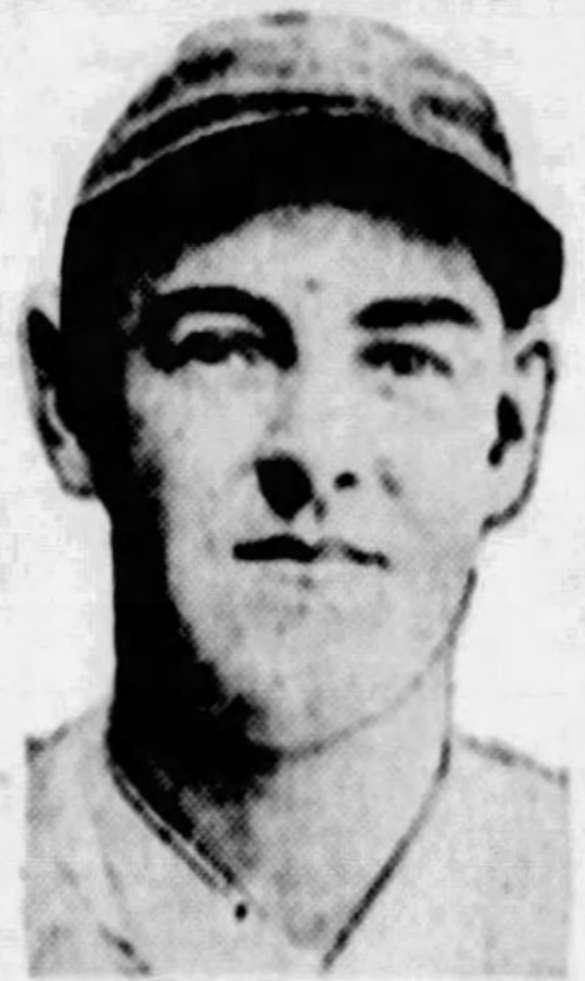
John J. McGraw.

No matter how hard other clubs may be fighting against the Pirates for position, no matter how much battling out of the ordinary they may crowd into their games with Father Pitt's entry, it takes the arrival of John J. McGraw and his colorful caravan to stir up the fans of Western Pennsylvania and to lead them to anticipate more thrills than at any other stage of the home schedule.

AT present the promise of hard fighting between the Bucs and the Giants is even stronger than usual, inasmuch as the New Yorkers have shaped up so far as Pittsburgh's most dangerous flag rival.

The Gothamites, holding first place, were only a game and a half ahead of the Pirates, in third position, when they arrived today, and there is every prospect of torrid competition during the entire stay of the visitors.

IN view of the importance of the series it was a tough break for the Pirates to find another ace out of commission. Manager Bush had planned to send Remy Kremer against the Giants in the opening game of the series today, but yesterday it was discovered that Kremer's right foot and ankle were greatly swollen, and the big Frenchman was ordered to rest the injured member for a few days. The injury is in the foot of the same leg that was hurt so severely last year that Kremer was out for many weeks. The Buccaneer boss accordingly had to switch to Burleigh Grimes for today's game, but is hopeful that Kremer will have recovered sufficiently to work in the final game against the Giants.



Ray Kremer.

CARMEN HILL is also improving rapidly and may be able to work in Thursday's game. With Joe Dawson due to fling tomorrow, and Brame, Fussell and Bartholomew doing bull pen duty during the series, Manager Bush may not be so badly off after all. One other flinger, Walter Tauscher, has been laid up with grippe and will not be able to work for several days.

The Corsairs have made a fine start in the home series against the East by winning three out of four games in the opening series against the Braves.

TRUE, beating the Braves these days isn't such a rare achievement as to put a club in line for special decorations, but when it is considered along with other things that the Bucs have accomplished recently it speaks highly for the kind of ball the Bushmen are playing.

IT is no exaggeration to say that the Pittsburgh club is playing the best ball in the National League at present. Look back over the record for the last two weeks and the evidence will not be hard to find, as it will be shown that they have won eight of their last 10 games and fought their way from the cellar to third place.

Since they began their present stay at home they have lost only one game out of seven played and it took the Braves 11 innings to beat them on that lone occasion.

THE explanation of Pete Scott's unexpected appearance in left field for the Pirates yesterday is that Adam Comorosky suffered an injury to his right shoulder in falling over a spectator on the field while trying to catch a fly ball in Sunday's exhibition game at Johnstown. The shoulder did not bother Comorosky at the time, but yesterday he was unable to raise his right arm, and it may be four or five days before he is able to play again. Scott took care of left field in fine style, making one diving catch of the kind made famous by Fred Clarke, though Pete did not go through with the somersault. At bat, Scott showed that he has not got his eye on the ball as he hoisted flies to infielders and lifted one to Brown in center in three times at bat.

Pete Scott.

BUSH'S batters are the most dangerous hitting crew in the big leagues right now and are keeping up the remarkable offensive pace that has made life miserable for many a pitcher during the last couple of weeks.

They almost made a clean round of it again yesterday, Scott being the only man in the lineup failing to hit safely.

IN their last seven games, the Rovers have made 102 hits and scored 53 runs in 250 times at bat, a club average of .408. Their hits have run into two figures in their last seven games and in nine of their last 10 games.

OCCASIONALLY in fanning bees, the question has come up, "Can a player make an error in a ball game without

'BIG SHOW' OF SPORT TO FACE BUCCOS

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

ONE or two of the big-tent acts may be missing, folks, but nevertheless we have with us today and for the three succeeding days, the McGraw circus with added sideshow features. The circus cars arrived this morning direct from Cincinnati and a little later there was activity around the Oakland district.

There is no Casey Stengel to regale us with funny chatter, no Benny Kauff with the piano legs that worked so fast; there is no Heinie Zim to stamp around the home plate like an impatient colt; alas, the fans will not see the great little Ross Young scampering around right field, and the lovers of the sport are sure to miss the revered Hughey Jennings. But the fount of the appeal that for years has made the Giants a fascinating card will be back in baseball togs and that picture alone is enough to charm the senses of the lovers of the game.

Yes, John McGraw, in many respects the greatest manager the game has ever produced and surely a man who has done more than his share to put the diamond sport on a high plane, will be in personal charge of his colorful squad of balltossers as they meet the National League champions in four fights in the Oakland orchard.

"H's out in front of them all," is

IN FULL REGALIA

Joe Dawson, Pirate pitcher, is a licensed air pilot with some 460 hours of flying in the naval air service at the San Diego, Cal. base to his credit. Right now he's dickering to buy a government plane with which he plans to do some flying around Pittsburgh.

AT MAYER FIELD

Dawson posed for these pictures at the Mayer flying field at Bridgeville. As soon as he makes a check flight with another pilot, he will be eligible to continue his aerial maneuvers.

DIAMOND STAR

Dawson has won three games and lost one for the Pirates so far this season and turned in 11 consecutive scoreless innings before permitting a run in the eighth inning against the Braves last Saturday. He also has shown great form as a hitter, knocking out a triple, two doubles and a single in his last four times at bat and giving the Pirates winning margins in each of his last two games.

MEHLHORN, SARAZEN "IN;" JURADO LOW

SANDWICH, England, May 8.—Jose Jurado of Argentina appeared to have clinched medalist honors, and Jim Barnes, Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Bill Mehlhorn, Tommy Armour and Johnny McHugh of the American contingent were certain of qualifying near the close of play in the second and last qualifying round of the British open golf tournament here today.

Larry Nabholtz of Sharon, Pa., ill for the last few days with stomach trouble, failed to qualify, and it was doubtful whether Bob Stupple, Chicago pro, had made the grade.

Mehlhorn, who set the pace yesterday with a 72, scored an 82 today for a two-day total of 154.

Bill's main idea today was to escape the possible winning of the qualifying medal. He succeeded admirably. Sarazen scored much more easily, taking a sound 75 for an aggregate of 152. H. C. Jolly, England, was runner-up to Jurado with a total of 147.

JURADO NEAR RECORD

Jurado, the lithe, little South American, provided the biggest thrill of the two days play today when he whaled his ball through the wind over all obstacles to the greens where he was putting for birdies at nearly every hole. He scored his 69 by sending a 12-foot putt spinning home on the home hole for a birdie 3. He was out in 35 and home in 34.

Jurado's 69 equals George Duncan's famous round of 1922 and is within a stroke of the course record in competition. It equals the professional record of Royal St. George's.

The 28-year-old Argentine is the smallest man in the championship. He scales no more than 135 pounds, but today he drove tremendous distances and sent most of his second shots to the greens within striking distance of the cups.

A big gallery went out to watch Harry Verdon, paired with Jurado, and remained to see the youngster from the new world outshine the old mister who had 75 for the round.

His card:

Out .... 4 4 3 4 4 3 5 4 4—35
In .... 4 4 4 3 4 4 4 4 3—34—69

Hagan's golf today was no better and not much worse than that of yesterday, but his 77 added to his 76, for a total of 153 placed him safely in the select circle. Armour

'Y' Stages Show for Cohen

ANDY COHEN, the only Jewish regular in the major leagues, and members of the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Giants will be guests of honor at the all-star amateur boxing show to be held tonight in the Young Men's and Women's Hebrew Association, Bellefield avenue, in conjunction with the "Andy Cohen Day" celebration.

Several thousand members of the Y. M. & W. H. A. occupied a special section at Forbes Field this afternoon to pay tribute to the Jewish youngster. Judge Josiah Cohen, eminent local jurist, presented Andy Cohen with a gift purchased by the Y members.

Chairman Ben H. Giffen of the boxing committee has arranged an attractive program of eight bouts for tonight's show and judging by the interest shown in the program, the spacious Y gymnasium will be packed to capacity. The complete card follows:

BORAH INJURED; TO TAKE REST

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—(AP.)—Charley Borah, University of Southern California intercollegiate sprint champion, will do no more foot racing until he defends his two dash titles at the intercollegiate track meet at Cambridge, May 25 and 26.

Borah suffered a muscle injury during the Southern California-Los Angeles Athletic Club meet here last Saturday. His right leg, while not believed seriously or permanently injured, was hurt bad enough to keep him out of action for 10 days or longer.

Sports writers believed the injury similar to one sustained by Charley Paddock several years ago. Paddock's injury was located in almost the same place but he was able, by means of having his leg taped, to run within a week.

CHILLY SAUCE

BY CHILLY DOYLE

HAROLD JOSEPH TRAYNOR and Forrest Glenn Wright are sometimes referred to as the best in the game on their side of the infield, but two young men of brilliance who can give them an argument will be on the same field with Pie and Glenn in the four succeeding aft ernoons. The reference is to Fred Lindstrom and Travis Jackson, the clean-limbed stars who guard the hot corner and the shortfield for John McGraw.

JACKSON is regarded by many players as the best shortstop in the game. Men who have played with Travis are more apt to make this statement, and they contend that one is not competent to judge the Southerner unless he stays with Jackson day in day out.

WELL, anyhow, the duel between the Pirate ball hawks and the two Giants should be interesting. All four are rangy boys with good arms. Lindstrom has been troubled with a bad back, but apparently he is improved, his play of this season being very effective.

THE Giants and Braves crossed each other's trail during the night, the Tribe being on its way to Redland as the New Yorkers headed for the Oakland Orchard. When the trains passed each other, could it be that Rajah Hornsby rolled uneasily in his bed as he dreamed of being again with a winning ball club! Hornsby may be a little lonesome for the Giants.

WITH Frank O'Doul and Bill Terry in action the Giants can show the fans one of the best offensives in the sport. In the absence of O'Doul, McGraw has other stars for outfield duty. There is Jimmy Welsh, for instance. Jimmy was a big star for the Braves of last season; he gave the Bushwhackers plenty of grief in every series. When he wasn't chucking some runner out at third or the plate he was "bustin'" line hits in a prolific manner.

TERRY is the boy who is likely to be missed. There never was much doubt as to Memphis Bill's skill at the plate, and any doubt as to his fielding ability vanished after he made one trip around the National League circuit. Terry has blossomed into one of the star gateway tenders of the game.

JORDAN COPS TOURNEY

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER.

It was a pretty tough job John J. Jordan, president of the Hotel, Club and Restaurant Golf Association, had on his hands when it came to awarding the prizes for the first regular tournament of the season for his organization — as well as the first of the year for the district—at the South Hills Country Club last night. The president usually acts as chairman at the dinner following a tourney and with the presentation of prizes goes a complimentary speech. Jordan was in the position of a man who had to present himself the first prize, and it was tough on his modesty when it came to the complimentary speech.

At any rate, Jordan came through with a net 74 in the first flight to cop the honors. Herman Koch captured the second honors with a 76, while John Weber had a 77, Frank Maggio, 78 and John McClements, 79.

The one and only Gus Dietz, and the one and only Harry Kramer tied for the leadership in the second flight with net 68's. It finally came down to a toss-up, and Kramer won the coveted prize. Russ Jennings and the popular Billy Tavano deadlocked at 72 for next place, while Jack Lloyd was last in the laurel-winning with a 74.

The leaders follow:

	G.	H.	Net.

John Jordan	94	20	74
Herman Koch	94	18	76
John Weber	95	18	77

Earl Dilks Drops Out

MISHAWAKA, Ind., May 8.—(AP.)—Tired, weary and footsore, most of the surviving 64 trans-continental bunioneers realized they were in an "iron man" marathon race today as they set out for their sixty-sixth control point, Ligonier, Ind., 40 miles east of here.

Yesterday's lap, a 66.2-mile stretch over heavily trafficked roads from Gary to Mishawaka, was the longest and one of the hardest of the 2,496.9 miles traversed thus far. Many lingered along the route for hours, cutting down their records, while two, Joe Wilson of Oakland, Cal., and Earl Dilks of New Castle, Pa., withdrew from the race.

Dilks, thirtieth in the standings, was forced out of the race last night when he collapsed about 30 out of Mishawaka. Shin splints and blistered feet, from which he has been suffering for the last nine weeks, forced him to quit.

Louis Perrella of Albany, N. Y., who is in eighth place, won the lap in 9:40:42, bringing his total elapsed time for the 2,496.9 miles to 466:57:09. John Salo, the Passaic, N. J., Finn, came second in 10:15:35, gaining on the two leaders, Peter Gavuzzi of Southampton, England, and Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla. Gavuzzi and Payne finished in three-way tie for third place with Philip Granville of Canada, in 11:29:37.

Gavuzzi's total elapsed time is 406:14:02; Payne's is 412:23:25, and Granville's is 446:48:04. He is in fourth place.

The cross-country caravan will jump to Butler, Ind., on Wednesday. Controls will be established at Toledo and Cleveland within the next few days, Charles Pyle, promoter, said.

Following are the 10 leaders and their elapsed times for 2,496.9 miles: Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, 406:14:02; Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 412:23:25; John Salo, Passaic, N. J., 439:33:48; Philip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 446:48:04; Mike Joyce, Cleveland, 458:37:59; Ed Gardner, Seattle, 461:46:41; William Kerr, Minneapolis, 463:32:00; Louis Perrella, Albany, N. Y., 466:57:09; Giusto Umek, Trieste, Italy, 476:12:01; John Cronick, Saskatoon, Sask., 474:53:18.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

by HARRY KECK
SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS EDITOR

ELSEWHERE in the sports section today you see pictures of Joe Dawson, Pirate pitcher and hitter extrawdinary, clothed in the garb of a Lindbergh.

Joe has had a lot of experience as an aviator. He saw considerable service with the naval aviation forces in California and knows his air lanes. And he also has done his share of aviating on the pitching hillock. Last Saturday, against the Braves, he was pitching a shutout for seven innings and then, after making three hits, two of them doubles, in as many trips to the plate, he took to the air in the eighth and issued three passes, after which Relief Pilot John Miljus had to come to the rescue and effect a safe landing.

BUT that wasn't Joe's record flight, according to his own admission. Some years ago he was pitching in a league in California during his off hours from the flying field, and one afternoon he was breezing along with an 8-0 lead in the eighth inning, working under a broiling sun, with the thermometer doing a Vesuvius. In the crowd was a bozo who had bet his socks on the ball game and he feared Joseph was wilting from the heat. A victory meant everything to this citizen and he informed Dawson of his predicament and urged him to partake stimulant from a bottle of the demon stuff. Dawson never took a drink in his life before, and he didn't want it, but the man who had risked all on him was insistent that he imbibe a healthy drag to pull him through with that 8-0 lead. Joe finally capitulated.

The story of Bill McKechnie's first suspension in baseball, 'way back in 1906, will be the theme of this column tomorrow. The incident threatened the disruption of a league at the time and its recollection is interesting in view of the quiet Wilkinsburger's present suspension for a run-in with Umpire Cy Pfirman at St. Louis last Sunday and the fact that suspensions have been rare in his long and varied career in baseball.

JOE was so invigorated that the first batter to face him after the draught never even saw the ball as three straight strikes zipped over the pan. Joe never in his life before had put so much on the ball.

But, then. Ah, yes, the truth must be told. THEN! The next eight batters didn't see the ball, either. Nor did the catcher. Nor did Joe see the batter or the catcher. The heat boiled that wicked stuff inside him and, while Joe was throwing at the point where he presumed the batter to be, it really was the grandstand at which he was waving. He walked eight men in a row and then the pardon came too late. The old ball game was lost.

Yes, sir, Joe is an aviator of parts. But, we are happy to relate, that was his first, and last, experience of that sort. When he blows up nowadays it generally is because he has run himself bow-legged chasing his own doubles and triples around the sacks and got himself a wee bit out of breath. For a pitcher he is one of the best batters in the game.

NOW that he has arranged for the use of Cycler Park, McKeesport, for open-air boxing shows this summer, Jim McGirr is wondering how the fans will support his project. His last open-air effort, a few years ago, was a bust, only a handful of the faithful coming out to see Mike Wallace and Ray Fay wallow through their stuff, and Jim became disgusted and closed down the plant. This year, however, he feels he will get a better response from the cash customers. He plans some shows that should have a lot of appeal, the first of them featuring a wind-up between Joey LaGrey of Johnstown, a favorite in McKeesport, and the winner of the Larry Brignolia-Phil Scello bout booked for his Palisades arena next Thursday night, when Jim will conclude his indoor season.

BRIGNOLIA, by the way, is quite a baseball player with a minor league reputation, and he was slated once for a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals. He is an infielder and his home is up around Boston, although lately he has been fighting out of Erie. I asked Larry the day after his first fight with Scello, in the semi-final to the Jack Zivic-Jack Katkish bout at Motor Square Garden recently, why he did not stick to baseball rather than boxing. He was beautifully frescoed with a black eye and bore other marks of the tough battle with Scello.

"It's a hard life, this being a fighter, even when you're up around the top," I remarked.

"And so is baseball in the minor leagues," he replied. "And the pay is better in boxing when you begin to get somewhere, and also more certain. Were you ever in a minor league that blew up and left you holding the sack, or have you been traded around from one club to another in various parts of the country?"

Perhaps there's something to what he says, at that.

NOTES of the BOXERS

BILL HECKMAN plans to return home from California the latter part of this month. The local manager of boxers has been sojourning out there several months.

Mickey Solmen of New Castle and Joe Kilrane of Johnstown, have been matched for the second bout of six rounds at McKeesport, Thursday night. Phil Scello and Larry Brignolia meet in the windup. Joe Louder who was to box Jimmy Belmont of Braddock in the semi-final, has canceled the bout because of a turned ankle which prevents him from training.

Patsy Gallagher, local featherweight, boxes Frankie Rio in a six-round bout at Youngstown tonight. Mike McTigue meets Cowboy Jack Willis at Los Angeles.

Tommy Murphy of Canonsburg meets Kid Lencho in a windup at Cincinnati, Thursday night. Young Terry McGovern of Chambersville, meets Frankie Wilson of Louisville on the same card. Bernard Kelly, Jr., of McKeesport is in Cincinnati handling Murphy and McGovern.

Arthur DeKuh and Pierre Charles will box the semi-final to the Phil Scott-Roberto Roberti bout in Madison Square Garden, New York, Friday night. Rudi Wagner, the German heavyweight under the management of George Engel, makes his American debut against Big Boy Peterson in another bout on the same card, while George La Rocco and Johnny Grosso meet in a fourth 10-rounder.

George Courtney, flashy Oklahoma middleweight, will clash with Jack McVey, New York Negro, in the main bout at the Coney Island Stadium outdoor show May 25. The bout will be for 10 rounds. In the semi-final, also a 10-round affair, Phil McGraw will engage Bobby Burns, New York lightweight.

Harry Taylor of the North Side suffered two broken ribs in the third round of his bout with Al Kindler at East Liverpool, O., last night and will be laid up for about a month. He finished gamely despite his injury and earned an even break in the battle.

The Pete Zivic-Bushy Graham fight in New York, postponed from several weeks ago, is rescheduled for next Saturday night.

SEE OPEN RACE IN PREAKNESS

FAVORITES LACKING FOR BIG CLASSIC

BALTIMORE, May 8.—(AP.)—Preakness week, which opened at the Pimlico track yesterday brought with it widespread speculation on the result of the $50,000 feature race for three-year-olds, to be run on Friday.

Among the Preakness eligibles, however, race experts and observers have been finding difficulty picking any outstanding one and their predictions are for an open race. Twenty or more of them have been undergoing thier preparation at Pimlico and prospects are that some of the stars now in training at Churchill Downs for the Kentucky Derby, to be run eight days after the Preakness, may be shipped here to take part in the earlier events.

In recently noted performances one of the best of the year was that stepped off yesterday by J. R. Macomber's Petee Wrack, flashing over the mile and one-eighth in 1:52 2-5 and a mile and one-quarter in 2:06 2-5.

Among others in training whose try-outs have been watched in the last few days are Audley Farm's Hobassela, Sagamore's stable's Night Life, the E. B. McLean colt, Toro, Seagram stable's Solace, and Broom's brown colt, Broomstick, whose success in the Hopeful has caused the Brookmeadow stable to look to him to add the Preakness to its string of prizes captured.

Preakness candidates who took the track yesterday included Salubria stable's Strolling Player, by Grand Parade, that ran well in England; Sortie, Charlemagne, Bateau, Mist, Burning Glass and Vito.

Molla to Play in French Net Title Meet

PARIS, May 8.—(AP.)—The entry of Mrs. Molla Mallory, the former American tennis champion, has been received for the French hard court title tournament, starting May 16, at St. Cloud.

The exception is that Mrs. Mallory in deciding to make another European invasion also will be picked to play on the American team which will meet England for the Wightman Cup at Wimbledon in June.

touching the ball?" The answer is that he can, but yesterday marked the first time in many moons that Pittsburgh fans have seen the thing demonstrated.

In the fourth inning, when Wright stole second and continued to third because Taylor's throw went to center field, many of the spectators probably thought that Taylor would be charged with a wild throw on account of the extra base taken by Wright.

Lee Meadows.

INSTEAD of the play being scored that way the error was given to Shortstop Farrell, for the reason that Taylor's throw had gone straight over second base and Farrell had been at fault in not being there to receive it. In such plays the scorer is given authority to use his own judgment as to whether the shortstop or second baseman should have covered the bag. In this case it was learned definitely from the Boston Club that Farrell had been given the sign to cover. The rule on the play is as follows: "In case a base runner advances a base through the failure of a baseman to stop or try to stop a ball accurately thrown to his base, the latter shall be charged with an error and not the player who made such throw, provided there was occasion for it.

IT won't be long until Lee Meadows is out there taking his turn on the mound. Lee has been out nearly all spring on account of a sore arm, sinus and teeth trouble, but he looked his old self in the first four innings against Johnstown Sunday, and after the workout at Forbes Field yesterday afternoon he said he felt no ill effects of the Flood City experiment. It is expected that his arm will give him no further trouble and that in about four days more he will be ready to pitch.

PHILA. CO. LOOP OPENS FRIDAY

The third annual season of the Philadelphia Company Baseball League will get under way Friday evening, with the Pittsburgh Railways team facing the Philadelphia Company nine in the inaugural tussle. This Industrial League includes among its players some of the best independent stars in this section and a close race is predicted before the championship is settled.

Five teams, Duquesne Light, Equitable Gas, Byllesby Company, Pittsburgh Railways, and Philadelphia Company all entries in last year's race, which was won by Pittsburgh Railways, and one new member, the Pittsburgh Motor Coach team taking the place of Equitable Sales Company, are banded together and should stage an interesting race throughout the season.

Games will be played every Monday on the Reliance Life field at Esplen, and Thursday and Friday nights on Mellon field, Penn avenue and Beechwood boulevard, East End.

Besides the league schedule games are being arranged with all the industrial and independent teams in this district. Games can be carded by communicating with the following team managers.

Pittsburgh Railways, F. C. Caldwell, Homewood Shops, Homewood. Grant 7450, Line 1517.

CHARLEROI SET FOR OPENER

CHARLEROI, Pa., May 8.—A royal reception is in store for the Charleroi Middle Atlantic League team here today when it open its home campaign with the Cumberland Colts as the attraction.

The Chamber of Commerce has set the day aside as "Charleroi Day" and many merchants have decided to close their business for the game.

John K. Tener, former Governor of Pennsylvania, and later president of the National League, has consented to toss out the first ball.

HAINES CLUB OPENS REGULAR LOOP SEASON

Jack Haines club of the South Hills, which emerged victorious in its last three starts, meets the strong Tri-River club in the opener of Gimbels' Baseball League at Warrington Park, Thursday evening. The club, being groomed by Harp Lavelle, former semi-pro catcher, is expected to prove a real threat to other league members. He always has turned out a winning team, and such stars as the Seddon brothers, Shookman and Gall, the kid battery who proved to be a sensation with the Pleasant Valley team last year, are on the roster. Teams seeking a first-class attraction call Lafayette 2317 and ask for manager.

SMOOTHER AND BETTER—NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD

Keep your present car when you buy a new car

IF YOU are planning to buy a new General Motors car, why not keep your present car for the everyday use of the family?

A thousand educational and cultural opportunities are freely offered to the modern family, and the acceptance of them is limited only by the number of hours in the day.

As men have learned that minutes lost in transit are deducted from earning power, so the American woman knows that inadequate transportation exacts a heavy toll in time—and time is life.

For this reason General Motors believes it is contributing to sound national economy in encouraging the extension of two-car ownership. Enjoy this great advantage by keeping your present car when you buy a new car; or by adding another General Motors car; or by purchasing a used car from a General Motors dealer.

Whatever program you adopt, you may have the convenience of the GMAC Plan.

Cuyler Benched Again; Injury Is Cause

CHICAGO, May 8.—(AP.)—Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, star Cub outfielder, is again playing the role of bench warmer, but not for disciplinary reasons.

Cuyler, who spent most of last season on the bench because of his disagreement with his Pittsburgh employers, is to be given a few days' rest because of a sore right hand, which has been troubling him for several weeks. It was injured in an exhibition at Kansas City when he tried to scrape a ball off a fence.

In benching Kiki, Manager Joe McCarthy pleased many Cub fans, who blame his batting slump to the injury. Earl Webb and Cliff Heathcoate will take Cuyler's place in right field.

CLUB WANTS GAMES

The management of the Jimmy Smith Club would like the managers of teams desirious of booking games on a home and home agreement get in touch with him as soon as possible. Owing to work being done on the Smith's field they will be unable to book home games for 10 days or two weeks. Decoration Day is open abroad with some out of town team. Call Hazel 1130 or write Bobby Burke, 721 Hazelwood ave., Pittsburgh.

Frosh Teams To Compete

By JESS CARVER.

THE University of Pittsburgh's varsity track and field team will make its one and only appearance in a dual meet in Pittsburgh of the season today when it plays host and probably havoc with Carnegie Tech's cinder squad in the Stadium. The Panthers will be seen in action one week from this Saturday in the Big Four championships, but today will be the only time Coach Shea will trot his champions out for dual competition.

Pitt will endeavor to keep its 1927-28 record clean by thumping the Tartans today. So far, the Panthers have enjoyed a clean sweep in all athletic events with the Skibos, winning in football, basketball and in swimming. It is even reported that in intercollegiate fraternity straight stud sessions, that the Pitt boys were able to make a pair of deuces stand up to catch the caser on the last card to beat aces and eights.

Unless Ken Webecan is able to break the Tri-State mark in the 220-yard dash of 21 3-5 seconds, or Gib Welch better his own javelin record, set Saturday at West Virginia, it is hardly probable that any district marks will be bettered. Vic Pickard is not in shape yet and will hardly attempt to set a new pole vault mark. Knoblock might be able to equal Robertson's high hurdle record. The 880, mile and two-mile marks seem secure.

In the field events, the best measurements in the discus, shot, hammer, high and broad jumps will all likely withstand any record-breaking efforts of any of the contestants.

And the crowd will hardly be large enough to drown out the folks who will gather at Forbes Field to see the Giants and the Pirates.

MUST CUT HEATS

Something will have to be done soon in the matter of cutting down the number of trial and semi-final heats for races up to 880 yards in these high school track meets. Through no fault of those sponsoring the meets, high school athletes, just at the beginning of their physical development, when they are very susceptible to strain and overwork, are being forced to do too much qualifying in the 100, 200 and even the 440-yard races.

Hank Day, celebrated coach at Washington (Pa.) High School, where he has been turning out championship teams since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, is one of those coaches who have reached the conclusion that it is silly to put high school athletes in competition where they have to run several heats before they can qualify for the finals.

Coach Day is right. There are a couple of solutions for the problem, but no satisfactory one. You can limit the amount of competition for individual athletes, but there you may check the all-around star. You can qualify only heat winners, but in that case, you force the men to run themselves out qualifying and slow up time in the finals.

Of course, in meets of two or three days' duration, where the trials are held one day and the finals the next, the situation is not so bad. But in these one-day meets, like the Pitt and Tech Interscholastics, the W. P. I. A. L. and the various sectional meets throughout the country, the sprinters are given tough deals.

With Wash-Jeff showing unexpected strength in track, it begins to look as though the annual Big Four championships, to be held here in Pittsburgh two weeks hence, will be more than a duel between Pitt and West Virginia.

The Presidents, with Slater, Amos, Smith and Walker starring, gave Bethany plenty of trouble in a dual meet last week, and some of the marks set by the Red and Black athletes are worthy of attention.

Bill Amos hurled the discus 141 feet 3 inches, a mark that is sure to be in the money in the Big Four meet. He also put the shot the respectable distance of 38 feet ½-inch. Slater went 5 feet 9 inches in the high jump, the highest any Tri-State district athlete has gone in competition this spring.

At any rate, Wash-Jeff is going to make things interesting for the boys, and if Guy Halferty can bring his team along, the margin of victory for the eventual winner will not be a wide one.

DEMPSEY CONCEDES HEENEY A CHANCE

CHICAGO, May 8.—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, believes Tom Heeney, Australian contender for Gene Tunney's crown, has "an excellent chance" of knocking out the champion.

"He will give Tunney a real fight," Dempsey predicted here last night. He and Estelle Taylor, his wife, are en route to Los Angeles.

Dempsey said his light-heavyweight protege, Arma Emanuel, may be Tommy Loughran's next opponent in a title fight.

Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan promoter, discussed the proposed bout with Dempsey. Tentative plans call for holding the fight in Detroit, July 4.

ANITA PEABODY LOOMS AS DERBY STARTER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 8.—(AP.)—Anita Peabody, looked upon with favor during the winter as a possible derby starter but lately considered out of the race, loomed again today as a probable starter and possible winner working with her stablemate, Reigh Count, Mrs. J. D. Hertz' promising filly was clocked at one minute flat for the best five-eighths of a mile trial and was leading the colt at the end of the mile.

Timers clocked the pair at :24; :48 1-5; 1:14, and 1:40 2-5. Anita Peabody dropped out at the mile and Reigh Count breezed out a mile and quarter in 2:10. Both horses appeared in excellent condition.

HONORED HERE TODAY

Sensational young star of the New York Giants, who will be honored by local Jewish admirers at Forbes Field today, although he will be unable to play because of his recent illness, from which he is convalescing. Tonight he will be the guest of honor at an amateur boxing show at the Y. M. H. A.

Americans Qualify Abroad

had to work his 79, but with 77 yesterday he had little to worry about and Barnes with 78 today and 74 yesterday was in good position.

The sick Nabholtz used up 84 strokes today, four more than he needed yesterday, while Stuppe's 80 today was a stroke under his score of the first round. It was thought that 160 might be the highest qualifying score with a bare chance that there might be ties at 161.

Si Newton played good golf today, but his return to form was too late. His 76 in the second round with 93 yesterday added up 169, far too many strokes to permit him to remain in the competition.

JOSE JURADO LEADS

H. C. Jolly, British pro, took the lead in the early qualifiers with 73 today. He had 74 yesterday, so his aggregate of 147 loomed large on the scoreboard, until Jose Jurado, the Argentine, came in with a sensational 69 for an aggregate of 144.

Archie Compston and Walter Hagen, who fought out a one-sided golf battle at Moor Park, with the odds all in favor of the Britisher, were all even in qualifying scores. Compston took 76 today and 77 yesterday, while "The Haig" reversed the scoring.

Hagen was one of the earliest starters and began indifferently. However, he pulled himself together after the first few holes and by the time he reached the ninth was moving along like the Hagen who won the British title in 1922 and 1924. Walter reached the turn in 36, two over the very difficult outgoing par of St. George's, and then started back with a par at the tenth and eleventh.

But he forthwith lost control of his approach shots and, visiting half the bunkers on the course, finally staggered home in 41 for an 18-hole total of 77. His card:

Out .... 5 4 4 4 4 3 5 3 4—36
In .... 3 4 5 5 6 5 3 5 5—41—77

ARMOUR TROUBLED

Armour was uneasy with his woods, but played his irons with characteristic punch and fine direction. At the second his tee shots went into the rough and he took three putts for a 6. On the twelfth he took three to reach the green and then three putts to sink the ball. On the sixteenth he pulled his drive into the rough and took three to reach the green for his third 6.

Armour's card:

Out ..... 4 6 3 4 4 5 5 4 4—39
In ...... 4 5 6 4 2 4 6 5 4—40—79—156

Barnes didn't exactly get away winging. He went a stroke over par at each of the first and second holes, where the wind carried his ball off the line. Jim, however, came back with a birdie 2 at the short third by sinking a sizeable putt, but at the fourth, he missed a 3-footer, after pulling his drive off the fairway.

From this point to the ninth, Barnes experienced the almost universal difficulty of controlling his approaches in the wind, being either over the green or short of it, according to whether he had a following wind or a head wind. He played carefully and steadily over the home-coming nine in 37 strokes.

Barnes' card:

Out .... 5 5 2 6 4 5 5 4 5—41
In ..... 5 4 5 4 2 4 4 5 4—37—78—152

Nabholtz fought bravely around Prince's course, but the illness which has been bothering him was too great a handicap. He was out in 41.

Three putts on the eighth cost him a 6. Then he got another 6 on the twelfth where he was bunkered and still a third 6 on the seventeenth where he again took three putts to sink the ball.

In all, Nabholtz had seven 5's and three 6's on his card and only once—on the short third—was he able to get better than a 4.

His card follows:

Out .... 4 5 3 4 5 4 5 6 5—41
In .... 4 5 6 4 4 4 5 6 5—43—84

Sarazen played good golf to get his 75 over the difficult Prince's course. He sent an iron dead to the pin at the sixth and although bunkered at the fifteenth, he chipped out perfectly and got a six-foot putt down for a 4. His drive was so long at the sixteenth that his mashie niblick carried beyond the greens.

Sarazen's card:

Out ..5 5 3 4 3 4 4 4 5—37
In .. 4 4 4 5 3 4 4 5 5—38—152

MEHLHORN WILD

Wild Bill Mehlhorn was in one of his fildest moods on the second nine today. Out in a creditable 38, he started leaving the course on the eleventh where he hooked his tee shot into a bunker and sent his second over the green. He was short with his third and needed four to get on. He was finally down in six. He was saved from a much worse score than his 82 by his good putting. He took three putts on only one green—the thirteenth.

Mehlhorn's card:

Out .... 5 5 4 2 3 5 5 3 5—38
In ...... 5 6 4 4 4 5 5 7 4—44—82—154

McHugh, California amateur, took 80 today for a total of 157 after 77 yesterday. He was safe to continue in the competition. The San Francisco lad started with a six and had two others before he got around. He battled wind and rain and had a taste of what English Channel weather can be. A downpour started soon after he teed off and the rain continued with more or less severity throughout his round.

McHugh's card:

Out .... 6 4 3 5 4 4 6 5 4—41
In ...... 4 6 4 5 5 4 3 4 4—39—80—157

Pitt Net Stars In Two Wins Over Tech

McGrawmen Face Pirate Crew

the remark passed by famous managers and players of the National League in commenting on the leader they all love to defeat on the diamond. The average man of baseball, especially those who have played the game, wish to be fair and their sense of honesty constrains them to take off their hats to McGraw.

M'GRAW FAIR MAN

The friend of the lowly who play the game, John McGraw has never allowed his transactions in the councils of the sport—a seat he fills through his official capacity—to sway his fair dealings with the athletes.

It is good, then, to see McGraw keep the spirit of baseball in his heart. For the past 10 years he has been combating the tremendous popularity of the Yanks, whose favor rests upon the Ruthian rock. Prestige counts in every town supporting rival teams and it has been McGraw's Herculanean task to try to keep the National League prosperous in New York City. That the Giants are still good drawing cards is a compliment to their long-time leader.

The Polo Grounders will present a rather weakened front as they face the Buccos for the first time this season. Six or seven of McGraw's stars have been indisposed and it is believed that both Bill Terry and Andy Cohen will be missing from the lineup in today's game. If they are out, their places at first and second will be filled by Andy Reese and Melvin Ott.

Regardless of the complexion of the New York lineup, Cohen will be honored this afternoon and tonight. Many Jewish folks will be in the Oakland orchard to pay the popular infielder a tribute, while tonight he will be honored at the Y. M. H. A. quarters in Bellefield.

Burleigh Grimes, one of McGraw's slab aces, is due to face his former buddies in the opener. Virgil Barnes is likely to oppose the spitball star.

TESTIMONIAL TONIGHT

A testimonial dinner to Dr. Robert L. Anderson will be held in the clubhouse of the South Hills Country Club tonight. More than 200 persons are expected to attend.

Manufacturer Calls Some Industries Undermanned

By B. C. FORBES

IS there a shortage of men in some industries? One employer writes that there is.

Letters continue to pour in dealing with various phases of employment and unemployment—giving jobs to married women, on denying jobs to men of 40, etc., etc.

A. G. GULBRANSEN, of Chicago, president of his own piano manufacturing company, writes:

"I have been very interested to read the suggestions sent to you to relieve the present unemployment in the United States.

"In my opinion, there is a good deal in the way of adjusting to be done, as well as bringing about changes in fundamental conditions. The development of so many new industries has had the effect of taking workers away from old-established industries. Tens of thousands of them have flocked to the newer lines of business.

"While some industries have a surplus of man-power, others are seriously deficient in numbers.

"I have sent out a plea for 100,000 salesmen for the piano business.

"It is very seriously undermanned. This propaganda has been going on for months, for there is a real demand for salesmen, and particularly for new sales blood, in the piano business.

"Our company has been calling the dealers together at regional meetings, held at considerable expense at various points of the country, to bring this serious lack of man-power forcibly to the attention of the trade and to devise ways and means of overcoming it.

"In our business the lack of an adequate number of salesmen is at the bottom of one of those circles of circumstances: Inadequate selling has reduced the output; reduced output has cut the number of factory workers and this, again, has its effect in reduction of their buying power, affectin- the general situation.

"Possibly there are other industries in the same position. If there were some means of calling public attention to them and the opportunities existing there, it might do much to relieve the situation."

CLEMENT SCHWINGES, president of a New York organization "to enlist the goodwill of employers in behalf of the qualified middle-aged applicants," writes, in part:

"Useful and contented producers and consumers are being converted into drones of one kind or another. Many of them solve their problem by committing suicide, others drift into crime or charity. Thousands and thousands join the ranks of those who, under one 'ism' or another, see the panacea in the destruction of our social order. In other words, business is creating another thorn in its own flesh through its short-sighted policy of discarding experience, sedateness and matured energy and replacing it by frothy 'pep.' What brought the unions into being? Short-sightedness in another direction."

COMPULSORY insurance against unemployment is advocated by one correspondent, Robert W. Keenan, who writes:

"The general conditions existent today prove one thing, i. e., our present economic system is practically unsound.

"Sound economics, as the majority of us would like to interpret it, is a steady, unbroken reign of contented, constantly employed humanity, proud to be called the working masses. Our present-day system stands for discontent, restlessness, and in many instances, a growing tendency to actively rebel against the system the working people cannot understand.

"There is one thing which our government could do, and that is to have a compulsory system of employment insurance, the payment of premiums and the attendant details to be decided by the government."

It is so easy for those of us who are comfortably circumstanced to become indifferent to the heartaches of those who are not comfortably circumstanced.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 8.—Reports of improving weather conditions in the south led to rather sharp reactions from an early advance in the cotton market today and after showing net gains of about 22 to 30 points, prices were 12 to 15 points net lower. The decline brought in renewed buying promoted by complaints that low temperatures had caused a further delay in the new crop start and the market steadied up again. Mid-afternoon prices were about 18 to 20 points net higher.

Relatively firm Liverpool cables were a contributing factor on the upturn, which carried prices up to 21.70c for May and 21.48c for October, but the advance met a good deal of realizing and the market showed reactions of 8 or 10 points from the best by the end of the first hour. Part of the buying was attributed to the replacing of long contracts which had been liquidated last week and covering by recent sellers for a reaction.

Liverpool cables reported local, London and continental buying on the rain news from the South, but said the advance was checking business in cotton cloths.

Realizing and selling for a reaction became more active after publication of the official forecasts for clearing and warmer weather in the Eastern belt. May sold off to 21.40c and October to 21.10c, net declines of 7 to 12 points, but the market was quieter and several points up from the lowest at midday.

RATE INCREASE CHECKS RISE OF STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP.)—Resumption of a broad upward movement of prices in today's stock market was checked by a marking up of the call money rate from 5½ to 6 per cent. Early gains of 1 to nearly 12 points in the industrials were cut down and some of the recent favorites sold 3 to 4 points below yesterday's final quotations, but the rails pressed forward under the leadership of the high grade dividend payers. Trading was again in large volume with the ticker half an hour or more behind the market.

Banks called $25,000,000 in loans by early afternoon. Although a large volume of out-of-town funds was attracted by the higher renewal rate, the supply proved inadequate. The call rate was raised in the early afternoon. Operators for the rise derived some encouragement from the report that the current demand for pig iron in this district was the largest in months, and that gasoline consumption was rapidly increasing in volume.

Failure of the directors of the New Haven Railroad to authorize a dividend at today's meeting was somewhat of a disappointment, although it was made plain when a special payment of $1 was declared three months ago, that such action did not signify a continuation of such payments unless earnings and prospects warranted.

Erratic fluctuations took place in Radio, which recorded a sensational advance of more than 20 points in yesterday's wild session. The stock opened 2 points lower at 203, rallied to a new peak at 209, broke to 201½ and then rallied several points. Curtiss Aeroplane continued its sensational advance by climbing 11½ points to a new top at 134¼, but Wright, after touching a new peak at 165, turned heavy. Ludlum Steel, National Bellas Hess, Cuba Company and Victor Talking Machine sold 4½ to 6½ points higher.

Heavy profit taking took place in General Motors from the start, the stock selling down 4 points. International Telephone, Adams Express and Dupont also yielded 3 to 4 points on realizing. Oils were heavy from the start, Houston reacting 3 points and Standard Oils of New York and New Jersey, Atlantic Refining and several others slipping a point or more.

Chief interest in the rails was divided between Union Pacific, which crossed 204 for the first time since 1910, and Canadian Pacific, which sold above 223 for the first time since 1913. Rock Island touched a new peak at 119 and Reading, New York Central, Wabash, Baltimore and Ohio and several others moved up a point or two.

The closing was heavy. Individual stocks managed to breast the current of selling orders, particularly Reading, which got above 116 to a new high for the year. Montgomery-Ward also was conspicuously strong, but the general run of shares sagged on realizing and short selling in consequence of the stiffer money rates. Total sales approximated 4,000,000 shares.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, May 8.—Influenced by Liverpool quotations lower than due and by favorable crop reports from Kansas, wheat prices here tended downward early today. Much of the time, however, traders showed a disposition to await tomorrow's government report from Washington. Opening ⅛@1⅛c off, wheat later kept near to the initial limit. Corn and oats were also easy, with corn starting ⅛@⅜c lower and subsequently undergoing but little change. Provisions slanted upward.

Accompanying weakness of the Liverpool wheat market today which found reflection here were reports of large arrivals of wheat in Great Britain and of increasing stocks there. Advices were also received that European crops were improving. These bearish reports, though, were offset to some extent by word of unsatisfactory labor conditions in Argentina likely to interfere with the movement of wheat.

Kansas official reports today told of material improvement in the crop outlook for winter wheat in that state. On the other hand, dry conditions in spring crop territory northwest aroused misgivings in some quarters. Temperatures as high as 90 were reported and Sioux Falls, S. D., dispatches told of dust storms, with the soil blown down to roots in fields where soil is light.

SECOND FIRE COMPANY IS FORMED AT WAYNESBURG

WAYNESBURG, Pa., May 8.—A second volunteer fire company has been organized here as a result of numerous calls from rural sections to fight brush fires. The company is to be known as the Greene County Memorial fire company.

UPBRAIDED BY SPOUSE, PURITAN MAN ENDS LIFE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 8.—Andy Kopach, 49, of Puritan No. 3, shot himself to death yesterday following an argument with his wife. The wife found her husband's lifeless body, police say, after she had upbraided him for drinking.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

National Transit Deliveries.

The National Transit Company's April deliveries of oil to interior refineries will probably set a new record for all time, F. D. Williams, president of the company, said at the annual meeting. Williams also said runs of oil through what was formerly the Pure Oil pipe line system were now averaging 1,000 barrels daily, several hundred barrels more than at the close of last year. Officers and directors of the company were re-elected.

Mellon Bank Adds to Surplus.

At a meeting of the directors of the Mellon National Bank $500,000 was added to surplus account, making it $10,500,000. The total capital and surplus now is $15,000,000.

Crude Oil Output Jumps.

United States daily average crude oil output for the week ended May 5 was 2,455,054 barrels, or 50,607 barrels over the week preceding, according to the Oil and Gas Journal. Light oil output gained 18,661 barrels.

Straus Extends Field.

S. W. Straus & Co. announce an enlargement of their field of loan activities to include, in addition to the origination of real estate bond issues, the financing of industrial, public utility, municipal, state and foreign loans.

Jewel Tea Sales.

Sales of Jewel Tea Company for the first 16 weeks this year were $4,655,124, an increase of $242,661 over the same period of 1927.

Newberry Company.

Sales of J. J. Newberry Company for four months this year rose to $4,325,252 from $3,080,417 a year ago, a gain of 40.4 per cent.

Peoples Drug Stores.

Peoples Drug Stores had sales of $3,298,965 for the four months, an increase of $837,265.

Middle West Utilities.

Growth of the Middle West Utilities Company was outlined by Martin J. Insull, president. "The company's acquisition of the National Electric Power and National Public Service properties, which are located largely on the eastern seaboard," he said, "has served to solidify further the companies' operations in several sections, while at the same time giving a broader geographic diversity to its interests. Subsidiaries of the Middle West Utilities Company now operate in 30 states, as compared with 19 states at the end of 1927, and serve 3,389 communities instead of 2,064. This has resulted in a substantial increase in gross revenues, the first quarter's results indicating annual gross revenues in excess of $140,000,000."

ITX in Mexico.

International Telephone and Telegraph Company is offering to purchase from stockholders of the Mexican Telephone and Telegraph Company common stock at $3 a share, and non-cumulative preferred stock at $5 a share, through the International Telephone Securities Corporation.

A. T. & T. March Earnings.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company reports for March operating income was $3,294,000, against $3,386,000 in March, 1927, and for three months $9,316,000 against $10,195,000.

Soft Coal Output Moves Up.

Soft coal production during the week ended April 28 totaled 8,187,000 tons, the highest level in four weeks, and compares with 7,917,000 tons the preceding week and 8,424,000 tons in the 1927 week, according to the Department of Commerce.

Ingot Output Sets Record.

April steel ingot output totaled 4,302,573 tons, a new high daily rate, comparing with 4,507,520 tons in March and 4,127,333 tons in April, 1927, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute. Daily average production was 172,103 tons for April, the new record, compared with 166,945 tons in the 27 working days of March and 158,744 tons in 26 working days in April, 1927.

Sheets Reduced at Cleveland.

Galvanized sheets have been reduced $2 a ton to 4.50 cents at Cleveland. As yet the cut has had no appreciable effect on sales, according to reports.

International Nickel.

International Nickel Company reports for March quarter consolidated net income was $2,107,920 after depreciation, federal taxes, etc., equal after preferred dividends to $1.19 on 1,673,384 common shares, against $1,881,228 or $1.04 a share in the preceding quarter and $1,407,707 or 76 cents a share in the first quarter of 1927.

Chilean Nitrate Price Fixed.

A Central News dispatch from Hamburg says the Nitrate Association, on instructions from the Chilean government, has informed producers that they must not sell nitrate for Chile lower than 16 shillings 4 pence per metric quintal for May-June shipment throughout the coming nitrate year.

Syndicate Management.

"Ten Points for the Syndicate Manager in Connection with New Investment Offerings," is the title of a brochure published for distribution by Rudolph Guenther-Russell-Law, Inc., financial advertising agency, New York.

Locomotive Shipments Off.

April shipments of railroad locomotives from principal manufacturing plants totaled 46, as against 70 in March and 98 in April, 1927.

Borg-Warner Consolidation.

Plans for the consolidation of the Borg & Beck Company of Chicago, the Warner Gear Company of Muncie, Ind., the Marvel Carbureter Company of Flint, Mich., and Indianapolis, Ind., and the Mechanics Machine Company of Rockford, Ill., with combined assets of approximately $15,000,000, have been completed. This merger is said to be the first step of a plan to bring together some of the largest manufacturers of automotive parts in the country. The consolidation is to be effected through the organization of a holding company to be known as the Borg-Warner Corporation, whose securities will be issued in exchange for those of the constituted companies. The new company will have an authorized issue of $3,000,000 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, of which $3,500,000 worth is to be issued, and 500,000 shares of no-par common stock, of which 410,000 shares are to be issued. It will have no funded debt. The consolidated companies, through its subsidiaries, will supply most of the important automobile manufacturers in the United States. Net earnings of the combined companies last year were in excess of $3,000,000.

Newton Steel Financing.

The Union Trust Company of Cleveland and R. W. & R. V. Mitchell & Co. are offering $2,250,000 Newton Steel Company 6 per cent cumulative, $100 par value, preferred shares at par and accrued dividends, to yield 6 per cent. Proceeds of the sale of this stock will be used for retirement on July 1 of $538,500 of 7 per cent preferred stock, and the remainder for plant improvements.

Hudson Bay Mining.

With the completion of the Manitoba Northern Railway extension to Lake Flin Flon, the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company, Ltd., will have direct rail outlet which is expected to save the company hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in ore. Work on the extension is being rushed with all possible speed and upwards of 60 miles have been completed. Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company has 18,000,000 tons of copper, gold and zinc ore on its claims developed by shafts and underground workings, according to Vice President R. E. Phelan, who is chief engineer of the company. There is a continuous body of ore about one mile long with a maximum width near the surface of 300 feet.

Building Activity Holds.

Construction contracts awarded last week in 37 states east of the Rocky Mountains totaled $195,526,800, an increase of almost 25 per cent over the week before, bringing the total this year to May 4 up to $2,240,867,000, F. W. Dodge Corporation reports. The daily average was $21,341,600 against $20,444,100 in the first five months last year. The week's largest award was for a $10,000,000 bank and office building in Chicago.

Union Pacific Outlook.

April gross revenues of the Union Pacific were close to $700,000 ahead of last year and net operating income was about the same, Carl R. Gray, president, reports. May loadings are ahead of last year. The crop outlook, he said, was as good as last year at this time. There has been some winter killing of wheat in Western Nebraska and Western Kansas, but the outlook in Washington, Oregon and Idaho was promising. General business in California, Oregon and Washington was good and the wheat acreage in the road's territory would be about as large as last year.

White Eagle Oil Sales.

White Eagle Oil April station sales were 7,550,000 gallons against 6,030,000 last year. Total sales for four months were 25,500,000 gallons against 23,500,000 in 1927, up 7½ per cent.

"Buy-Me-Something—Anything."

Many professional traders have been less fortunate in their market operations than rank amateurs. One brokerage house reports that 75 per cent of the firm's customers who have been trading for years have lost money over the last several months, while 75 per cent of its customers from the outside, who are supposed to know little about the fundamentals that make a stock move up and down, have made money.

School District Bonds.

School district of Pittsburgh will receive until May 22 bids for $1,50,000 3½ per cent bonds maturing serially May 1, 1929, to 1958. The school district will submit a bid for the entire issue, and if awarded the bonds will be purchased for the sinking fund, pension fund and fire insurance fund of the school district.

Freeport Texas Sulphur.

Freeport Texas Company states that earnings for quarter ended February 29, 1928, were largely affected by decline in export deliveries during the quarter. A reduction in foreign deliveries is seasonal to some extent, but was emphasized during the quarter. Deliveries, however, were delayed and do not reflect a falling off in tonnage for the year. Domestic deliveries have shown an increase. Total commitments to date on export business show an increase over the same period a year ago and for the fiscal year ended November 30, 1928, it is expected that foreign and domestic shipments will equal or exceed last year. For quarter ended February 29, 1928, net income was $405,160 after expenses, depreciation and taxes, equal to 55 cents a share on 729,844 shares of stock, compared with $718,852 or 98 cents a share in the corresponding quarter a year ago.

Texon Oil and Land.

Report of Texon Oil and Land Company and subsidiaries for year ended March 31, 1928, shows net income of $551,496 after intangible drilling costs, depreciation, depletion, federal taxes, etc., equivalent to 11 cents a share (par $1) earned on 4,554,724 shares of stock. Consolidated income account for year ended March 31, 1928, follows: Gross income $2,727,545; operating income $1,170,141; non-operating income $618,494; total income $1,788,635; drilling costs, abandoned leases, loss on sales of capital assets and federal taxes $162,817; depreciation $586,489; depletion $504,834; net income $551,496. Consolidated balance sheet of Texon Oil and Land Company and subsidiaries as of March 31, 1928, show total assets of $26,025,876 and surplus of $15,991,375, while current assets totaled $1,621,050 and current liabilities $363,768.

Alabama Gasoline Raised.

Standard Oil Company of Kentucky has advanced the price of tank wagon and service station gasoline 1 cent a gallon throughout Alabama.

Business Picture Mixed.

"Business, taken as a whole," says the American Bankers' Association, "displays numerous bright spots of prosperity, mixed through the entire range of shades down to the dark shadows of depression. Reports of particular industries and individual companies for the first quarter are similar to results obtained last year. They emphasize the impression that a new business cycle is prevailing. It is a major cycle of stability, made up of many smaller cycles of good, bad and indifferent business, which in the aggregate tend to practically offset each other. It is a cycle of frequent but moderate corrections, in contrast with the old swings which occurred every seven years or so, on the average, and carried all business up and down together. Nothing approaching a general depression is considered likely, provided the movement of the various elements making up the business structure can be kept within reasonable limits."

National Surety Company.

Pamphlet report of National Surety Company for year ended December 31, 1927, shows net income from operations of $1,956,117 after charges and reserves, while appreciation in securities (after New York Indemnity Company depreciation of $706,118) was $1,024,865, making total net income of $2,980,982 from which dividends amounting to $1,250,000 were paid, leaving balance of $1,730,982. Capital stock amounted to $15,000,000, surplus to $10,000,000 and undivided profits to $2,344,357, making total for these three items $27,344,357.

Loewenstein in U. G. I.

A. W. Thompson, president of United Gas Improvement Company (Philadelphia), confirmed reports of buying United Gas Improvement stock by Alfred Loewenstein, Belgian banker for his associated interests. Total Loewenstein holdings of United Gas Improvement stock are well in excess of $3,000,000, Mr. Thompson believed. Some of this stock was accumulated more than a year ago. The hydro-electric power plant at Conowingo was one of the principal interests that brought Captain Loewenstein on his present visit, Mr. Thompson said. After seeing the Conowingo plant he expressed his intention of buying more United Gas Improvement stock.

No Action on New Haven.

Directors of New Haven Railroad today took no action on declaring a common dividend. Directors on February 14 declared a "special" dividend of 1 per cent at that time it was officially stated that that dividend was not for any fixed period.

Delaware and Hudson Coal Bonds.

L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Company, said it had been suggested that the cash received from the sale of the Lehigh Valley and Wabash stocks might be applied to the retirement of $35,000,000 Hudson Coal Company bonds. This issue, however, carries a sinking fund and it will be retired by the time of its maturity in 34 years. This would make it more desirable to retire the bonds in that manner than to pay them off at this time.

WEST WASHINGTON REDUCES TAX LEVY

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 8.—West Washington Borough Council at a meeting yesterday fixed the 1928 tax levy at 13 mills, a reduction of 1 mill over last year's levy.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP.)—Trading continued dull in the bond market today, with prices firm. Most of the buying was attracted to Third Avenue adjustment 5s, which with other New York Tractions likely to seek a fare increase, improved fractionally. Interborough Rapid Transit 5s and New York Railways Income 6s, however, showed small declines.

Price changes generally were small in the railroad group, with most of the demand appearing for the St. Paul issues, St. Paul & Kansas City Southern 4½s and St. Louis & San Francisco 4½s. Hudson & Manhattan Refunding 5s, Mobile & Ohio 4½s and Baltimore & Ohio first 5s sagged.

Anaconda and Andes Copper 7s were inclined to heaviness and American Telephone and Telegraph debenture 5½s also moved lower. Consolidated Coal refunding 5s and Barnsdall 6s with warrants were prominent among issues to show gains.

The foreign group was firm, with the strength of Italian, British, Greek and Polish issues outstanding. Australian Commonwealth 5s sagged coincident with announcement that the new offering of $50,000,000 Australian Government 4½ per cent bonds had been oversubscribed.

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

NEW HIGH FOR ICE COMMON

There was no change in the character of the trading in the market leaders on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange in the forenoon session today.

Cautious buying of Standard Sanitary Manufacturing moved it up slightly to a new high record for the present capitalization and there was strong support evident on any sign of reaction. The Standard shares are scheduled for listing on the New York Stock Exchange and it is expected in some quarters that the securities committee may enter the stock at any time. In this case it is likely that the shares may meet a welcoming reception from the trading element which confines itself to New York listed issues and which up to listing time may have little or no knowledge of the company, its position in its field and its dividend and earnings record over the past 20 years.

Lone Star Gas was quiet in the early market with no appreciable change in quotations. Pittsburgh Plate Glass bobbed up a point or so, but the stock apparently is held by persons who have no desire to sell in large amounts around recent prices.

Consolidated Ice common was in demand and sold into new high for the year at 86. Buying of the common is based on the improved outlook for that issue as a result of reported negotiations for sale of certain of the company's properties which would permit liquidation of the arrearage on the preferred. Season of heaviest consumption is just starting and with economies effected over the past several months the Ice showing for 1928 should make a favorable showing against last year's earnings.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP.)—Profit-taking sales tempered bullish enthusiasm on the curb market today. Mines, utilities and some industrial specialties continued to gain, but extreme advances were reduced by profit-taking. A buying rally around noon did much to aid in recovery of lost ground, but increase of the call money rate to 6 per cent again encouraged selling.

Consolidated Coppermines and Newmont Mines both advanced to new high territory, while United Verde extract showed a gain of more than 3 points. Aluminum Company of America moved to a new peak at 165, but subsequently declined 3 points. Strength of the artificial silk issues was a feature of the industrial list, Tubize gaining more than 10 points. British Celanese, Ltd., and Celanese common invaded new high ground. Brockway Motor Truck and U. S. L. Battery were outstanding among the motors and accessories, the latter gaining more than 3 points on reports of a pending merger with Auto Lite. Columbia Graphophone extended its gain. Dominion Bridge advanced more than 10 points to a new top at 95¾.

While generally strong, the utilities showed some recessions. Electric Bond and Share sagged about 3 points and United Gas Improvement sold off slightly. Middle West Utilities, however, rose more than 5 points to a new top.

The oils were inclined to heaviness, Vacuum, Humble, Penn, Mex Fuel and others sagging as much as 5 points.

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP.)—Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (000 omitted in sales column in bond list):

CO-EDS GIVE BEAUTY AIDS

HELP AT MERCHANDISE "EXPO"

Five "co.eds" from Jo Keith's Maryland Collegians handed out beauty aids at May's merchandise exposition, 317-321 Penn avenue, at noon today. They will be on the task again tomorrow. The girls gave a snappy entertainment while passing out the samples.

DISCOVER BALLOT BOX IN SALOON

A ballot box used at the last November election was found among refuse in the cellar of a Preble avenue saloon which had been padlocked by injunction last July by police who raided the place primary Election day, it was disclosed in Common Pleas court yesterday.

Maj. R. M. Ewing, special deputy attorney general in charge of liquor violations, went into court and asked that A. J. Berkowitz and wife, 2045 Preble avenue, be adjudged in contempt of court for violating the padlock.

The contempt proceedings were brought in the name of Police Inspector Charles Faulkner for the Commonwealth. Faulkner said a raid had been conducted on the premises April 24, election day. Search of the cellar, he says, disclosed a newly-made vault about 5x10 feet in size, cleverly hidden behind a new set of shelves. A section of the shelves hinged open, forming a door to the vault. In it was found a beer pump and some whisky chips.

In another part of the cellar was found the ballot box containing election literature showing it had been used at the last November election.

PROBE DEATH OF PRISONER

The coroner's office today began an investigation to learn where Michael Holden, 39, Negro, of 22 South Twenty-seventh street, suffered a compound fracture of the jaw which resulted in his death last night in Mayview. Blood poisoning had developed.

At the South Side Police Station today it was said that Holden was sound physically when committed to jail on a disorderly conduct charge by Magistrate John J. Sweeney April 27.

At the jail it was said Holden was suffering from a fractured jaw when admitted. Dr. C. J. Ellis, jail physician, tried unsuccessfully to set the broken jaw, but the Negro, who was suffering also from delirium tremens, would not permit treatment.

AUTO HITS S. S. WOMAN, DRIVER HELD BLAMELESS

Rose Kraus, 19, of 2509 Beulah street, received lacerations when she was struck by an auto at South Twenty-third and Sidney streets today. S. W. Salisbury, of 945 North Lincoln avenue, the driver, was freed when witnesses said the accident was unavoidable.

Killed

MRS. MINNIE NELSON

Mrs. Nelson, 42, Rennerdale, died in Oakdale depot shortly after she was struck by a westbound Pennsylvania Railroad train, near Rennerdale. Mrs. Nelson had been walking on the tracks, it was reported, when run down by the Pittsburgh-Dennison local.

MISSES CIRCUS; AUTO HITS TOT

Robert Verwick, 8, of Dravosburg, was on his way to the circus with his parents last night when, near his home, he was struck by an auto driven by James Eckeman, 30, of McKeesport. The child suffered internal injuries and is in serious condition, the McKeesport Hospital reported.

Eckeman was released on his own recognizance and Dravosburg police said a suspicious person charge would be brought against him pending developments in the child's condition.

The following local organizations have indorsed the Dale-Lehlbach civil service pension bill now pending in Congress: International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local No. 5; Composition Roofers, Damp and Waterproof Workers, Local No. 37; Ladies' Auxiliary, Fort Pitt Lodge No. 1; Fraternal Order of Police; Master Horse Shoers Association No. 1; International Association of Machinists, Local No. 52 and Division No. 15, Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Clark View Fails to Halt Police; Raid House

Despite the recent statement attributed to Public Safety Director James M. Clark, that liquor raiding is for prohibition agents, police late last night raided the dwelling at 41 Tunnel street and confiscated, they say, a pint of moonshine. Michael Tomius, 32, occupant, was arrested and lodged in the Central police station, charged with keeping a disorderly house. Lieut. W. J. Walsh led the raiders.

TRAFFIC ISLAND BARS BUILDING, CITY TOLD

The proposal to widen Penn avenue between Sheridan and Frankstown, relocate Center avenue at that point and create a central traffic square in East Liberty would prevent the erection of a new business block, James B. Clark, representing the Penn Center Corporation, has informed Council in a letter.

The corporation, he said, has a 99-year lease on the Lockhart property bounded by Penn and Center avenues and Shakespeare street, and is planning a new building. These plans, he said, will have to be abandoned should the traffic square proposal be approved.

The traffic square would be created by an ordinance introduced yesterday by Councilman James F. Malone. It proposes that Penn avenue be widened from 100 to 204 feet and a traffic island about 300 feet long and 100 feet wide placed in the center. The plan calls for the extension of Shady avenue through to Frankstown and the elimination of the curve in Center avenue near Penn. To put through the plan would require the demolition of a number of buildings.

The cost of the project has been estimated at $300,000 by Malone, who said that the property damage would be reduced by the assessment of benefits.

NO. 244.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and directing an increase in the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh in the sum of Three Hundred Twenty-four Thousand Dollars ($324,000.00) and providing for the issue and sale of bonds of said City in said amount to provide funds for the City's share of the cost, damage and expense (including engineering expenses) of construction of the East St. Bridge to connect Charles Street and Essen Street and providing for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon.

Whereas—The corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh, by ordinance duly enacted by the Council thereof and approved by the Mayor thereof on April 16, 1928, and duly recorded and published as required by law, signified their desire that the indebtedness of said City be increased in the sum of Three Hundred Twenty-five Thousand ($325,000.00) Dollars for the purposes, among others, described in the following Ordinance, and provided that the question of increasing the indebtedness in said amount for said purposes be submitted to a vote of the electors of said City at a special election held on May 15, 1928; and

Whereas—After due legal notice said election was held and conducted as required by law, and a majority of the electors who voted at said election voted in favor of said increase of indebtedness, and the vote was duly counted by the Court of Quarter Sessions as required by law, and the Clerk of Quarter Sessions made a record thereof and a certified copy of such record under seal, showing the result, was furnished as required by law, to the corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh and the same has been placed on record upon the minutes thereof: Now, Therefore,

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh be increased by the amount of Three Hundred Twenty-four Thousand ($324,000.00) Dollars, to provide funds for the City's share of the cost, damage and expense (including engineering expenses) of constructing the East Street Bridge to connect Charles Street and Essen Street, this amount being in addition to the sum of Two Hundred Ten Thousand ($210,000.00) Dollars authorized for said purpose at an election held on July 8, 1919.

Section 2. That bonds of the City of Pittsburgh in aggregate principal amount of Three Hundred Twenty-four Thousand ($324,000.00) Dollars be issued for the purposes aforesaid. Said bonds shall be in denominations of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars or multiples thereof; shall be dated as of the first day of May, 1928, and shall be payable in Thirty (30) equal annual installments of Ten Thousand Eight Hundred ($10,800.00) Dollars each, one of which will mature on the first day of ...... in each year of the years 1929 to 1958 inclusive. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of Four and One-quarter per centum (4¼) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of May and November in each year, without deduction for any taxes which may be levied thereon by the State of Pennsylvania pursuant to any present or future law, the payment of which is hereby assumed by the City of Pittsburgh. The principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the City Treasurer of said City. Said bonds shall be coupon bonds, exchangeable at the option of the holder for a registered bond or bonds of the same maturity and of the denomination of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars or a multiple thereof, not exceeding the aggregate principal amount of the coupon bond or bonds surrendered in exchange therefor, by surrendering such coupon bond or bonds, with all coupons not then due, at the office of the City Controller, and the City Controller is hereby authorized and directed to cause such coupon and registered bonds to be engraved and to issue the same in the name of the City of Pittsburgh, the expense thereof to be charged to Appropriation No. 42 (Contingent Fund.) Registered bonds shall be registered with the City Treasurer, and shall be transferable only on the books of the said City Treasurer. Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor, countersigned by the City Controller and sealed with the corporate seal of the City of Pittsburgh, and the coupons attached thereto shall be authenticated with a facsimile signature of the City Controller. In case of the absence or disability of any such officials, the bonds shall be signed by the city official authorized by law or by resolution of Council to act in his place. Each of said bonds shall be known and designated as EAST STREET BRIDGE BOND 1928.

Section 3. That said bonds shall be sold by the Mayor and the City Controller, at not less than par and accrued interest, after giving such notice of sale as may be required by law.

Section 4. That until said bonds, issued as herein provided, shall be fully paid, there is hereby levied and assessed annually upon all subjects now by law liable, or hereafter to be made liable, to assessment for taxation for City purposes, an annual tax, commencing the first year after said debt shall have been increased or incurred, namely the year 1929, sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as the same shall accrue and become payable, and any tax on said interest which by the terms of said bonds is assumed by the City, and also an annual tax commencing in said year equal to Three and One-third per centum (3⅓%) of the total amount of said bonds hereby authorized, to be set apart as a sinking fund for the payment of the principal and redemption of said bonds as they become due and payable according to their terms, and the same is hereby appropriated out of the revenue of said City for the payment and redemption aforesaid. There is also hereby appropriated out of the general revenue of said City an amount sufficient to meet the installment of interest due on said bonds during the current fiscal year.

Section 5. That all bonds issued by the authority of this ordinance and the Acts of Assembly authorizing the same shall be and become part of the funded debt of the City of Pittsburgh, and shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities thereof, and shall be free from taxation, as aforesaid, and for the payment of the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon semi-annually as the same shall become payable, the faith, honor, credit and property of said City are hereby pledged.

Section 6. That the form of coupon bonds issued in pursuance of this Ordinance shall be substantially as follows:

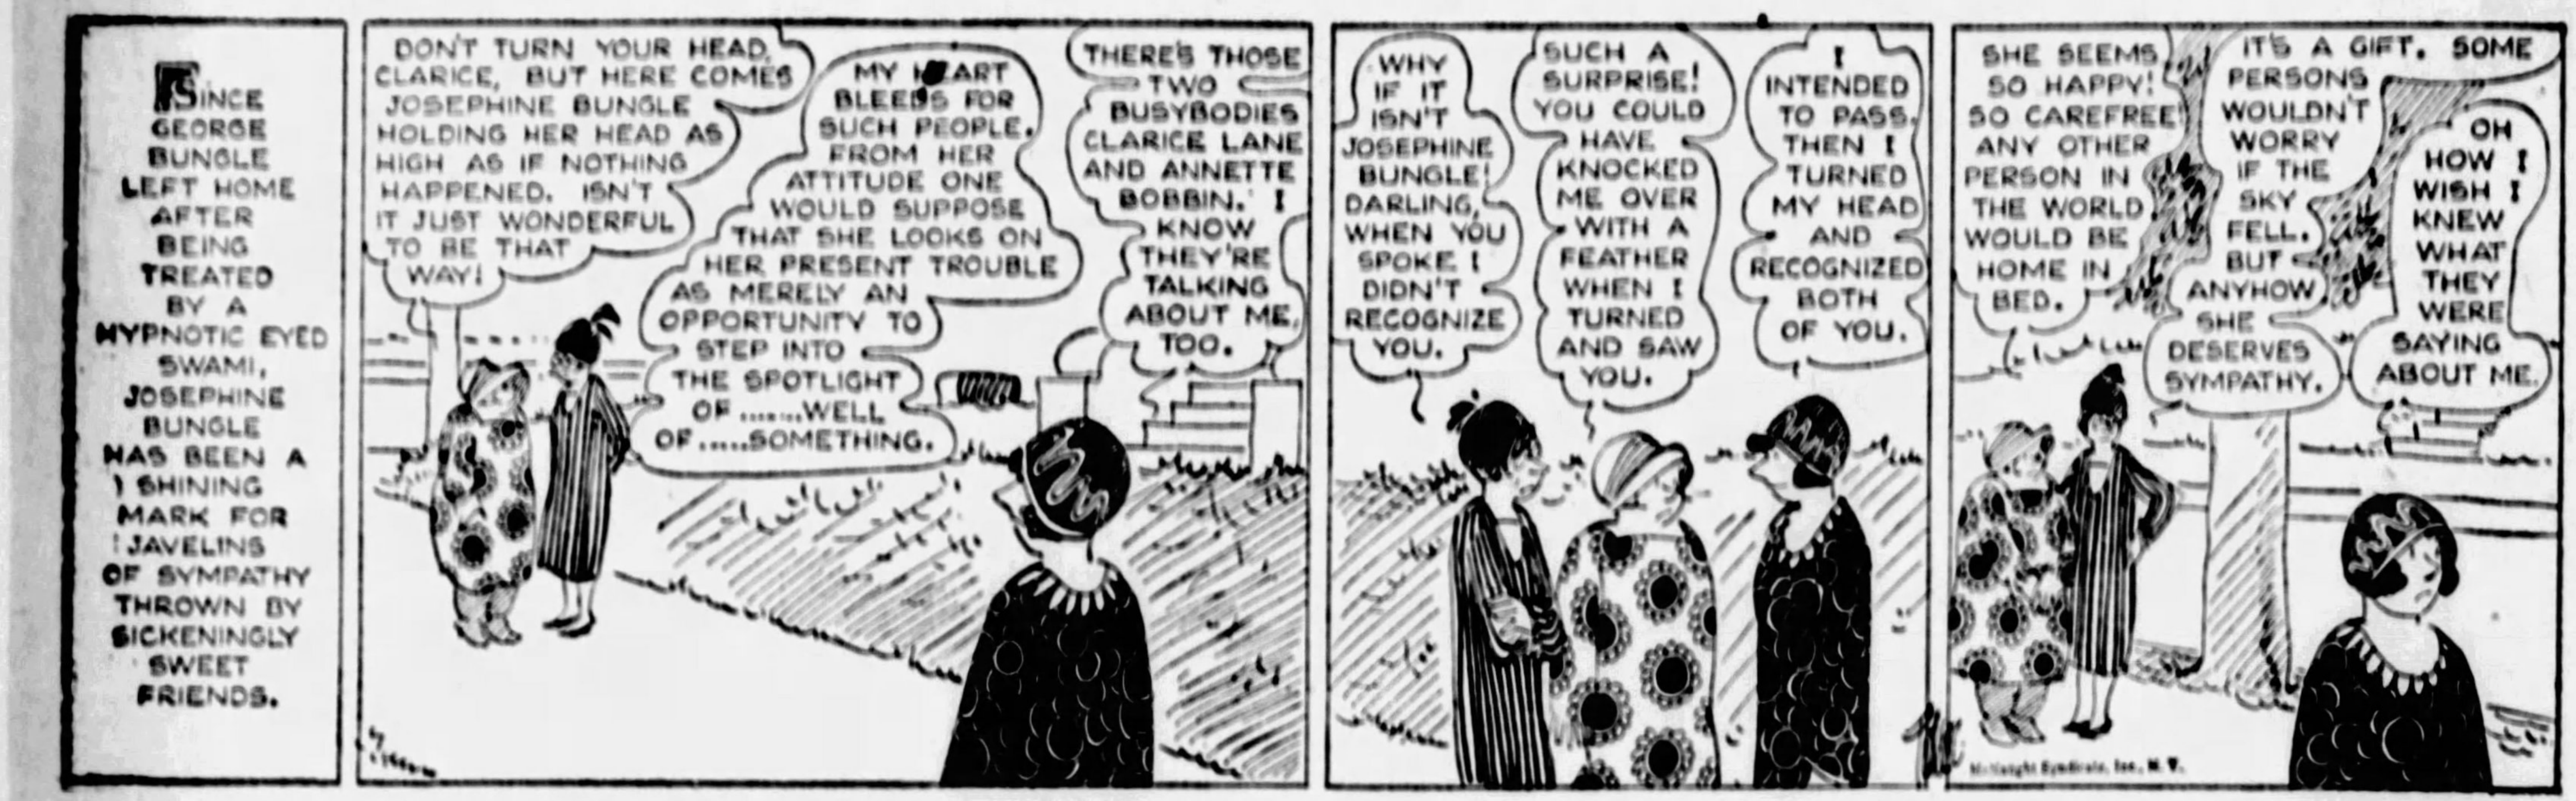
THE BUNGLE FAMILY

Experts



SINCE GEORGE BUNGLE LEFT HOME AFTER BEING TREATED BY A HYPNOTIC EYED SWAMI, JOSEPHINE BUNGLE HAS BEEN A SHINING MARK FOR JAVELINS OF SYMPATHY THROWN BY SICKENINGLY SWEET FRIENDS.
DON'T TURN YOUR HEAD, CLARICE, BUT HERE COMES JOSEPHINE BUNGLE HOLDING HER HEAD AS HIGH AS IF NOTHING HAPPENED. ISN'T IT JUST WONDERFUL TO BE THAT WAY!
MY HEART BLEEDS FOR SUCH PEOPLE. FROM HER ATTITUDE ONE WOULD SUPPOSE THAT SHE LOOKS ON HER PRESENT TROUBLE AS MERELY AN OPPORTUNITY TO STEP INTO THE SPOTLIGHT OF ....WELL OF.....SOMETHING.
THERE'S THOSE TWO BUSYBODIES CLARICE LANE AND ANNETTE BOBBIN. I KNOW THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT ME, TOO.
WHY IF IT ISN'T JOSEPHINE BUNGLE! DARLING, WHEN YOU SPOKE I DIDN'T RECOGNIZE YOU.
SUCH A SURPRISE! YOU COULD HAVE KNOCKED ME OVER WITH A FEATHER WHEN I TURNED AND SAW YOU.
I INTENDED TO PASS, THEN I TURNED MY HEAD AND RECOGNIZED BOTH OF YOU.
SHE SEEMS SO HAPPY! SO CAREFREE! ANY OTHER PERSON IN THE WORLD WOULD BE HOME IN BED.
IT'S A GIFT. SOME PERSONS WOULDN'T WORRY IF THE SKY FELL. BUT ANYHOW SHE DESERVES SYMPATHY.
OH HOW I WISH I KNEW WHAT THEY WERE SAYING ABOUT ME.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Sir—

I am a surgeon, and I love to specialize in abdominal research. The other day I operated on one of my best customers for the fourth time. Imagine my embarrassment, when, on glancing into the incision, I recognized two rusty forceps and a monkey wrench that I had sewn up in the poor fellow's embonpoint a year ago last May.

Urging Strike Compromise, Pulpit Joins Sun-Telegraph

The Federal Council of Churches, through its department of research and education, has made report of the findings based on investigation of various phases of the coal strike recently conducted in Pittsburgh.

Summed up they are basically:

The attitude of the coal operators is economically unsound although partially mitigated by extenuating circumstances.

That of the miners is economically sound.

That is, the right of the worker to bargain with his employer is held to be the salvation of both in an industry that is found to be "seriously overdeveloped * * * and subject to influences that tend to limit its market."

Both sides come in for censure for violence, the workers being reminded that the conduct of a strike imposes a heavy responsibility in the matter of discipline. The violence of Coal and Iron Police also is condemned and the practice of employing them, it is stated, "does not become salutary by virtue of legality or long precedent."

Evictions, though legal, are held to be of questionable equity, especially if the strike be justifiable.

The use of the injunction is declared to have been carried to absurd length—"the social effects are bound to be injurious."

The Jacksonville wage agreement is made the subject of extended comment covering all phases and considerations, moral and legal. Two sentences are significant:

"When a company accepts profits flowing from an agreement and abrogates it as soon as it begins to mean a loss it is practicing bad business ethics."

"Whatever it (Jacksonville agreement) meant when the operators were deliberating over it and when they signed it, it meant when they abrogated it."

A number of recommendations are made, substantially to the effect that the operators and miners should resume their bargaining, each recognizing the pressure felt by the other, and their own responsibilities, and work out an agreement through conciliation and compromise.

It is significant that the report supports The Sun-Telegraph editorial position and its news policy of presenting the actual facts of the strike, without intentional coloring or bias, giving both sides the use of its columns.

True, the sympathy of this newspaper, as of the public, has flowed toward the miners because of the suffering endured by their families and because of the morally unfair breaking of an agreement which was a large factor in causing their trouble.

This paper has repeatedly suggested that the miners and operators forget what has passed and get together.

Eminent clergymen now do the same. Will they do it?

What the British Saw

It Satisfied Their Idea of an American.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY FORD JUST BEFORE THEY LANDED IN ENGLAND.

This is Henry Ford as the British saw him walking off the ship to tell them they ought to use more machinery, change wasted heat into power, etc.

The Detroit automobile wizard, tall, thin, laconic, making his first public speech in twenty-nine words, talking little, listening a great deal, represented the United States pretty well.

When the British saw him they saw SOMETHING in the way of efficiency and common sense.

The Hearst Papers Advocate:

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and to promote the peace of the world.
2. Proportional representation in the United States Senate, no state to have less than two Senators. Legislation to enforce prompt constitutional reapportionment in the House of Representatives.
3. A separate Department of the Army, of the Navy and of the Air Forces, all united under a Secretary of National Defense.
4. Federal action to the limit of Federal powers to abolish illiteracy in the United States under a Secretary of Education.
5. Election of Congress in November. Installation on the 1st of January following. Inauguration of the President 1st of January next after November election.
6. Federal regulation of the oil industry to conserve a vital natural resource.

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Visiting the Moon Maiden

"A discussion has come up about the possibility of a body leaving the earth's gravitational field. Suppose a body were given a constant velocity directly against the pull of the earth, would it not in time get out of the earth's field?—G. D."

IF IT had a positive velocity against gravitation, undoubtedly the body would continue to recede from the earth as long as it kept up its motion. If there existed a footpath to the moon you could walk up there to greet the Moon Maiden and defy the Old Lady in the Moon, in spite of the opposition of the earth's gravitation. It would simply be a long hard pull straight up hill.

You would have to lift your whole weight at every step. But, the weight would decrease as you got farther from the earth. It was say, 160 pounds when you left the earth, it would be only a little over 100 pounds after you had climbed up a thousand miles, and only 40 pounds when you reached a height of 8,000 miles, twice the earth's radius. At the distance of the moon it would become only one-3,600th of what it was when you started.

But as you got nearer the moon the attraction of the latter upon you would increase, and at length would become equal to that of the earth. Then, at a distance from the moon of twenty odd thousand miles, your weight would disappear to be immediately replaced by the effects of lunar gravity, which would draw you down toward the moon, with increasing velocity, so that now you would have to climb down instead of up, like a man descending a ladder.

But lunar gravity is very much smaller than the earth's gravity, and although its effects would increase as you descended, yet even after you stood on the moon's surface you would weigh only one-sixth as much as you did on the earth. So in spite of the labors of the long journey you might go with a very light and jaunty step to pay your respects to the Moon Maiden.

But the case becomes quite different when it is a question of starting from the earth like a projectile with an initial velocity sufficient to overcome gravitation once for all, so that the escaping body might go with this single impulse to an indefinite distance without being drawn back again.

In that case the whole motive force of the body would be imparted to it at its start from the earth, and this force would be gradually exhausted, so that the velocity of the body would decrease the farther away it receded, although it would not actually cease until it had reached an indefinite distance, provided that its initial velocity was equal to that which would be imparted by the earth's attraction if the body were moving in a parabola having the earth at its focus.

This velocity in the case of a departure from the earth's surface is a little under seven miles per second. A body leaving the earth at that velocity would never come back again, because, as far as the earth was concerned, it would travel in a parabolic path, and the parabola is a curve which does not return into itself.

Advancing on Merit

WHEN you are tempted to place yourself on a higher level than others it might be well to analyze your reasons.

What have you in the way of mental development or achievement that makes you feel superior?

Wealthy parents and family standing cannot be accredited to you.

If you have advanced and made the most of your environment and your opportunities you may have some things to which you can point with pride.

But if you have not progressed systematically you ought to be ashamed.

The person who has lifted himself is the one who should be elated.

It has meant struggle, and denotes brains put to good use.

To have an ideal and constantly make it finer and higher is the way to grow and broaden with the years.

Striving for the best as viewpoint unfolds, arouses to greater effort and higher achievement.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELS

Golden Wedding Day

HAND in hand we pause to see
Flight of half a century;
In a ghostly, strange review
Pass dead years we knew.
This held joy too keen to last,
Love's first raptures, unsurpassed;
That the hour we knew youth gone
When our first-born died at dawn.

Only memories now remain
Of the hope, the joy, the pain,
Memories only, past and gone,
Since the vow that made us one,
All is changed of yours and mine,
All save love alone, divine;
Changeless love that lights our way
On this golden wedding day!

Tales that are Told

His Cue

DRESSED in her most appealing style, Angelina presided over the afternoon tea-table.

She simpered and blushed. The firelight played its old game with her eyes, and the dusk was kind to her slightly pink nose.

"More tea, Mr. Wilks?" she asked.

"One cannot live on tea alone, Miss—er—er—Angelina!" he replied, suspending his cup at a precarious angle.

Having rescued the cup, Angelina assumed a startled air.

"I'm afraid, Mr. Wilks—" she began.

"I want an answer this afternoon," answered Wilks, suddenly getting courageous.

"Give me your promise," she said, earnestly, "that when I have given you my answer you will not do anything rash—not drown yourself or—"

"Oh, you're going to say 'Yes,' are you?" he blurted, as he dropped her hand.

Misunderstood

FROM head to heel she was exquisitely modern, and the shopwalker to whom she had beckoned felt his heart beat faster.

She asked him where she could get "pencils for the eyebrows."

Unfortunately, the shopwalker was inclined to deafness, and he misunderstood her.

"The stationery section is upstairs, madam—" he began.

"But I want them for eyebrows," interrupted the slim young woman, somewhat puzzled.

"Oh, highbrow stuff! Better ask them at the book counter," came the astounding reply.

A Different Matter

A MAN and a boy were walking along a quiet street when the former bent down and picked up a glove lying in the road.

"There's nothing like honesty, my son," he remarked, as he placed the glove beside some railings.

A hundred yards farther on they encountered a second glove.

"Goodness me," ejaculated the man, as he picked it up and tried it on; "if this isn't the neighbor of the first one—and just my fit. Hurry back, Jimmy, and fetch the other."

Wasn't Sure

THE native genius of a Lancashire man had carried him to big success in business without much aid of education.

He was asked to distribute the prizes at a school, and made the usual speech of good counsel.

"Now, boys," he said, "always remember that education is a great thing. There's nothing like education. Take arithmetic. Through education we learn that twice two make four, that twice six make twelve, that seven sevens make—and then there's geography."
—London Tit-Bits.

LISTEN, WORLD! ELSIE ROBINSON Says:

What I Think of Sunrise

IT IS 5 a. m.

I have arisen in order to do this copy for my editor or tell him the reason why.

There is a fog outside. My corn aches. I'm full of chills, burnt toast and bitterness toward the fate which made me a writer.

And yet that bozo expects me to compose an Immortal Thought!

You know the kind of a thought. A brisk, bright bleat about the beauty of the bursting rays and the sweetness of the dew and the mad, sweet ecstacy of early rising. Something you can read to your little children and quote at the next Rotarian lunch. "Early bird catching the worm" stuff.

Yea Bo, that's the brand of tripe my editor expects from me before the first edition. But he isn't going to get it.

FOR ONCE, THIS COLUMN IS GOING TO BE 100% HONEST.

For once, I'm going to dig right down into the core of my heart and yank out the Truth. And I bet it will be the most popular Truth that was ever shoved through the rollers. In fact, I may state with confidence that it will make Mister Homer's "Iliad" and "Odyssey"—Milton's "Paradise Lost" and Bill Shakespeare's plays look like wash outs.

Here it is.

THIS EARLY RISING STUFF IS THE BUNK. ANY GUY WHO SAYS HE LIKES TO GET UP EARLY AND SEE SUNRISES IS EITHER AN IDIOT OR A LIAR, PROBBLY BOTH.

It's not only that I hate to get up at five. I also hate to get up at six, seven and eight. I always hate to get up. This does not indicate some strange perversity in my nature. During normal, waking hours I am a reasonable, good natured human. I do not commit crime unless strongly provoked, and I can stand an average amount of adversity without wheezing. But at that tender hour when the Sun, the Worm and the Early Bird are supposed to be doing their stuff, I have but one impulse. I do not WANT to worship the sunrise or dance amongst the dew. I do NOT WANT to catch early worms or write immortal thoughts for editors.

I ONLY WANT TO SNORE.

SIMPLY THAT AND NOTHING MORE.

If torn from my couch, I yearn for murder. Editors preferred. And if they don't quit pestering me, I'll pull one.

Moreover, I am convinced that this is the attitude of all normal people toward sunrises. It's just as human to peeve at this hour as it's feline to howl at midnight.

And you can take it from me, all those carols to the sunrise were written by poets who would say any old thing as long as they were paid for it. As a matter of fact, no poet ever rose before noon unless it was to dodge his landlady. I know, I've been a poet.

So I hereby announce in my loudest yell—

I'M WILLING TO LET THE EARLY BIRD CATCH ALL THE WORMS.

WHO WANTS A WORM, ANYWAY?

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 8.—New York leads American cities in fly-by-night promoters with a gift of gab and an ability to interest capital in fake enterprises. Los Angeles is said to be second. Despite all warnings, New York's yearly tribute continues to increase.

In Wall street it is often easier to launch a blue sky project than one of merit. The ancient lure of huge profits on small investments is always a magnet, and responses come invariably from those who cannot afford a loss.

One of the shrewdest bucketeers downtown is a fellow with a prison record as long as your arm and has had innumerable conflicts over his right to use the mails. Yet he continues to prosper under the same name that figured in so many court battles.

The "sucker list" used by salesmen of spurious stocks is composed of those who have not been victimized just once, but many times. The easiest suckers are those who, having been trimmed, cling to the hope of getting it all back again.

This inspired the trite truism of the financial buccaneer: "They always come back for more." On a day that a recent issue, whose value tripled in six months, went almost begging for sales, a flim-flam stock, that went up in smoke in a fortnight, was completely sold by nightfall.

The promoter is a striking figure. He has a sleek well-fed opulence, a glib tongue, lives at the best hotels and spends money, where the spending will excite comment, like a millionaire on the loose. He knows a $100 tip will be talked about to advantage.

In prominent cafes he will brazenly stop at a table where sit men of prominence, and chat as though he knew them. He has "dead" telephones in his office over which he will talk of staggering financial figures to impress the visitor. He is a great showman, an unmitigated liar, a conscienceless rascal and a few other things.

A new swank in feminine luggage is noted in tony shops. There are hat boxes and suit cases to match in all colors of patent leather—beige, baby blue, pink, green and red, and the names of the owners are placed on them in gilt reproduction of their signatures.

For gentlemen there are bill folds, cigaret cases and patent lighters to match in the same tones of colored leather.

While our great-grandpappies wore gay-colored stocks, flowered vests and ruffled shirts, the twentieth century dandy is only permitted flashy color in his neckties and handkerchiefs. Most men have a barbaric sense of color, but must suppress it or create a lot of buzz—buzz—buzz.

There is a dignified banker—the passing type with side wheel whiskers and barrel cuffs—who spends two months a year on a ranch in Wyoming. An invariable article for the migration is a flaming red tie. He no doubt feels that to wear it on duty might cause a run on the bank. But to wear a red tie in the great open spaces, I suppose, is just clean, wholesome fun.

* * *

These color observations apply only to others. One of my choice suits is an apoplectic purple, and there is also an apple green overcoat, to say nothing of several shirts that rock the spectrum. A bold people, we mad McIntyres.

There is a story of a jilted lady of Broadway occupying a first row seat for six successive nights in a theater where her jilter was starring. She stared at him constantly, and at last he began to "go up" in his lines.

* * *

Nothing is so conducive to the fidgets as to be the object of incessant staring. It makes most of us want to give ourselves up and tell all.

No Saturation Point

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is a saturation point in everything except one.

And that is education.

A man cannot know too much or have a too well trained mind, any more than he can have too much health or be too good.

The meat business and the cracker business can get just about so big. But you can't expand the human stomach. When it gets full it can't get any fuller. Hence there is a limit.

You can raise enough wheat to feed all the people, but when they are all fed you can't sell any more wheat.

I suppose when there are enough automobiles to carry everybody where they want to go the automobile business will reach its saturation point.

After that point the only thing, according to many people, is export trade abroad.

But America has another outlet. It simply increases the wants of its own people so that they want better supplies and more of them.

Some have often doubted the advisibility of educating everybody. They assume that there must be a mass of ignorance or the country will not get along well.

America's experience has shown that the more the lower classes of America are educated the more they cease to be lower classes; their wants multiply and their powers of consumption increase, therefore, the best outlet for additional consumption of goods over the saturation point is a more intelligent population.

Education is the one thing in which there is no saturation point. You cannot have a population too well educated. Their education makes them better workmen and better laborers. They will be worth more money and with the additional money they earn they will increase the consuming power of the country.

The business of creating schools, therefore, and employing teachers, and training children is one that cannot be pushed too far. It increases and makes prosperous the affairs of those who support them.

The more education we have the sounder is our democracy, for while a monarchy or an oligarchy may depend upon a foundation of ignorance, the more intelligent a democracy is the finer it will be.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD.

NEWSPAPERS carry the picture of a musical comedy girl who is a bride, and she is wearing exactly nothing, save tights and a radiant smile. The caption is: "Her wedding a secret."

Her only secret!

Have you noticed that bigamists are almost always men?

Proving men better liars, with more conceit and less active consciences. And what gluttons for punishment!

Sardorus, Ill., claims a woman, 100, who is celebrating her birthday there and says she has one eccentricity—she never drinks water. She doesn't say what, and so probably never says when.

Mary Garden announces that, to improve her mind, her face and her figure, she is going to take sun baths at her home in France all summer. "I shall wear no clothes, not a stitch," said Mary. She has engaged two big police dogs to keep intruders away. Hired them? No indeed—it's pleasure. Just lucky dogs.

Ex-Governor Nellie Ross, of Wyoming, when asked if she smoked cigarets, answered with that obsolete expression: "I am not that kind of a girl."

There aren't any more of "that kind." To day all women are all kinds, except the uninteresting kind. Mrs. Ross says that the "eternal feminine" always rules. But she's out, she's an ex-Governor.

Ferenz Molnar says all women have an innate talent for acting, and that it pleases men and gives women an advantage.

An advantage? The show girls are running off with all the millionaires!

Robert Brant is suing for divorce in Los Angeles, and he complains because his wife put him out and he missed his mother-in-law so terribly. The first divorce complaint of its kind. You see, they will say it's the California climate or the oranges, or the Acacia blossoms and that you can even love your mother-in-law if you live in California!

If you had 10 wives, three of them should be ideal. That's the percentage Mrs. Clarence Goodwin of Illinois Federated Women's Clubs figures. Or, to be more accurate, if you have one wife, three to ten she is not an ideal one. More men can understand that.

Words of the Wise

It is the guilt not the scaffold which constitutes the shame.—Corneille.

Nature creates merit and fortune bring it into play.—La Rochefoucauld.

Some men are so covetous, as if they were to live forever, and others so profuse, as if they were to die the next moment.—Aristotle.

We should never speak, publicly at least, of our own faults, nor of the faults of others, unless we hope to effect some useful purpose of it.
—Goethe.

Immodest words admit of no defense,
For want of decency is want of sense.
—Roscommon.

To one that is not callous, a state of debt and embarrassment is a state of positive misery; the sufferer is as one haunted by an evil spirit, and his heart can know neither rest nor peace till it is cast out.—Bridges.
